FRESHMEN RECEIVE INJECTION OF FAMOUS NEBRASKA SPIRIT

Armory Packed Yesterday With Yearlings Eager to Hear About Their School.

Large Crowd of First Year Girls Attend Convocation at Temple Theatre.

The class of 1923 reigned supreme for one solid hour yesterday at the freshman initiation held in Memorial hall at 11 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting to instill a copious amount of Cornhusker "pep" in to the first year men and to tell them of Nebraska athletics and Nebraska traditions. The freshmen surprised the upperclassmen by almost raising the roof of the building when the call was announced for "number one."

The meeting was called by Harold Gerhart, president of the Innocents. Coach Henry Schulte and Prof. R. D. Scott were called upon to give short talks. Coach Schulte told his listeners that he was desirous of becoming a full fledged Cornhusker and he believed he had a good start. He declared a bumper attendance at all the football games was one of the best methods of defeating the enemy. Professor Scott talked on school spirit—the kind that the graduate can never forget after he has left Nebraska's hall of learning.

Dr. Condra concluded the meeting with a whirl wind speech by telling the freshmen to start with some definite goal in view. "Go into your work with the idea of accomplishment," he said. "Whether in football, debate, or in other activities, do something for the university. At the same time do not neglect your studies. Be democratic, as all Nebraskans are and should be. Make your work business and get acquainted around the campus. Learn, too, the fairplay of the Scarlet and Cream. Become a part of this big machine and increase to become useful. Develop your class and school spirit to the limit."

Cheering of the genuine quality under the leadership of Glen Hopkins, Frank Patty, John Gibbs, and Russel Bailey was given at intervals during the hour. The initiation was one of the most successful pep affairs for years. The capacity house was the result of a sprinkling of the famous cadet band which drew the men from all parts of the campus to attend the meeting.

Freshman Girls Meet.

Freshmen girls convocation, which was held in the Temple Theatre, was a rousing meeting with many University yells led by Faye Breeze and Mary Waters.

Helen Giltner, president of Black Masque welcomed the students into the university spirit and get-acquainted atmosphere. Mary Waters, president of the Y. W. C. A. gave a short interpretation of the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. and its close relation to the students. The purpose she explained was to bring to the student the true Christian ideals and living which forms such an important part of any well rounded life. Not only does this organization present the Christian side but it also has its social side as well and many girls are urged to volunteer their services for committee meetings. Vespers will be held each Tuesday evening at five o'clock in Faculty hall to which all students are always welcome.

Following Mary Waters, True Jack representing the W. S. G. A. as its president explained the purpose of this organization. The Women's Self Governing Association elects a council to make rules and regulations by which

APPROVE 11 SCHOOLS MEETING REQUIREMENTS OF SMITH-HUGHES LAW

Two agricultural day schools and nine home economics day schools have been approved as Smith-Hughes vocational schools since the last announcement, according to C. A. Fulmer, state director of vocational education.

Following are the schools named as approved.

Agriculture day schools—Coleridge, J. F. Demel, C. C. Miller; Springfield, Mr. Franklin; Guy E. Morrison.

Home Economics day school—Arlington, C. F. Luhr, Lulu P. Wolford; Kimbal county high school, C. P. Beal, Margaret Gale; Laurel, Glen H. Tyrrell, Bernice Bowen; Madison, W. B. Ireland, Irene Swanson; Plattsmouth, C. E. Pratt, Gretchen Maerang; Stapleton, M. R. Edwards; Doris Jack; Union Center, Liberty, George Spidel, Amanda Olson.

LAW COLLEGE HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

Boasts With Pride of the Increasing Enrollment—Freshman Class Large.

Only Returned Soldiers Constitute Senior Class—One New Professor.

The largest enrollment ever recorded in Dean W. G. Hastings, office is reported from Nebraska's law school. Never before in the history of the university have so many students elected to take up the study of the law. Although the registration books are very incomplete, the number of cards in Dean Hastings' office will give the reader an idea of the very large registration in the legal course.

There are twenty-one men taking Senior law this semester, all of whom are returned soldiers. A peculiar condition existed in the law college last year. Due to unsettled conditions caused by the war, the law classes were small, and all students combined their courses and were taking third year work. Thus graduation depleted the ranks of the Senior law class, and only the returned soldiers themselves saved the upperclassmen from being a minus quantity this semester.

The number of cards for Junior law indicate that forty-eight men have registered in that year's work, but this list is also incomplete and it is estimated that between fifty-five and sixty men have expressed a desire to take third year work.

