PRICE FIVE CENTS

HUSKERS HAVE HARD FIGHT FOR VICTORY

Stand Second to Kansas Aggies in Valley Standing—Farmers Have Clean Record.

Must Battle at Lawrence and at Manhattan in Next Games—Two Home Contests.

The Cornhuskers now occupy second place in the Missouri Valley Conference, while the Kansas Aggies top the list with five victories and no defeats. Nebraska has a hard, rough road to travel toward pennantville, four of the six remaining games being in hostile territory.

The decisive way in which the Stewart basketball machine twisted the Tiger's tail last week proves that a serious pennant contender has arisen in the Cornhusker camp. In four successive games the Scarlet and Cream five has downed the Piker and the Tiger contenders and is now ready for the final leap to the top. A glance at the Valley standing will reveal, however, that the finish of the season will be a whirlwind affair and that one of the four teams may emerge from the dust of battle bearing the purple rag.

The Conference Standing

	W	L	P.C.
Kansas Aggies.....	5	0	1.000
Nebraska	3	2	.300
Missouri	6	2	.750
Grinnell	2	1	.667
Ames	2	4	.333
Washington	2	4	.333
Kansas	2	4	.333
Drake	1	6	.143

The race mainly lies between the three leaders, altho Grinnell is in the running. The indications all point to a last minute decision. The Cornhuskers' next games will be with Kansas at Lawrence, March 5th and 6th. These two games should prove easy picking, but on the two following evenings, March 7th and 8th, the Huskers proceed to Manhattan and will be put to the supreme test. Never in Cornhusker history has the Aggie five been whipped on their own floor and they will meet Nebraska with an unmirrored record. Let them beware, however for both the Pikers and Tigers met Dr. Stewart's men in the same condition and went home with a big deficit in the percentage column. These two games with the Kansas farmers should prove the deciding factor in the Cornhusker race, but on the week following, March 14 and 15, Missouri and the Aggies clash at Columbia, so a heavy mist hangs over the home stretch.

Stewart Praises Student Support

The wonderful way the Cornhuskers have vanquished the invaders of the home soil seems to have stirred the followers of the Scarlet and Cream to the depths. Dr. Stewart and the team are enthusiastic in their tribute to the loyal, wholehearted support of the student body. They are firmly convinced that the second game with Washington and the second game with Missouri would have been lost but for the life injected into the struggling warriors from the bleachers. Those who witnessed the great battle last Saturday will never forget the thrilling finish. At the critical moment the spontaneous combustion of the joyous spectators seemed to envelop the team, pushing the weary fighters to a supreme final effort which bagged the winning goal. Coach Stewart said: "That wonderful display of spirit did the work." If Nebraska wins the pennant, the student body may feel a just pride in their share of the achievement.

GATHERING MEMORIALS FOR SEMI-CENTENNIAL

The Alumni committee consisting of Mesdames A. G. Warner, M. P. Knotts, and Miss A. C. Hunter appointed by the faculty of the university to provide for an exhibition of university memorials and relics for the semi-centennial to be held this spring is arranging for a bibliography of all publications by members of the faculty and the students. It is not expected that this will be confined to those who have worked in University Hall but will be extended to include all who have been associated with the school during these fifty years. A sub-committee consisting of Prof. Lawrence Fossler, Mrs. A. W. Field, and Miss Mary Tremain have been named and consented to work up relics for the exhibition from the first ten years of the institution, i. e. from 1878 to 1883 inclusive.

SOPHOMORE PICTURES IN CORNHUSKER THIS YEAR

Limited Number of Second Year Students May Have Photographs in Year Book.

Sophomores are to have their pictures in the Cornhusker if they so desire, because members of the Senior and Juniors failed to have their pictures taken in time for the book and because of the decrease in the registration in these classes the 2nd semester, the number of cuts called for in the Cornhusker engraving contract was not filled by the upperclassmen.

