ELIGIBILITY RULE MUST BE ENFORCED

city reads as follows:
"Rule 34. A student, who, in any semester, is not satisfactorily carrying at least twelve (12) hours is debarred from acting as departmental assistant or representing the University that semester on any athletic or debate team or board, on a glee, mandolin or dramatic club, on the staff of any college publication or in any other University organization; moreover, a student who fails to pass in twelve (12) hours at the end of a semester is debarred from representing the University in any capacity the semester following. In case a student in any of the above named student enterprises fails, any semester, to carry satisfactorily the work or any part thereof for which he is registered, the Committee on Delinquent Students may at its discretion lessen the hours of such student's registration."

New Presidents Named

Dean Engberg suggested specially that the new class presidents be particular to look up the eligibility of the students they wish to have serving on the various class committees, before the appointments are made. He says that this rule must be strictly enforced, and appointments should not be made where a student fails to be thoroughly eligible.

THESE MORMONS NEVER SAW AN IRISHMAN

In his lectures on Irish folk lore and poetry throughout the United States, Seumas MacManus, the Irish poet and historian, has visited many queer places. Perhaps the queerest of them was at a small Mormon colony not far from the Wyoming border, where an Irishman was unknown save by reputation. Mr. MacManus arrived after a hundred mile stage ride across the desert.
"Although the people there had never seen an Irishman," says he, "the name of the Irish had preceded me. I was met by an admirin' crowd bearin' a green banner, while the girls wore green neckcloths and scarves. In the evening I lectured before a wild west audience, and tried to give them some idea of an Irishman—and do you know," he added with a twinkle in his eye. "I believe that their opinion of the Irish did not sink after what I told them." Mr. MacManus' new book of stories, LO, AND BEHOLD YE! is about to be published by Stokes.

For the first time in its history the College of Hawaii has conferred the degree of doctor of laws. Presentation was made at the eighth annual commencement exercises and the recipients were Sanford Ballard Dole, president of the Republic of Hawaii and the first Governor of the territory, and Prof. Marion M. Scott, who has been prominent in educational work in the islands of Japan.

French Parallels for O. Henry
Vincent O'Sullivan, in some extremely interesting papers in Le Mercure de France, has lately been attempting to induce the French into a more intimate understanding of American literature.

In attempting to convey the real flavor of O. Henry, Mr. O'Sullivan says:

"Perhaps La Vie de Boheme of Murger, some poems of Beranger and of Francois, Coppee and a few of the tales of Alfred de Musset are the best examples of this genre in French."

Mr. O'Sullivan mentions the frequent parallel drawn between this writer and Maupassant, but goes somewhat astray in a brief sketch of O. Henry's life, which he winds up with the rather startling statement: "O. Henry's real name was Taylor."
