Omaha
A Music Center

OMAHA, as a musical center, provides its trade territory with the means for cultural development.

Omaha is the home of several large musical organizations which have promoted and fostered the advance of music.

Students of music will find adequate instruction in all branches among the teachers of Omaha.

Lovers of music are given opportunities to hear famous artists at moderate prices.

Among the famous artists who have appeared in Omaha are Galli-Curci, Caruso, Sembrich, Nordica, Gadske, Schumann-Heink, Stanley, Clausen, Elman, Heifetz, Ysaye, Bauer, Kreisler, McCornack, Homer, Farrar, and many others.

institution to keep it in such a physical condition and to maintain such skeleton of organization as will make it possible to produce in quantity in order to meet possible shortage or threatened excessive prices; that the serum plant modernized is to be run at full capacity if the farmers will buy its product at such a price as to make it self supporting.

The duty of the purchasing agent is defined as not only to make purchases at the best possible price, but it shall also be his duty to consider the advisability of making the purchase requested. In case any purchase is requested which he deems inadvisable or concerning the need of which he is uncertain, he shall transmit the request to the dean of the college for comment, who in turn shall transmit it to the chancellor for final decision.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

are a few, but a very few, who have won what may be called student prominence and scholastic honors as well.

The purpose of the University is not to teach one the solution of each individual practical problem of life, but the general theories that may be applied to the solution of all; for, in spite of what some people say, college is seeing life as a whole.

To be sure it is just as worthless to bury one's soul in books as to run wild over student activities. College is the place to cultivate talents, write poetry, keep up music, especially composition and to take part in all kinds of athletics. But there should always be a limit to all this. By the proper amount of participating in all these activities, scholastic honors will also be won. In this way will a person see and love life more truly and wisely. In this way will a person know and love better home and town.—Vermont Cyine.

ANHEUSER-BUSCH ST. LOUIS

The Globe TAILOR-MADE TROWSER SEAT

There are over 1000 underwear manufacturers in the United States. It is natural that some make better goods than others—that some give better value. It follows that it is real economy on your part to know something of underwear. In this connection we wish to recommend

GLOBE Trowser Seat Union Suits

This famous brand has many features—some of them exclusive—which merit your most favorable consideration.

In the first place the fabric in Globe Union Suits is treated by a secret process which prevents shrinking.

Shrinkage is the thief that steals wear and ease.
The union suit that was all right when it fitted—draws and tears—binds and wears, when it shrinks.
Don't forget that most underwear does shrink.

Secondly we come to comfort. What makes Globe Union Suits so comfortable at all times? In the diagram above we have tried to illustrate the principal reasons. In the upper one there is an arrow pointing at a gusset. This gusset is remarkable in this—it is elastic. This no matter how you bend or twist, the gusset stretches to conform preventing that disagreeable binding which is so common in ordinary union suits. This is a simple idea. And yet it is a great idea—the greatest the underwear trade has ever known.

In the lower diagram you see the Globe flap illustrated. How convenient it is and how cleverly designed to prevent sagging and gapping.

Sleeves are always the correct length and arm holes never bind.