The number of pictures to be used is, however, limited. Those who have sittings at the Townsend studio first will have the pictures in the year book. This is a great privilege for the sophomores which was begun last year. A large number of universities have a regular practice of putting the pictures of the second year students in their annual and this practice may be adopted here if the sophomores show proper interest in this section.

It is a fine thing for many of the students because of the fact that they do not complete their university work and were it not for their sophomore pictures the students would have nothing to remember them by.

The Cornhusker staff wish to impress the sophomores with the fact that the number of pictures is limited and that they must have their sittings immediately if they are to have their pictures in the book.

DIRECTORIES ARE NOW FOR SALE ON CAMPUS

The university directories made their first appearance on the campus yesterday. Ruth Hutton, the editor of the books, had charge of their distribution and they were sold from 11 to 4 o'clock in the main corridor of University Hall. The associate editors who assisted in the preparation of the directories were Helen Doty and Mary Waters. Jean Landale was chairman of the committee.

The books are published by the University Y. W. C. A. this year. It has been the custom to allow the Y. M. C. A. to do it, but owing to the fact that there were so few men here last semester who were not in the S. A. T. C., the girls took over the work.

The data was sent to the printer more than a month ago, but on account of war conditions they were delayed in publishing them. This made it possible to have among the usual features of the new directories an alphabetical list of all the students who registered in the university the second semester. The books are 35 cents each. They will be on sale today in University Hall and at the Library.

NEBRASKA TO HAVE AN ARTILLERY UNIT

Arrangements Completed in Conference of University Officials and Colonel Sloan.

Five Experienced Officers in Charge—Full Equipment With Variety of Big Guns.

A field artillery unit will be established at the University of Nebraska next year. Arrangements were completed yesterday between the university officials and Colonel Sloan, field artillery officer, and representative of the military department for the new unit. All the necessary equipment will be sent within the next two months in order that everything will be in readiness next fall.

The new unit will be composed only of men who show an aptitude for military work. Those who make good in the R. O. T. C. this semester will be recommended by the commandant for entrance into the department. Five experienced artillery officers will supervise in the instruction of the men. Complete in Every Detail.

The unit is to be complete in every detail. The contract for the artillery equipment calls for a number of heavy field pieces including one 75 millimeter (3 in.) gun, one "4 point 7" gun and one 155 millimeter (6-inch) field piece and Howitzer. These heavy guns will be drawn by tractor and army trucks. The men of the unit are to be instructed in horsemanship. Ninety horses will be stabled next fall and a detachment of regular army men will be sent to care for the equines.

Commandant C. J. Frinkforter announces that 150 Lincoln high school men have signified their willingness to enter the Junior division of the R. O. T. C. Three companies of the division will be formed tomorrow providing the school authorities do not object.

NEBRASKA NEWSPAPER WOMAN TO SPEAK HERE

Members of the classes in Journalism and all others interested in newspaper work or who want to hear a practical discussion of problems belonging to the field of journalism, are invited to hear Miss Eva Mahoney, of the Omaha World-Herald, who will talk in Woman's Hall Thursday evening at 7:30.

Miss Mahoney is coming to Lincoln under the auspices of Theta Sigma Phi, who will entertain for her at dinner Thursday. Miss Mahoney has been closely connected with World-Herald for several years and her discussion of how to get into the newspaper field, and practical phases of the work will be extremely interesting and valuable.

GEN. WOOD TO TALK AT SPRING COMMENCEMENT

Major General Leonard Wood of Winchester, N. H. will speak at commencement exercises, May 27.

Major General Wood is at present in command of the Central department of the United States army at Chicago. He attended the Pierce Academy at Middleboro, Mass., and received his M. D. degree at Harvard in 1884. He was appointed commanding colonel of the United States "Rough Riders", May 8, 1898, and he also was awarded the congressional medal of honor for distinguished conduct in the campaign against the Apache Indians in 1886 while serving as a medical and line officer of Captain Lawton's expedition. During the recent World war, he was commanding officer at Camp Funston. Major General Wood has also written a book by the name of "Military Obligation of Citizenship."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR UNI. PARTY FEBRUARY 22

Lively Program Planned; Big Crowd Is Expected for Second Big Affair.

