GY Y REED ADDRESSES UNI COMMERCIAL CLUB
 ly yes. But I do not believe in speculation, where the chances are one hundred to one against the speculator. Don't stake all you have in a venture you don't understand whether the business is legitimate or not. On the other hand you will like almost any honorable thing if you apply yourself. Credit is based on character, integrity, and ability. The first question a bank asks a man who wishes to borrow money is: "What security have you?"
 "Salesmanship is one of the greatest games we have. And it has a great future. The greatest aid to a salesman in selling goods is his character and personality. The salary of a salesman is usually insignificant; it is the commissions he receives which count. There are opportunities everywhere for good, live fellows. These will be greater in the future, for America has money, and it will be steadily and constantly pouring in for the next twenty-five years from European countries. America has security besides wealth. When the world war started we thought that gold was the basis of credit, and yet the participants in this struggle spent the world's supply of gold one hundred times.
 Sound Credit Imperative.
 "Credit is being placed upon a firmer basis by the Federal Reserve System and if a man has goods to back him, and his country is back of the goods, his credit is unlimited.
 "Be careful where you invest your surplus money. Fifteen million dollars worth of worthless stock was circulated in Nebraska in one year, by unreliable corporations and grafters. Study diligently so that you can read a statement and then know when you are through, the exact worth of the company.

 "When you enter a business, learn the game from the beginning, stick to it, and in the end you will ultimately be successful."
 A period in which questions were asked followed his talk, and doughnuts, cider and "smokes" were handed out to the guests. This was the first meeting of the Commercial Club for some time and Mr. Reed's address was helpful and inspiring from every angle.
170 TEACHERS ENGAGED FOR 21st SUMMER TERM
 In anticipation of a large enrollment, a program of some 320 different courses of study, given by 170 professors and instructors, is being prepared for the twenty-first Summer Session of the University of Wisconsin, which will open on June 30.
 Special courses for teachers will be given in some twenty-two different university departments, and plans are being made to provide training of interest to superintendents, principals, and supervisors, as well as teachers in college, normal, high and grammar schools.
 The session will continue for six weeks, from June 30 to August 8, in the Colleges of Letters and Science, Medicine, Engineering and Agriculture, including Home Economics. A ten-week session, from June 23 to August 29, will be held by the Law School.
 Special study of school management, vocation education, history and diplomacy of war, Americanism, and many after-war problems are announced for the season of 1919.—Exchange.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED SOON
 Nebraska Allowed to Chose Two Men Who Will Attend Oxford University.

The state of Nebraska will select two men for Rhodes Scholarships this year. Formerly each state was allowed to choose only one man for Oxford university, but during 1918 and 1919 on account of the war there were no appointments made. There will be elections in all states but only the following sixteen states, Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Oregon, Texas, Washington and Wisconsin, will be allowed to appoint two men for Rhodes Scholarships, the others will elect only one.
 The Rhodes Will provides for two scholars constantly at Oxford from each state in the union. Each scholar stays three years and receives a stipend of three hundred pounds a year, out of which he pays his tuition, fees, and expenses, exactly as any other student. There are no restrictions as to the subjects which he should study. Rhodes scholars may take any of the various Oxford Honor Schools, or, if prepared, may work for the Oxford research degrees of B.Litt., B.Sc., B.C.L., or Ph.D. Candidates must be unmarried, between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five, and must have completed at least their second year in college. Candidates may try for the appointment either from the state in which they reside or from that in which they have received the major part of their education.

The qualifying examination which has been required of all candidates for Rhodes Scholarships in the past is now to be abandoned and it will only be necessary for candidates to make formal application, endorsed by the authorities of their college or university. The selection will be made in the future, as in the past, on the basis of a man's record in school and college, according to the four points outlined in the Rhodes Will: (1) Scholarship, (2) character, (3) interest in outdoor sports, and (4) interest in one's fellows and instincts for leadership.
 The selections will be made by committees in each state, constituted for that purpose. A list of the names of the men to whom application should be made, together with a formal application blank, will be printed in June and copies will be sent to any address upon application to Frank Aydelotte, American Secretary to the Rhodes Trustees, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass. Meanwhile further questions concerning the Scholarships should be addressed to any college president, or ex-Rhodes Scholar, or to the American Secretary.

SUPPOSE!
 Suppose, while we delay in settling the peace terms with Germany, the Bolsheviki get the upper hand in that country as they did in Russia in the face of idleness and starvation.
 Suppose that it may become necessary for the Allies to march an army into Germany to restore peace and to save the country from the mad mob of bloodthirsty anarchists.
 Suppose that the worn-out soldiers of the Allies refuse to march and say that the war is over and that they wish to return to their homes and their occupations.
 Suppose, under such conditions, with no army to restrain the mad mobs of Europe, the Bolsheviki should get the upper hand not only in Germany and Russia, but also in Great Britain, France and Italy.
 Suppose the Allies, with their backs "against the wall," should turn once more to the United States for help and ask us to send our soldiers to restore peace in Europe.
 Suppose that our people, too, tired of war, should demand to know why peace terms were not settled at the Paris Conference promptly after the armistice, and complications avoided?
 Why not settle with the dirty Hun first and then take all the time we need to perfect a League of Nations, in which project all of us heartily believe.
 Let us have peace!—Leslie's.
