Lord Charnwood Discusses "Democracy in England and in the United States.

Students and Faculty March in Parade to Mass Meeting at Auditorium

Lord Charnwood discussed "Democracy in England and in the United States," yesterday afternoon in the Auditorium at a mass meeting attended by a large number of faculty and students, who marched there in parade from the campus. The British peer is chairman of that section of JAZZ ORCHESTRA BIG the committee for Promoting an Intellectual Entente among the allied and friendly nations, which deals with relations with America. Chancellor Avery introduced the speaker.

That England and the United States as well as the other allied nations must band together, to make good the cause for which they have been fighting, was the theme of his lordship's speech. "Our countries must cooper- dancing wheel in the Armory, Saturate on this and we must learn to work together," he said. "If peace is going | jazz jems. #### Change to Democracy

"England is taking rapid strides toward making Democracy, not a name, but a reality. This change is taking place in most countries in Europe as well as in the older states of this country, where the principle of equality between men is not so great a reality as in the west and middle west," the Englishman de-

Special Apeal to Soldiers

Lord Charnwood addressed the S. A. T. C. men particularly, saying that although they had been disappointed in not having a share in the glory of fighting for their principles, they were still called upon to do their part-a part less stirring than fighting, perhaps harder, but worth doing. That part is in helping the backward nations in making good the cause for which our country was fighting. "It is your duty to keep bright, clean and vigorous the freedom, equality and self-government existing in your country," he declared.

Lord Charnwood, who is author of a book on the life of Lincoln, said this war has shown to every man of sense that Lincoln's principles of democracy must be inculcated in the government of every country. In memory of Lincoln and of our dead in this war, we should say to ourselves, "We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in valu, that our associated nations, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Booker, in his role of "assistant something," experiences no little difficulty in keeping his end of the Company in step, in line and-oh, a few other little things.

AWGWAN PUBLICATION

The publication of the Awgwan was authorized by the Student Publication board at a meeting Wednesday and work on the first issue has started in full swing. Several new members have been added to the staff and the first issue promises to be worthy of the effort of a group of Nebraska's best humorists.

A subscription campaign is being launched today by the business staff in an attempt to get a large subscription list by the time the first issue is published.

Publication of the regular monthly issue has thus far been held up because of complications due to war conditions, but beginning with the January number, regular issues will be gotten out each month.

SUBSISTENCE MONEY TO BE PAID S. A. T. C. MEN

Subsistence money due to S. A. T. C. men from the university for lodging will be paid them on calling at the office of C. J. Lehmkuhl in 106 Mechanic Arts hall. The allowances have been figured out and money will be paid members of Companies A, B and C today, and to other companies on Saturday of this week.

It is desired that those men who intend to remain in school should wait until later to get their allowances. In this way the task of paying off the men who wish to leave school may be completed as soon as they are mustered out of the service.

The freshmen are becoming very proficient at "Inspection, Arms!" The last two nights no one has dropped his gun.

Coaches Will Draft Schedules of for burial. Basketball and Football Seasons

The high moguls of Missouri Valley sport circles are to congregate for their annual pow-wow starting tomorrow evening at the Baltimore hotel, in Kansas City, and Director of Athletics E. J. Stewart and Dr. R. H. Wolcott hied themselves hence to represent the Cornhusker institution.

Since the government took over the control of Missouri Valley athletics last October, and the S. A. T. C. is now being demobilized, things are in a very topsy-turvy state of affairs, and the matter of straightening out the tangle will occupy most of the officials' time. Whether to allow freshmen who have been playing in varsity games to retain their eligibility thruout the basketball and track seasons will be one of the questions to be decided. Another will be the status of college athletes who left school to enter the service and are returning to the universities.

It may be probable that they will follow the action of the "Big Ten" conference in again clamping the ban on freshmen playing and allowing returned soldiers to retain their previous standing as college athletes.

ARRIVAL OF CLOTHES BAGS ALARMS SAILORS

Local sailors were victims of a live- ices. scare, Wednesday afternoon, when a large bundle addressed "S. A. T. C., Navy," presumably containing uniforms, was unloaded from an express wagon at Q. M. headquarters. One of the "gobs" gave the alarm and half of the company was out on a tour of investigation immediately.

Internal investigation proved that the package contained no more or less than about one hundred and fifty clothes bags. These bags were turned over to Ensign Webber and have been stored in the naval barracks.

Military authorities stated that they knew nothing as to whether the uni. as this is the first opportunity that forms could be expected, as no notice the freshmen girls have had to get toof shipment has been received from gether. > One Death and an Increase in Number of Cases Reported Yesterday

With practically no abatement in the spread of the influenza contagion noted Wednesday, there is a probability that school will be closed by the end of the week. A still larger number of cases developed among university students yesterday, and one death was reported. An increase in the number of pneumonia cases following the influenza, makes the situation unusually alarming.

The university will probably not close its doors except in the case of absolute necessity, but present conditions indicate that me epidemic is now more serious than it has ever been and justifies the advisability of such a course.

Reports of illness have been increasing daily and interference with scholastic work has been especially noticeable this week. The percentage Five hundred members of Section of fatalities from the latest outbreak is considerably larger than during the
