LAWYERS CELEBRATE WITH BIG BARBEQUE

College Barristers Hold Annual Outing Wednesday at Epworth League Park.

Baseball, Track Events, Eats Form Program—E. J. Burkett Gives Talk.

Yesterday was gala day for the Laws. Members of the college neglected their books between dawn and twilight by celebrating at the annual barbeque held at Epworth park. About fifty barristers enjoyed the outing.

The curtain raiser for the day's festivities was the formation of a parade headed by an improvised band which proceeded over the main arteries of the campus. After creating some excitement among the students around University hall, the merry-makers continued to march through the business section of the city, disturbing the peace and bringing the busy workers to their windows. At 10 o'clock the crowd boarded a special electric which conveyed them to the recreation grounds.

The morning's fun started when the freshmen challenged the juniors for a game of ball, which resulted in favor of the latter by a one-sided score. A sumptuous dinner was spread promptly at the sound of the penitentiary whistle and the Laws waded through the delicacies in the same manner they do Blackstone.

E. J. Burkett Talks

Dr. E. D. Maxey was master of the noonday ceremonies. Former U. S. senator E. J. Burkett addressed the coming practitioners in which he mentioned a number of legal secrets which will be valuable to the men in future practice.

An athletic program was the feature of the afternoon. The opening event was a baseball game between a picked team representing the junior and senior classes. The "higher-up" succeeded in putting the most runs across home plate. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to wheel barrow races and a number of track and field events.

DEPICTS CIRCUMSTANCES OF EX-HUSKER'S DEATH

The following letter was written to Mr. Saunders, father of Lieut. Raymond Saunders, by Lieut. W. S. McClintock, and relates to him the circumstances under which Lieut. Saunders was reported missing.

185th Aero Squadron,
A. P. O. 758, A. E. F.,
March 22, 1919.

Dear Mr. Saunders:

"Am just in receipt of your letter which was addressed to the 94th Aero instead of the 185th so that it went up into Germany to Raymond's old squadron and lost much time in being directed back to me. Raymond was originally in this squadron but was transferred to the 94th just after the St. Mihiel drive, when they were badly in need of pursuit pilots. After the war some of his mail still came to us and I remailed the photographs to you because I knew you would be most anxious to have them.

"I regret exceedingly that we still have no news whatever of Raymond's death and that no record has ever been found of his grav or plane. He certainly fell in German territory and was buried by the German air service which they invariably did. If he were injured, they would have tenderly taken him to one of their hospitals for every attention, for many of our pilots who fell and later returned after the armistice, reported every courtesy and care by the German officers. There seemed to be a mutual under-

ENGINEERS WILL HAVE PHYSIOLOGICAL EXAMS

A physiological examination has been arranged today for all engineers in M. E. at 3 o'clock. The examination will be conducted by Mr. Weber. It is necessary that all students be there on time in order that each one may be allowed equal time for writing. Other students not registered in the Engineering college will be permitted to take the test.

Those who took the examination last may get their ratings from Dr. Hyde next Friday at 1 o'clock.

KICK-OFF IS MADE IN ANNUAL FINANCIAL DRIVE

100 Student Workers Attend Lunch Yesterday Noon at City Association.

The kick-off for the annual University Y. M. C. A. financial drive was made yesterday noon at a luncheon in the city association building. About 100 university officials, student division workers and captains were in attendance. Nine hundred and twenty-seven dollars was pledged by the workers which will constitute a nucleus for the three campaign for $3,500 among the students. In behalf of the university board of regents, Chancellor Avery announced that $115 would be subscribed by them. At this announcement three rousing cheers were given.

Will Urbach acted as chairman of the meeting which was conducted during the lunch hour. M. W. Folsom, of Lincoln, was first to be introduced. He spoke of the successful Y. M. C. A. campaign waged a month ago and gave a few suggestions to handle the present campaign. Laurence Slater, president of the University Y. M. C. A. outlined the plans which are to be used through the week. Mr. Don Heffley, newly appointed secretary, was formally introduced at the meeting and made a few remarks.

