TRAINING NOW FOR MINNESOTA

A Stronger, Wiser Husker Squad Will Face Gophers at Minneapolis

Roy Cameron No Longer On Freshman Coaching Staff—Secret Practice

The varsity has lost no time in getting set toward Minnesota. Few alibis are being offered for the defeat at Iowa but Coach Schulte and the squad are grinding determinedly into the job of eliminating the weak spots. It will be a wiser and more formidable team that faces the Gophers Saturday than it was against the Hawkeyes.

Those who saw the Huskers in action at Iowa City are not slow in saying that they believe the present varsity squad has the "stuff" Iowa looked like it would be a mighty contender for honors in the Big Ten conference according to reports of the game and Huskers don't feel so downhearted over being defeated by such a team. The general feeling seems to be: "Look out Notre Dame, K. U. and Syracuse when the squad gets its stride."

Three regulars were missing from the practice Monday afternoon. Wade Munn, Schellenberg, and Lyman were numbered among the absent. Lyman came out on the field in suit but went in almost immediately. Lyman received a sprain in the first few minutes of play Saturday but said nothing of it and kept on playing. "Shelly" is resting up and will probably be in time for the Gophers.

Freshmen Score on Varsity

The freshmen must have thought that because the Hawks cleaned up on the varsity that they could do it also. No matter what they thought, the first stringers were treated to a stiff tussle. Varsity line bucks were smothered time after time and the pigskin handed to the yearlings. The favorite stunt was to let the freshmen take the ball on the ten yard line and keep battering until a touchdown was registered. Sometimes it took ten downs to get it over and once in a while the first crack was sufficient. The line plunging of Hoye and Perry and the work of several other freshmen was notable.

Roy Cameron, who has been laboring with John Riddell on the freshman coaching staff has shed the regalia and will not be urging his freshmen to eat up some certain big stiff in the varsity lineup. John will stay on the job. Ed Kositzky, a former varsity man, was out on the field in suit giving the boys a few pointers. When the varsity got to pounding the freshmen too hard, "Kositz" got into the green lineup and demonstrated how to hold two or three men at once.

The first scrimmage of the afternoon was between first and second varsity squads. The first squad lined up at first as follows:

- L. E. Swanson
- L. T. Wilder
- L. G. Young
- C. Day
- R. G. Munn
- R. T. Hubka, Wray, Bogue
- R. E. Kellogg
- L. H. Howarth
- Q. B. McGlasson
- R. H. Dobson
- F. B. Dale, Hubka

Before the scrimmage with the freshmen was over, every varsity candidate got a chance to get into action.

Practice, as usual, was held behind closed gates.

A new electrical refrigerator has a cooling tank designed to fit the ice chamber of any standard refrigerator, with motor compressor and condenser to be placed out of the way in the basement below. The expansion of sulphur dioxide produces the cooling and for ordinary refrigeration running the 34 hp. motor six to eight hours daily is stated to be sufficient. Small blocks of ice may be made for table use.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK FOR UNIVERSITY GIRLS

Miss Sarah Warrick to Meet Interested Girls Thursday Afternoon

The girls of the University will be given an opportunity to do social service in co-operation with Miss Sarah Warrick, girls' work secretary of the city Y. W. C. A. They are to be advisers of Girl Reserve clubs as soon as these can be organized.

Miss Warrick will see girls interested in this work at 4:15 Thursday in the Y. W. C. A. room in the Social Science building. Young women who have taught or led girls are preferred, but others may serve as substitutes.

The Girl Reserves are a part of a national and an international movement for girls and women. Girls between the ages of ten and eighteen are eligible. Miss Warrick will invite all the seventh and eighth grade girls of the Lincoln public schools to join. Ten to sixteen girls will be organized into a Corps. These will meet once a week for an hour after school. Each will be led by an Adviser. The advisers will meet once a month in a teachers' training class.

Tentative plans have been made to organize a story-telling and game-playing center for Sunday afternoons.

This is an unusual opportunity for the girls of the University to train for leadership and social service. Those expecting to do field work in sociology can obtain experience in their vocation.

ELIGIBILITY RULE MUST BE ENFORCED

Dean Engberg Calls Attention of New Presidents to University Rules.

Save Students Met Disappointment When Barred From Making Trip

Dean Carl C. Engberg issues a warning to students who wish to take part in campus activities and those who are intending to officiate in any manner in connection with student organizations and university affairs. In the University catalogue, the regulations concerning the eligibility of student members of boards, teams, and committees, are set forth in plain statements. However there has been some difficulty already this semester, because of the fact that students are not fastidiously understood the requirements.

Several members of the university band were barred from making the trip to Iowa. This was very disappointing to the men who had been counting on making the trip, and might have been avoided had the rule been definitely understood. Dean Engberg said that there was some trouble in appointing the various committees for the all-university party, as several students were found to be ineligible to serve. The rule as quoted from the general catalogue of the university (Continued on Page Three.)

