GIRLS PASS GOAL IN COPPOCK DRIVE

Exceed by $300.00 the Fund Set for Nebraska-In-China Campaign,

Amount Raised Will Pay Worker's Salary for Year and Leave Surplus.

Tuesday evening ended the most successful Nebraska-In-China campaign ever carried on at the university. The captains and their teams turned in over $1,828.65 before Vespers and there are a number of students whose subscriptions have not been received. The goal was set at $1,500 but the girls worked to raise $1,700 as that would pay the whole salary of Grace Coppock for next year. The surplus money will be given to Miss Coppock to use for the baby associations.

Ruth Hutton presided at Vespers held Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock at the Woman's Hall. The campaign was thoroughly discussed by the girls and the captains of the fifteen teams gave the following reports:

Alice Allen	$ 109.50
Ada Stidworthy	79.75
Fae Breese	55.00
Mary Brownell	196.50
Helen Doty	45.65
Bertha Helzer	103.50
Mystic Fish	188.50
Viola Keinke	166.75
Jean Landale	136.50
Carolyn Reed	145.50
Hazel Sneathen	109.50
Grace Stuff	117.50
Mary Waters	150.00
Dorothy Wetherald	115.50
Florence Wilcox	180.00
Total	$1,828.65

FIFTY GIRLS WILL SELL SEMI-CENTENNIAL BOOKS

Fifty co-eds will concentrate their efforts for the big campaign for the semi-centennial anniversary books next Thursday. The books will contain many interesting sketches including the early life of the University, the organizations, and personal sketches of great men in the University, by men who are now prominent in the University. The book will be of value in later years as a history, and as a reminder of college days.

GOOD ROADS CAMPAIGN IS PRODUCING RESULTS

University Is Actively Interested Along Line of Better Highway Improvements.

Due in a large measure to the literature and bulletins which are issued by the State Highway Transport Committee, a Valparaiso, Nebr., newspaper has proposed that a boulevard be constructed from that village to Lincoln, connecting with the five and a half miles of paving to the west of the city at the little town of Emerald. They further propose that the boulevard follow along the Union Pacific right of way, and not stay by section lines.

The men who have been out in the state speaking in behalf of good roads and a new era for Nebraska have been achieving splendid success. Mr. Winship of the Hebb Motor Company and also a member of the Highway Transport Committee and Mr. Roper, secretary of the Nebraska Good Roads Association, have devoted much of their time to this cause. Prof. M. T. England of the university economics department is chairman of the Transport Committee. The bulletins which

"Tim" Corey, Former Husker Captain Writes of French University Work

Captain Harold (Tim) Corey, former Husker football captain and star, has written to Dean C. C. Engberg from the University of Grenoble in France where he is stationed in the fourth month's course for American soldiers.

CAPTAIN HAROLD H. COREY

In traveling through France, he writes that among former Nebraska men he has met, are Captains Silas Bryan and Archer L. Burnham. He also had the privilege of seeing Miss Alice Howell, university instructor now engaged in Red Cross work, who treated him the ice cream and doughnuts. He writes in part:

At present I am enrolled in the fourth month's course in the University of Grenoble. There are about 400 other American soldiers here, this being one of the French schools which has opened its doors to the members of the A. E. F. I was fortunate enough to have been detailed to attend, so at present I am hard at work with the others in the first month of French. After the first month, courses in law and science are opened for us. The entire course is expected to last until July 1.

The plan here is to put all of the students into French families where they must talk and live French entirely. It was quite difficult to start with but after becoming acquainted with, but after becoming acquainted very interesting. I have a room in a home near the university and I pride myself in believing that I am getting along with my French.

On my trip to Grenoble I stopped at Dijon where I met Captain Silas Bryan. He is attending the university at that place. Captain Archer Burnham is an instructor at the American university at Beaune, near Dijon. The only Nebraskan I have met here thus far is Herman Yost. Si Bryan told me that Professor Robbins is here but as yet I have not met him.

A short time ago I was treated to doughnuts and ice cream by Miss Alice Howell at Naufchateau. She is with the Red Cross there and is known by all in that sector. All the patients at the big hospital center are greatly in love with her and her ice cream and doughnuts. She has done a great deal of fine work for them all.

Grenoble is a very beautiful place as you perhaps know. The sight of the Alps from one's window is quite wonderful.

I presume that many students have returned for the second semester's work. They are very fortunate in being mustered out of the service so quickly. Many of us must count on many months more of service. My division, the eighty-eighth, is not scheduled to sail until after July 1.

I sincerely hope that the school soon goes back to a pre-war basis and that this letter finds you in good health. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am,

Sincerely yours,
HAROLD H. COREY,
Capt., American School Detachment,
Grenoble, Isere, France.

Sig Alphas Introduce New Serenade Feature

Serenading is by no means a new thing at the University of Nebraska, but the way members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon serenaded last Monday night struck a new note in this favorite midnight pastime.

Accompanied by their piano, twenty Sig Alpha vocalists piled into the biggest truck procurable and proceeded to make the rounds of all fraternity and sorority houses. To the strains of the piano they sang old-time college and fraternity favorites. "Ring, Ching," "Violet," "U-U-Uni" followed each other in quick succession until time for "Good night, ladies."

Loss of sleep isn't exactly pleasant, but even the drowsiest made no complaint when awakened by the jolly serenaders.

UNIVERSITY MEN INTERESTED IN PERSHING ROUTE

Professors Condra and Chatburn Will Represent School at Road Meeting Today.

Professors George E. Condra and George R. Chatburn will represent the University of Nebraska at a meeting Wednesday noon, April 16th, at the Lincoln Hotel, of delegates from the various states from New York to San Francisco, who come together to discuss the routing and marking of the newly originated Pershing Highway.