The University Y. M. C. A. contemplates to do great things on a large scale next year. It is the aim of the association to co-operate with the other university religious workers in the discovery of Christian leaders for college, community, nation and the world. This aim can be realized only through co-operation, financial and moral, of the students, of the faculty, and the citizens of Lincoln.

UNI ALUMNI GATHER AT ANNUAL BANQUET

The University of Nebraska Alumni Association of Lincoln and Lancaster county held its annual banquet at the Commercial Club Wednesday evening. The purpose of the banquet is to create and maintain interest between the alumni. The presence of two hundred members at the banquet proves that a real interest exists.

The toast list was as follows:
Toastmaster—O. J. Fee.
"University of Nebraska Club of Lincoln," M. A. Hyde.
"Obligations to Our Alma Mater," C. Petrus Peterson.
"Lancaster Alumni," E. P. Brown.
"Campus Activities," Chancellor Avery.
"Semi-Centennial Celebration," Dr. Winifred Hyde.

The Student Should Know--

THE ART CLUB

The Art Club is a society in the university of recent origin. It was founded in the second semester of the year 1917 by the candidates of the Bachelor of Arts degree. Wilma Winters was chiefly instrumental in promoting it. Among the first things the club did was to adopt a war orphan. They also gave a Bohemian Fete which consisted of vaudeville and dancing, the proceeds of which were given to the orphans.

This club also has charge of the annual May party, and the student's art exhibition. This is held every

RECOUNT TAKEN IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Verna Buchta and Harold Long Replace Carolyn Reed and Elmer Witte.

C. L. Christensen Polls Largest Number of Votes.—First Meeting Tuesday.

A final recount of the ballots cast in the student council election yesterday has caused a change in the senior membership of that body. The original count included first, second and third choices. With the preferential ballot system in use, however, the required number of candidates received majorities on the first choice.

On the recount which makes a change only in the senior members, Harold Long replaces Elmer Witte for the men, and Verna Buchta was elected over Carolyn Reed.

With a total of 681 ballots cast, each of the first four students in the following lists received a majority of the votes cast on first choice and are declared elected.

C. L. Christensen.....	561
Elmer Schellenberg.....	529
Byron McMahon.....	528
Harold Long.....	399
Elmer Witte.....	392
Francis Flood.....	315

Ruth Sheldon.....	559
Fae Breeze.....	462
Verna Buchta.....	450
Genevieve Loeb.....	433
Carolyn Reed.....	414
Martha Hellner.....	406

The preferential ballot requires a majority to elect. If a majority cannot be received on the first choice, the second and third votes are counted. If all choices fail to give a majority, those receiving the highest number of votes are elected.

In Wednesday's recount the second choice was considered in the School of Fine Arts and in the Arts and Science College the three choices were counted.

A mistake was made in yesterday's

ELECT TRUSTEES ON BOARD ASSOCIATION

The stockholders of the Nebraska Art association have elected the following trustees for the coming year: Rev. S. Mill Hayes, F. M. Hall, Prof. G. E. Barber, Mrs. Dean Leland, and W. E. Hardy.

The board will meet Friday, May 9, at one o'clock in the Art gallery, to organize for the year.

GIRLS TO KEEP CINDER TRACK HOT SATURDAY

Girls Expect to Shatter Old Records in Annual Interclass Tourney.

The girls' annual interclass track meet will be held Saturday afternoon, May 10, at two o'clock, on the university athletic field, under the auspices of the Women's Athletic Association with Mary Stephens as sport leader.

The final tryouts for entrance in the meet will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock on the athletic field. Every girl must sign up sometime today on the poster in the gymnasium, for all the events she wants to enter and must appear at this time to tryout for them.

Nearly fifty girls have already signed for entrance in the various events of the meet and the competition for places in the meet will soon be closed. Some of the co-ed athletes are doing some remarkable high jumping and pole vaulting. The cinder-path artists are cutting down their time in every day's practice. In the meet last spring two girls broke the former state record in the high jump and other records will probably be broken Saturday afternoon.

The entries for the meet will be published later with the officials and the events. Everyone who is interested in girls athletics should come out to Saturday's meet and see the girls' display of skill.