Very incomplete returns from freshman law registration shows 118 persons enrolled, several of which are women. Many upperclassmen in the university are taking first year law, and many are here at Nebraska from other colleges beginning their law career, after having received other degrees elsewhere. A number of special students are included in the first year's class, some of whom are men just back from France.

In the freshman law class are two vocational training men, whose expenses are being paid by the United States government, and who chose Nebraska from many other schools as the institution which would best suit their needs. One of these men is a Georgian.

The only new professor in the law college is Professor R. P. Wilson, who will instruct classes in evidence and torts. Mr. Wilson is a son of H. H. Wilson, formerly a professor in the university law college, and who recently resigned his position after a long service which dated back to the organization of the college in 1890. The latter is now actively engaged in practice with the firm Burkett, Wilson, Brown and Wilson, but will give a series of special lectures this year before law students on such interest.

MEN MUST TAKE TWO YEARS' DRILL FOR R. O. T. C. UNIT

The commandants office has been swamped with students who appear to misunderstand the length of time they must drill in case they sign for the R. O. T. C. in the military department. In signing for this branch the student obligates himself to two years drill and at the end of this period he may sign for the advanced course which leads to the reserve commission in the army. In signing for the latter course the applicant is expected to take two years more of drill and military science including two summer camps, at the expiration of which period he may take his reserve commission should he be able to pass the necessary examination.

In signing for the R. O. T. C. the entire is entitled to a uniform at government expense. Students are required to take at least two years military science whether in the R. O. T. C. or in the cadet corps of the university.

CITY CHURCHES TO WELCOME STUDENTS

Receptions Planned This Evening for University People at 8 O'Clock.

The annual reception to the students of the University of Nebraska into the churches of Lincoln will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. This time-honored custom is observed each year in order that new students may meet one another and old students renew former acquaintances. At these receptions everyone is expected to come and have a rousing good time. There will be lots of games and plenty of refreshments for all. As in former years this date is closed to university functions. Large attendances are expected at all receptions.

Below is the list of churches which plan student receptions:

St. Paul's M. E. .... 12th & M
Grace M. E. .... 27th & R
Trinity M. E. .... 16th & A
Emanuel M. E. .... 15th & U
First Congregational .... 13th & L
First Baptist .... 14th & K
East Lincoln Baptist .... 28th & S
First Presbyterian .... 23d & M
Swedish Lutheran .... 13th & K
The First Congregational church held a very successful reception on Tuesday and the Plymouth Congregational Church held one on Thursday. Students who wish to meet

NEW YORK CITY BARS ELEMENTARY GERMAN IN CLASS

NEW YORK—Elementary German language courses will be barred this year in the public high schools here under a ruling of the Board of Education as announced by Lawrence Wilkins director of modern language instruction in high schools. About 3,000 pupils who have begun this study will be allowed to take advanced courses.

Professor Wilkins has just returned from a study of foreign-language teaching in the various states and finds that although there is considerable opposition to German, propaganda also is afoot to have it restored in some states. In California there is a state law against instruction in German, but in Wisconsin and elsewhere German is being taught.

Spanish is now most demanded here. Ten additional teachers of Spanish were added last year and twenty are needed now. There were 25,729 pupils studying Spanish here last year.

BIG HELLO FEST FOR ALL STUDENTS

University Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Give Novel Social Saturday Night.

The second social function of the year open to all students is to be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Nothing of like nature has ever been given at Nebraska. The committees of the two associations do not wish to announce the plan for entertainment except to say that it is entirely new, novel, and full of pep.

The entertainment is not called a "mixer" as have many similar ones because the aim is to make it more than a "mixer," that is, to have every attendant become acquainted with every other attendant. Everyone is to have a "hello" for everyone else. The only admission required is a smile—no one will be admitted without it.

Mary Brownell is chairman of the Y. W. committee and Dwight Slater of the Y. M. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

their fellows should make use of this first opportunity to do so. All will be welcome at any of the above churches.

IOWA GAME WILL BE CRITICAL TEST FOR HUSKER WARRIORS

LITERARY SOCIETIES TO HOLD RECEPTIONS SATURDAY EVENING

Three Organizations Plan to Throw Open Doors to All University Students.

The three literary societies of the university, Union, Palladian and Delian, will formally open their series of programs for the year with receptions to all students Saturday night. Each society will hold open house at its rooms in the Temple building. Interesting programs with good times to follow will be featured. The two older societies own their rooms on the third floor of the Temple and the Delians are given the use of Faculty hall. Palladian hall was decorated last spring and Union hall was refurnished during the summer at a cost of more than a thousand dollars.