The chairmen of the committees for the all-university party, who have not seen Miss Heppner are requested to do so before Tuesday. The university parties have always filled a great want among the students. At the first party last year there were more than 1,100 persons present.

This year a large crowd is expected as the night is closed to all other activities except the Delta Delta Delta banquet and the Alpha Xi Delta formal party which were scheduled before the Cornhusker party was considered.

The program will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The dancing will begin at 9:30 o'clock and refreshments will be served. The party will be held at the Armory as usual and the price will be 30 cents, which includes the war tax. The following persons were appointed on committees:

- Music—W. S. Larson.
- Dancing—Fred Helmer.
- Reception—Walter Judd, Gladys Rohrbaugh, Fred Oswald, Vida Reckmeyer, O. F. Kyes, Dolly Lutjeharmes, C. L. Chrisensen, Bary Brownell, Harold Long, Mable MacAdams.

Less than a cent a day for your university.

TEN CANDIDATES IN ELECTION SCRIMMAGE

Battle for Freshman and Senior Election Only Feature of Quiet Election.

No Names to Appear on Ballot for Junior Managing Editorship of Cornhusker.

THE BALLOT

- For Senior President—Mary Helen Allensworth, Katharine Newbranch.
- For Junior President—Floyd Stone.
- For Sophomore President—Jesse F. Patty.
- For Freshman President—Kenneth Hawkins, Mary Sheldon, Harry Stephens.
- For Editor of Cornhusker—Harold T. Gerhart.
- For Junior Managing Editor of Cornhusker—Open.
- For Business Manager of Cornhusker—Frank Patty.
- For Ivy Day Orator—Harvey M. Johnson.

No names will appear on the ballot for the position of junior managing editor of the Cornhusker in today's election. George W. Newton, the only candidate to file for the office, was disqualified yesterday because of insufficient hours. Students may vote for candidates by writing their names on the ballot.

The only offices that will be contested in this election, which promises to be unusually quiet, are the presidencies of the freshman and senior classes. Voting will take place in the west entrance of the Armory from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

Two Women for Senior President. Two university women are alone in the field for presidency of the senior class. This is a departure from the precedent of former years when it was considered unusual for a woman's name to appear on the election ballot.

Katherine Newbranch, of Omaha, who is in the race, was editor-in-chief of The Daily Nebraskan last semester and was former associate editor. She has been unusually prominent in school activities throughout her course here.

Mary Helen Allensworth of Lincoln has also taken an active interest in school affairs. She has been vice president of her class and has held other minor offices.

No Competition in Junior Class. Floyd Stone of Lincoln is the only candidate for the office of junior president. He has been prominent in class affairs.

Jesse F. Patty of Omaha, sophomore candidate for class honors, has been prominent in athletic circles for the past year. He is a member of the varsity basketball team.

Keneth Hawkins, Mary Sheldon and Harry Stephens provide excitement in the freshman class.

Harold Gerhart, present junior managing editor of the Cornhusker, is a candidate for the position of editor-in-chief of next year's annual.

The office of junior managing editor is open. Members of the sophomore class may express their preference by writing in the names of their choice for the position.

Frank D. Patty of Clarinda, Ia., candidate for business manager of the Cornhusker, was formerly business manager of the Daily Nebraskan.

Harvey M. Johnson of Fremont is the only candidate for Ivy Day orator. He is a member of the senior law class, where he has been quite prominent.

To the "Rag Pickers"

Are you a "Rag Picker?"

By "Rag Pickers" we mean those who read the Daily Nebraskan every day, but who do not subscribe for it.

If you can't afford a dollar a semester, come to the "Rag" office and we will take pity on you. We would rather give them away than have them stolen or have you borrow them from our subscribers.

Every student on the campus will have a chance today to prove to the entire university that he is not a "Rag Picker."

Present subscribers will have no trouble. Present "Rag Pickers" may cease to be such by leaving a dollar with the solicitors.

Don't be a "Rag Picker." Support the Daily Nebraskan.