John W. Gamble '12, Business Leader in Omaha, Tells of the Whys and Wherefores of Success

All excursionists to Omaha last Friday had the opportunity of hearing Mr. John W. Gamble, '12, who "graduated from Nebraska when he was an old man," give an address of welcome to the University visitors. Mr. Gamble worked his entire way through the University, working a few years between times, and finally graduating in students of the University who have dreams of rising to the top in the world of business. The following article which is taken from the Omaha Daily News gives a vivid picture of the spectacular rise of this graduate of our Alma Mater:

"Whatever success I may have had," he explained without hesitation, "is due to the fact that I have kept close to my work and never for a moment have I lost faith in the future of Omaha and Nebraska.

"I have kept busy, but don't take it for granted for a moment that by merely being busy all the time may one make the greatest progress in business or a profession. One cannot be really successful if one does not have time to participate in the affairs of the community as well as in one's own line of endeavor.

"But in my own case it is due to the fact that I have kept busy more than to anything else that I have perhaps been moderately successful."

The Omaha Daily News man, interviewing Mr. Gamble, reflected that to be the vice-president of the First National bank at the age of 39, at a salary in keeping with the traditions of one of the oldest and largest financial institutions of Nebraska and the middle west, is being something more than moderately successful.

"You were without financial assets, I understand, when you began your business career?" he suggested.

I had had a good start. I had the advantage over many men in the fact "Yes," explained Mr. Gamble. "But

THREE GIRL TEAMS ENTER TOURNAMENT

Co-Eds Will Battle Next Week for Supremacy in Nation Game.

Marth Hellner, Mary Shepherd, Margret Henderson, Elected to Pilot Nines.

The members of three girls' interclass baseball teams were chosen Wednesday afternoon by Ruth Brigham, sport leader, Miss Josephine Gordon, coach, and the respective class leaders, Martha Hellner, junior; Mary Shepherd, sophomore; and Margret Henderson, freshman. The senior girls, for whom Elinor Bennett was chosen as class leader, will not have a team this spring because there are not a sufficient number of senior girls who have qualified for berths on nines.

The final games will be played next week on the athletic field. The members of the teams who will compete for the championship are as follows:

Juniors

Ruth Brigham
Irene Springer
Irene Cullen
Marjorie Haycock
Patricia Maloney.
Ruth Hutton
Martha Hellner
Helen Morrissey
Irene Shuff

Sophomores

Doris Hostetter
Lillian Storey
Mary Shepherd
Sara Surber
Allene O'Laughlin
Marjorie Barstow
Ida Berquist
Mary Stephens
Louise Pedrette
Donna Gustin
Ethel Hoagland
Ruby Swensen

Freshmen

Margaret Henderson
Cora Miller
Eleanore Snell
Martha Krogmann
Mary Herzing
Faith Murfin
Harriet Ford
Helen Gieslinger
Gertrude Schachell
Mary Harding
Ruth Fickes
Fae Foster

These girls will meet Thursday at twelve o'clock in S. 106 to elect their respective captains.

YALE VARSITY CREW TOO MUCH FOR TIGERS

DERBY, Conn.—While the victory of Yale University's varsity eight over the Princeton varsity crew on the new Housatonic course of two miles gave unbounded satisfaction to many Yale followers and proved that Prof. M. A. Abbott, Yale's rowing coach, had achieved a distinct improvement in the seating of the senior crew, since their disappointing showing against Pennsylvania two weeks ago, the eight is still untried over the four-mile distance, which they must row against Harvard University at New London on June 19. However, the victory has strengthened the feeling of confidence in Professor Abbott's ability to pick a winning combination from the wealth of material at hand, so that the task of Yale's coach will prove easier than would have been the case had the varsity lost to Princeton.

Yale's time over the course, 10 minutes 16 2-5 seconds, was just 41 2-5 seconds better than that made by the Crimson crew which rowed against Yale over the same course one year ago and 10 3-5 seconds better than the best time made by the same crew about a week ago. Princeton's time was 10 minutes 20 3-5 seconds and would have been better, had not H. H. DeGray, '20, rowing at 7 in the Princeton boat lost his stroke, checking the speed of the shell a quarter of a mile from the finish, enabling
