

The Daily Nebraskan

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

EDITORIAL STAFF

Howard Murfin Editor
 Lawrence Slater Managing Editor
 Marian Henninger Associate Editor
 Forrest Estes News Editor
 Kenneth McCandless Sports Editor
 Helen Howe Contributing Editor
 Sadie Finch Society Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Roy Wythers Business Manager
 Earl Coryell Circulation Manager
 Fred Boeking Assistant Business Manager

Offices: News, Basement, University Hall; Business, Basement, Administration Building.

Telephones: News and Editorial, B-2816; Business, B-2597. Night, all Departments, B-4204.

Published every day except Saturday and Sunday during the college year. Subscription, per semester $1.25.

Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

MAKE ROOM FOR THE STUDENTS

With the approach of the football season on the home field, it becomes apparent that the student seating capacity is not sufficient. Seventeen-hundred season tickets were sold in the campaign this fall and a section to accommodate the purchasers of these tickets was reserved in the south bleachers. It takes up the greater part of the stands but from the clamorings for tickets, it is now obvious that the entire south side should have been reserved for the use of students.

It is not the desire of the university to crowd out loyal supporters of the team who come from outside the university to watch the game. Student support, however, is recognized as the best backing the team can possibly have and should be given precedence in the matter of accommodations. The athletic department is gratified by the interest students have taken in the matter of buying tickets but it has overlooked the fact the students are sometimes slow to decide and while they really want to attend the games, they delay until it is too late to secure accommodations. Some provision should be made to seat every student in the student section at every game.

DEMOCRATIC KINGLIHOOD

What constitutes democracy among kings? The present visit of Albert, King of the Belgians, to this country raises this question. Boston gave its characteristic greeting to the brave man who symbolizes to America the strength and heroism of Belgium. We cheered him and praised him not because of his royal heritage; in the words of editorial columns in the American sense he is a king among men.

Yet America had heard much of his democracy. Stories of his contempt for pomp, of his quiet suffering with his soldiers on the battlefield, had prepared us for a kindly, easy going man, such as no doubt, we find in the stage conception of our own Lincoln. In that it must be confessed some were disappointed. Albert wore the uniform of the soldier; his countenance carried the resolute dignity that becomes a lieutenant-general not only, but also a quiet reserve that was dampening to the emotional enthusiasm of thousands who stood vigil for a glimpse of him. There were many downcast young faces as his car passed through streets packed with curious ones. "Aw, he's a king after all," these sturdy young republicans seemed to be thinking.

But how unjust it would be for Americans to apply to King Albert a vaudevillian measure of democracy. The strength of our political philosophy lies not only in the clothes we wear, in the freedom of our intercourse, in a certain unbending of our backs and our necks. Homespun philosophers tell us that democracy is a faith, not an attitude. And that is the true test. It amounts to freedom of opportunity and a frank confidence in the integrity and intelligence of our fellowman. In this sense King Albert is not lacking. In this sense he is all that America had hoped he would be—a member of royalty who keenly feels the shallow tribute that lies therein, who has built with his countrymen a kingship as democratic as Belgians will allow.—Ivan Beede, in the Boston Post.

INTER-FRATERNITY FELLOWSHIP

One of the most commendable movements which has been started on the campus this year is the plan now under way whereby each fraternity will send a representative to every other fraternity for dinner on one evening each week. The movement grows out of a desire for interfraternity fellowship, fraternity spirit and better acquaintance among fraternity men.

There has been a noticeable lack of fraternity spirit, a lack of acquaintance between members of different mens organizations since the war upset the normal trend of fraternity life and severed the ties that formerly bound them closely together. Many fraternity men have returned to school this year and they find themselves unfamiliar with general fraternity conditions, unacquainted with the members of other organizations. The plan of exchanging guests for dinner will give them ample opportunity to renew acquaintances which lapsed during the war and to get into active touch with fraternity life outside their own particular group of men.