The Union Literary Society will hold its open meeting on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, in Union hall, on the third floor of the Temple building. This is the first meeting and both new and old students are urged to be present. A special program has been arranged in which a five-piece orchestra and quartet will appear followed by an informal good time.

At 8 o'clock, on Saturday evening, September 27, a meeting will be held in Faculty hall, third floor of the Temple, for all students, especially new students of the university. The Delian Society disbanded for a while but was re-organized two years ago. This organization is for the general improvement in the social life of the university. The meetings consist of debates, music, games and a general good time.

Palladians will give their annual reception in Palladian hall, the third floor of the Temple building, Saturday evening, September 27, at 8 o'clock. The new students on the campus are especially invited to attend as the program has been arranged particularly for them. The Palladian society is the oldest society in the university, organized when the university was founded. Meetings are held on Friday evenings of each week for the betterment of the social life of the university.

Prof. Grumman's class in oratory, 53 A, which has been meeting at 10 A. M. has been changed to 9 A. M. Tuesday and Thursday. The class will meet in the Dramatic Club room on the third floor of the Temple. The other division of this class will meet at 1 P. M. Tuesday and Thursday in Temple 101.

Tuesday, September 30, there will be a musical convocation. The Overtures from Micon and Tannehauser will be given by the University Quartet with Mrs. Raymond at the organ.

Hawkeye Encounter Will Reveal Real Strength of Coach Schulte's Machine.

Track Men Ordered to Don Trunks and Start Training at Once.

At the end of the first two weeks of practice, football teams are commencing to find themselves and the bear stuff is beginning to fly. This year, however, it's mostly "bare" dope. Each school has been strengthened by an influx of old stars and is proud to proclaim the fact.

Nebraskans are gathering their enthusiasm but holding it in check until they see the outcome of the Iowa game at Iowa City on October 4. Coach Schulte, Assistant Coach Schissler, and freshmen Coaches Cameron and Riddell are straining to get a varsity combination in working order for that opening battle of the year. Iowa is reputed to have a powerful whirlwindish aggregation of veterans.

The clash with the Hawkeyes will reveal the strength or weakness of the Huskers. One week from today the Scarlet and Cream warriors will be on the trail. There has been too short a time to perfect fancy plays and trick formations. What the Huskers do will be the result of the inherent strength of the team itself. The Nebraskans will labor under the handicap of playing the opening game on foreign territory.

Iowa Dope.

An idea of the team the Huskers will battle can be gained from the following dispatch from Iowa City: "If the first scrimmage of the season for the Hawkeyes may be regarded in any way as an indicator, Iowa is due for a great season in football. The appearance of Swinhorst at tackle gave weight and strength to the left side of the line and his performance was by no means the least gratifying event of the matinee rehearsal. From end to end the line is unusually heavy, altho the two ends are by no means giants. Slater, Kaufmann, Heldt, Mockmore, and Swinhorst, who played from tackle to tackle on the varsity, will average around 190 pounds. Belding and Charlton, who were at ends reach the average of the rest of the line."

Minnesota.

Gloomy dope has been trickling out from the Gopher camp. A few of the old stars who were expected to return to the gridiron did not show up and a little disappointment prevailed for a while. Announcement was made that "Pudge" Wyman and "Shorty" Long would not be in school. Both were star members of the Minnesota team in 1918. Wyman was fullback and Long quarterback. The reports say that these were the men upon whom Dr. H. L. Williams hoped to build his team this fall. A last Sunday's report said: "The fans would like to see Dr. Williams get that sad look out of his eyes and turn up the corners of his drooping mouth."

Minnesota, it is reported, has a

LINCOLNITES WILL SPEND $2,000 TO WELCOME PERSHING

Rumors reaching Lincoln people from various sources that General Pershing had sent definite word that he could not visit Lincoln, were denied flatly by Frank D. Eager, chairman of the committee planning the reception the returned war leader is to receive in his home city.

Word has been received, according to Mr. Eager that the general is now unable to fix the date for his arrival but no intimation has been made that he would not come at all.

The rumor, which has been circulated freely, has halted some of the plans temporarily and the committee itself is moving slowly until more definite information is received. It is suggested by many that General Pershing will probably remain in Washington until the return of President Wilson at least and that when that meeting and consultation is over he may be expected to make the trip west.

In the meantime the city officials who have unofficially contracted to raise 2,000 for the occasion through back taxes if possible or out of their departments if necessary, are beginning to wonder if the money is really to be used or if they are going to have that additional work for nothing and that additional money to put to other uses, say the relief of the Texas storm victims.
