Omaha
A City of Hotels

IF you have never visited Omaha, or haven't visited the city in recent years, you will be astounded at its hotel accommodations.

Omaha is the leading hotel center between Chicago and San Francisco.

Omaha has several hotels which would not be out of place in New York, London or Paris.

The 21 leading hotels have 3242 rooms. This does not include the smaller or apartment hotels.

PARADE OF WAR GHOSTS WOULD LAST 3 MONTHS

WASHINGTON, May 5.—"If all the dead of this war were to rise up today and begin a march down Pennsylvania avenue past the White House, twenty abreast, this ghostly procession would pass for three months unceasingly."

This statement was made today by Rear-Admiral T. J. Cowie in the Navy Victory Liberty Loan bulletin.

RECEIVES LETTERS FROM BOYS MAKING SACRIFICE

June, 1918. He was in the front line trenches from the first part of August, and took an active part in the battles of the Argonne Forest and St. Mihiel.
While in action in the Argonne he was wounded October 31st and died November 2nd. Seven of the eight men in his squad were wounded by the shell that killed him.

"He was a Christian and a member of the Swedish Baptist church in Wahoo at the time of his death.
While at the university he attended the East Lincoln Baptist church and was an active member in the Sunday school there.

Yours truly,
D. A. HAGELIN,
Billings, Montana,
May 1, 1919.

"Prof. James E. LeRossignol, Lincoln, Nebr.

"Dear Sir: I have your favor of April 19th, addressed to me at Red Cloud, Nebr., and I am herewith enclosing you the brief biographical sketch of my son Raymond that you request. Will only say that one had to know Ray to appreciate our great loss. However, we have not entirely abandoned all hope that he is still alive, as the Graves registration bureau has not yet reported to us the finding of his body or grave.

"Raymond J. Saunders was born September 12, 1895, at Moore, Cleveland county, Okla., and has been officially reported as missing in action since October 22, 1918.

"His early childhood days were spent in Oklahoma, Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska. He attended the public schools at Wymore, and Red Cloud, graduating from Red Cloud High School with the class of 1913.
He entered the University of Nebraska September, 1913, and was graduated from the school of commerce in 1917.

"Very soon after war was declared by the United States he was appointed to the first officers' training camp and left Lincoln, May 12, 1917, for Ft.
Snelling, Minn.

"In August, 1917, he was transferred to the aviation branch of the service and was sent to Columbus, O., for ground work. It was announced by the commanding officer at Columbus that four from each battalion making the highest grades would be sent to France at once for advanced training, and by hard and diligent work he was one of the four chosen from his battalion and sailed for France about October 17, 1918.

"He received his commission as first lieutenant May 13, 1918, and was assigned to different duties throughout the summer of 1918, doing 'Voyage' work, etc., until about the last of August. Then he was assigned to the front with the 185th aero squadron.
Just before the St. Mihiel drive they were badly in need of pursuit pilots and he was transferred to the celebrated 94th aero squadron and served with this unit until he was lost.
This squad was commanded by America's leading 'Ace,' Captain Edward V.
Rickenbacker. The last letter received from him was to his sister, Helen J. Saunders, also a former student at the University of Nebraska.
This letter was dated October 19th, and described a fight he was in the day before he wrote. He casually mentioned that he had had some holes shot in his plane in that fight.

"I might mention that he was an enthusiastic member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and in 1916 he was chosen a member of the Innocents society. He was also captain of the university band during his last year in school.

"On December 7, 1918, we were horrified to receive a message from the adjutant-general of the war department stating that Lieut. Raymond J. Saunders had been officially reported as missing in action since October 22nd. To date we have had no additional information.

Yours truly,
D. E. SAUNDERS."

BROOMTAILS ROAM WILD ON SOUTHWEST PRAIRIES

DENVER, May 5.—The Broomtails —queer little wild ponies of the West—roam at will on the "Yellow-Jacket Breaks," as that section is called where the four corners of the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Utah meet. The origin of these animals is not clear, although some say they are descendants of the American horses that escaped from the settlements. Many pintos (spotted ponies) are found in the herds, giving rise to the belief that they have crossed with the Spanish mustangs. Navajo Indians contend that the horses have run wild since the days of the cliff dwellers.—Detroit News.