EX-SERVICE MEN TO ORGANIZE TO-NIGHT

University of Nebraska to Have Post of American Legion

Dean P. M. Buck issued the following call to all University men who have seen service in the late war:

"An effort is to be made tonight at seven-thirty in Memorial hall to enroll an enthusiastic number in the American Legion. All men whether they have seen service abroad or not are equally welcome. The only requirement for admission is that they were in the service before November 11, 1918. All who join before November 11, '19, are charter members. "The charter for the University of Nebraska Post was secured by both faculty and student service men with the idea that a permanent organization should be in effect in this university. It is hoped that full co-operation can be secured between both."

"The policy of the American Legion is well known to all. Even if you are in doubt about joining, come to the meeting this evening."
(Signed) P. M. BUCK.

THRIFT STAMPS

"We're saving fuel," remarked the lady. "I just left my husband stamping on the floor to keep his feet warm."
"Thrift stamps, eh?" said her wagsish friend.—Boston Transcript.

J. STITT WILSON IS CALLED WEST

Conference Head-liner Turns Down Invitation—Will Speak to Students

J. Stitt Wilson one of the main speakers at the state student conference to be held this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at York has been called to California to answer Senator Johnson on the league of nations but he wired the officials of the conference that he will not break his engagement. Mr. Wilson decided to give up the California trip in order to talk to Nebraska students.

Registration

That accommodations may be reserved at York for men who are planning to attend the state conference, the committee requests that registrations be made at the Temple in the Y. M. C. A. rooms today or tomorrow. The coupon printed below is for the convenience of those desiring to register. The one dollar registration fee need not be paid until arrival of the candidate at York, but the number of delegates should be ascertained by Wednesday.

How Would You Like to be a Freshman at Northwestern

Where Rigid Rules Govern Conduct of First Year Men and All Must Obey

Nebraska freshmen might well complain if they were forced to obey the strict rules which are laid down for first year men at Northwestern University. The Missouri Miner takes note of it and the Nebraskan reproduces it without comment.

"The rules and regulations which will guide the little pink feet of freshmen at Northwestern University for one year—unless the sophomore rules committee is entirely mistaken—were posted yesterday on the campus and throughout Evanston in all their drastic completeness. The placards read as follows:

"SCUMS, ATTENTION."

"Whereas the class of 1922 feels morally obligated to aid and instruct the class of 1923 in all matters for one year, the following rules are to be carefully followed:

1. Wear a green cap.
2. Salute all sophomore.
3. Wear a fireman's haircut.
4. Bathe at least once a week.
5. Apply to sophomores for campus passes.
6. Do no fussing on the campus.

RECORD SALE OF STUDENT TICKETS

Over Twice as Many Student Tickets Purchased as Ever Before

With three-fourths of the south side seats sold on Nebraska field, the football season of 1919 is expected to exceed that of any previous year from the standpoint of financial returns and attendance. More than twice as many student tickets have been purchased this year than at any time before. This is due partly to the greatly increased enrollment at the university after unsettled war conditions, and partly to an impetus given by new Cornhusker spirit being displayed by the horde of first year students.

Over 1700 student tickets had been sold up to Monday afternoon, the student activities office reports. These tickets admit students to the south side sections, and university men and women must get there early to be assured of a seat. These seats will be strictly a "student rooting section" and the fact that all university students will be together will assure the success of the new Nebraska chant when it makes its formal debut at the Notre Dame game a week from Saturday. Only those who buy student season tickets will be admitted to the south side section.

Altho it is a little early yet to estimate the number of tickets purchased by Lincoln business men the number will equal, it not surpass, that of any other year. Already a large number of reservations are being telephoned to the student activities office by Lincoln boosters. The sale of student tickets closed Friday, October 3rd.

The University Union Society entertained a large crowd of new and old students at their open meeting Friday evening. The program by the members included a piano duet by Hazel Beckwith and Beatrice Schenck, a number of impromptu speeches and an Orpheum skit by Alfred Hinze and Charles McMillan. All university students are invited to the next meeting, Friday, October 10. An especially good program and social hour are being planned.

MODERN KLU KLUX KLAN WILL DETECT STUDENT SPEEDERS

Hereafter it will be "Watch your speed" for all university students who drive their own cars and are in the habit of violating the city speed regulations in their hurry to reach classes.

At a meeting of the Lincoln Automobile club last Saturday, a committee of fifty was organized for the purpose of watching and reporting traffic violations. The identity of these men will be unknown; they will go by number; and only the secretary of the club and the chief of police will know who they are. Meanwhile they will do their work in secret and the number of each car guilty of misbehavior on the streets will be set down on the police blotter. Recurrent offenses will draw heavy fines.

University students especially will be watched, say the police. They will not be arrested at first but their car numbers will be taken. In the case of out-of-town students whose parents allow them to keep cars at school, any undue speeding will cause father to be notified that his son or daughter is burning up Lincoln pavements as well as gasoline.

But this is merely a warning. No one wants to lose the use of a perfectly good automobile for such a little offense.