Secretary Whitten of the Lincoln Commercial Club initiated the movement for this ocean to ocean highway

American Soldiers Go to School at French College for A. E. F.

The A. E. F. University at Beaune, twenty miles south of Dijon, France, is in full operation according to letters and cables just received by Secretary Stokes of Yale, chairman of the committee which during the past year has represented the Army Educational Commission in this country. Over six thousand students from the army were registered by the middle of March, these being divided into the following colleges: Colleges of Agriculture, Arts, Business, Education, Engineering, Industry and Trades, Journalism, Law, Letters, Medical Sciences, Music and Science.

The preliminary catalog shows over 200 different courses, the largest number being in Agriculture, Engineering, Letters and Science. A student at Beaune can carry on almost the same work as he could at a representative

PAUL CONNOR WRITES OF LIFE IN BERLIN

Former Member of Base Hospital Unit 49 Describes German Capital.

At least one university man has had the pleasure of dining in Berlin.

Paul Connor, '18, a former member of Nebraska base hospital unit -49, writes to a friend in the university of his experiences in the German capital. His letter follows:

"Our detachment arrived here the 15th in charge of a convoy of twenty-six cars of Red Cross supplies. I guess you know that Redelfs, George Driver and I transferred to the Red Cross Commission to Germany when Base 49 prepared to return home. The new unit is composed of forty fellows—practically all Uni men. We were stationed in Paris for a month and then started for Berlin the 12th. Had a splendid trip through the old front, Belgium, and across Germany. Stopped at many of the larger towns along the way.

"We are now quartered in a dandy hotel here waiting assignment to our special duties. Berlin is quite a city—and in keeping with everything else German, it is laid out on a very careful plan. As a permanent stopping place it does not compare with Paris for it lacks the life and gaiety and variety of the latter place. For the present it is especially interesting, however, because so many eventful occurrences are taking place here and all eyes are turned toward it to see what will happen next.

"Things have not been altogether tranquil since the signing of the armistice in the German capital. The 11th of November is known here as the revolution. On the 24th of December a second revolution occurred and hundreds of people were killed in street fighting. The kaiser's palace, the university, and many other public buildings bear the marks of that little spat. Ever since then there have been clashes between government soldiers and Spartacists or other discontented revolutionists for control of the city.

"The last big 'free for all' took place last week. The government decided it must end and an order was issued to shoot all persons carrying firearms without proper authority. All together over a thousand men and women suffered the penalty. The 13th two hundred and twenty captives were lined up and machine guns were turned upon them. That was sufficient to scare all other 'would be' revolutionists and marauders into submission—at least for the present. Machine gun fire can be heard several times a day in the outskirts of the city but it doesn't last long. The government troops have the balance of power so much on their side that good order is maintained.

"Americans are so scarce here that the people stare at us whenever we appear on the streets. But that doesn't harm us permanently and in all other respects we are treated

QUARTET OF MILERS MAY GO TO RELAYS

Stewart Will Probably Include Them in Representatives for Drake Contest.

Nebraska Will Wait Until Next Year to Enter Pennsylvania Track Meet.

Since the first set of tryouts yesterday for the Drake Relays, Coach Stewart has almost reached the decision to send a quartet of milers with the 220 men. Tryouts will continue today and tomorrow and the final selections will be announced Friday.

McMahon, Gibbs and Ed. Smith have already been picked for the 880-yard relay and either Stephens, Bryans or Fuchs will be the fourth man. The track was too sticky yesterday for a reliable test and the heats today and tomorrow will decide the issue.

Competition among the milers for position on the four mile relay is speeding up. The distance men who have been showing up best are: Gillilan, Newman, Egan, Ted Smith, Troendly and Campbell. The best time yesterday was made by Troendly and Egan. Egan is going good and is almost sure of a berth by virtue of his performance in the tournament last Saturday when he won first in both the one and two mile.

Distance Men Handicapped
Cornhusker distance men are at a disadvantage when they compete with other valley cinder stars due to the fact that practically every other university in the valley possesses a large modern gym with an indoor track where the long distance runners can build up endurance all through the winter. Ames for example has a gym containing both dirt and cork tracks and when the spring season opens the team is already in trim.

In spite of this handicap Nebraska has been putting out some of the best track teams in the valley. In the past two years she has suffered defeat only at the hands of Missouri among valley conference teams. Last year with Harold McMahon, Mike Finney, Graf, Grau, Gerhart, Townsend, B. McMahon and Hubka, Coach Stewart had a combination of athletes that would have made a showing anywhere.

Pennsylvania Relays
Coach Stewart has definitely decided that Nebraska will have no representation in the largest national intercollegiate athletic tournament of

PRINCETON GIVES SPORTS INSIGNIA

Undergraduate Executive Committee on Athletic Reorganized After Lapse of Two Years

Princeton, New Jersey.—After a lapse of two years, due to the United States being in the war, Princeton University again has an undergraduate executive committee of athletics for the purpose of awarding the varsity and class athletic insignia to the undergraduates who make the various Princeton teams and the election of team managers. The committee is made up of captains, managers, and assistant managers of the varsity football, baseball, and track teams and two members elected by the committee from the university at large to represent the minor sports.

This committee has organized with R. F. Makepeace '19 as chairman and C. R. Erdman '19 secretary. The two members chosen from the undergraduate body are W. S. Gray, Jr. '19, captain of the basketball team, and W. M. Paxton '19, captain of the varsity crew.

At the first meeting of the committee only one varsity "P" was awarded and this is the only one which has