EXHIBIT OF PICTURES BY FORMER NEBRASKAN

Paintings and Drawings by Dwight Kirsch, '19, in Art Hall

An exhibition of the paintings of Dwight Kirsch is now being held in Art Hall. Mr. Kirsch, who graduated in 1919 from the University of Nebraska is well known by a large number of students and his sketches are familiar to every one. Mr. Kirsch was Art Editor of both the Cornhusker and Awgwan for several years and is at present a member of the Art Students League of New York City.

The exhibition, which is a large one, consists largely of work done this past summer in Colorado and Wyoming. Watercolor, oil and crayons have been used to make these very interesting and colorful sketches of trees, mountains and lakes. He has given very interesting interpretations of the characteristic and highly different scenery of the mountains and plains.

Mr. Kirsch worked with extreme rapidity so that he might catch the brick impressions of the clouds and the peculiar light effects. Often his pictures were painted under more than ordinary difficulties. One watercolor was painted at the snow line. During this long climb all equipment was discarded. When his destination was finally reached snow and ice had to be melted before the water colors could be mixed.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT TO BE DIVIDED TODAY

Today is the date scheduled for the division of the R. O. T. C. into its different branches: the field artillery, motor transport and infantry. Plans for the development of each branch are being formulated at the commandants' quarters. Keen competition is expected between the different sections for the honors in drills. Majors, captains, lieutenants and sergeants from the regulars are busy rounding their material into shape that they may be in a place to make selection this evening for temporary officers in the cadet body.

Due to the war and the changes which the return of old students will necessitate, the department has been unable to obtain accurate data on the military experience and ability of the men in the military department. The recent drills have enabled them to eliminate the poorer material and their choice of leaders now lies in the results of the "finals" at this evening's drill. A number of men who were commissioned in the army are assisting the department with the tedious task of the first steps in drill. These men are of great assistance to the department and their thorough knowledge is a great aid to the beginner.

It is probable that an advanced course will be given starting this semester. Former cadets who have had the necessary two years work and who have registered in the R. O. T. C. will be in line for reserve commissions in the army at the expiration of their college course providing they pass the requirements imposed by the government.

ELECTIONS TODAY TO BE UNEXCITING

Juniors and Freshmen Only Classes to Contest Presidential Offices

Carolyn Reed and Dorothy Wolfe Win Offices by Default

THE BALLOT

For Senior President—Carolyn Reed
For Junior President—John C. Pickett
Harold Porterfield
Clarence Swanson
For Sophomore President—Dorothy Wolfe
For Freshman President—Wendell Bechtell
Robert Gilbert
Turner Tefft

With two class offices uncontested, the election today promises to be one of little excitement. Two co-eds have won the presidencies of their classes by default. They are Carolyn Reed, who becomes senior president, and Dorothy Wolfe, who will head the sophomores. It is the first time that a university woman has ever succeeded in winning political honors without a fight.

Competition in the other two classes has narrowed down to three candidates apiece. Here the race will no doubt be exciting. All aspirants for class honors are conceded to have almost equal chances and all have been about equally prominent in school activities.

Rivalry in the election at this time has been further allayed by postponing the election of members of the student publication board until the second semester. This action cuts down the ballot from seven to four openings.

A hot race is looked for in the junior class where Clarence Swanson, John Pickett and Harold Porterfield are contending for the high honors. All of them have strong backing and with their supporters working hard for them, a heavy junior vote will probably be polled.

Swanson has won fame as an end on the football team. He has been active in student activities and was elected to both Iron Sphinx and Vikings. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Pickett won his letter in basketball and has been actively interested in other forms of athletics. He is a Sigma Phi Epsilon. Porterfield returned to school this fall after an absence of two years in the service. He is registered in the law college and holds a position in the office of the executive dean. Porterfield is a member of the Delta Chi fraternity. All three of the men are fighting hard for the office.

In the freshman class, Robert Gilbert, Turner Tefft and Wendell Bechtell are contending for the presidency. Tefft comes from Lincoln, Gilbert, from Omaha, and Bechtell, from Princeton. All were active in high school affairs, their records show, and have made many friends among the members of the first year class.

The polls will be at the Armory on the university campus and at a place to be designated on the farm campus. The Australian ballot system will be used. Students may vote at any time between nine and twelve o'clock and between two and five o'clock in the afternoon.

A British hero limped into the post-office to life his weekly 24c 9d. awarded him by his grateful country to be squandered on washing and lodgings and food and clothing. The polite assistant postmistress apologized as she offered two crumpled and filthy 10s. notes: "I am sorry that I haven't clean ones to give you." "I don't mind; no microbe could live on my pension."

Little Ben, who was very fond of beef steak, raised his plate the other night at dinner for a second helping. "Why, Ben," said his uncle, "you mustn't eat any more meat. Don't you know," he consulted, "if you eat any more meat you might have a dream and see elephants and tigers and lions and scorpions and panthers, and—" Ben grinned delightedly. "Gimme me another piece," he begged. "I want to see all them things."