The movement has advantages within itself. Many men are naturally not mixers and are likely to become centered in their own fraternity, neglecting to exert a little effort to form friendships with other men. These men will be benefited by the associations which they will experience in visiting other houses. Students who pledge one fraternity sometimes form the erroneous impressions that they lose the friendship of men who have pledged other fraternities and they drop the friendly relations which may have existed between them, when by cultivating them, they could strengthen the good feeling between their organizations. The ultimate object of the plan as far as the men are concerned personally is to avoid the breaking of friendships and the arising of petty differences and to broaden a mans viewpoint in regard to fraternity relations and functions.

Every fraternity man will visit every other fraternity house during the year. The movement is the outcome of a natural feeling that friendlier bonds should exist between all fraternities. The results of the plan will be watched with hopeful interest at Nebraska.

Society

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Friday, October 17
 Closed night Football rally
 Saturday, October 18
 Delta Tau Delta, fall party, Lincoln Hotel
 Pi Beta Phi—House dance.
 Alpha Gamma Rho—House dance.
 Delta Gamma—Fall party, Knights of Columbus hall.
 Acacia—House dance.
 Phi Delta Theta—House dance.
 Phi Kappa Psi—Father's day.
 Delta Sigma Delta—House dance.
 Alpha Tau Omega—House dance.
 Silver Lynx—House dance.

PERSONALS

Phi Gamma Delta announces the pledging of Lee Aitchison, of Omaha. Mrs. G. S. Haskell of Alma, is visiting her daughter, Lulu Haskell, at the Chi Omega house.
 Frank Patty, '22, and Harold Gerhart, '26, spent Wednesday in Omaha. Dudley Scott, ex-'21, of Beatrice is a guest of Phi Kappa Psi.
 George Cawood, of Ames, Iowa, is a visitor at the Alpha Tau Omega house.
 Delta Chi announces the pledging of Rodney Dunlap, of Hastings. Dorothy Hipple, '21, left Thursday for her home in Omaha, where she will spend the next few days.
 Mrs. F. J. Kirchman, of Wahoo, is visiting her daughter, Helen Kirchman, at the Alpha Omicron Pi house.
 Alice and Helen Sorber, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, are spending a few days at the Pi Beta Phi house.
 Robert La Follette, of Urbana, Illinois, is a guest at the Acacia house.
 Morris Abbot, ex-'18, of Blue Springs, spent Thursday at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.
 A. J. Stenters of Chicago, Illinois, is a visitor at the Delta Chi house.
 Sigma Chi announces the pledging of William Holindrake of Oakland.

GEORGE MOORE ON KIPLING

In the course of his "Avowals," George Moore pays strong tribute to Rudyard Kipling.
 "I envy Mr. Kipling," he says, "his copious and sonorous vocabulary, especially his neologisms; he writes with the whole language, with the language of the streets. He can do this, for he possesses the inkpot which turns the vilest tin idiom into gold."
 "Mr. Kipling's world is a barracks full of oaths and clatter of sabres; but his language is so copious, rich and sonorous that one is tempted to say that none since the Elizabethans have written so copiously. Shelley and Wordsworth, Landor and Pater wrote with part of the language, but who else, except Whitman, has written since the Elizabethans? "The flannelled fool at the wicket, the muddled oaf at the goal" is wonderful language. He writes with the eye that appreciates all that the eye can see."
 An 800-page inclusive edition of Kipling's poetry from 1885 to 1918 is soon to be issued by Doubleday, Page & Company.

WANT ADS

For Music call Cliff Scott, B1482.
 Reward offered for return of dark blue, fur collared, double breasted overcoat. Lost night of mixer. Phone or call 1620 R St. J. H. Whitmore. 20 31.
 Reward offered for return of dark green, double breasted overcoat. Lost night of mixer. Phone L7930 or call 661 South 19th St., George Kittle, Jr. No. 23-24
 LOST—An Achoth sorority pin. Finder please call B1697.
 Two or three nice rooms for quiet students; noly 8 blocks east of the campus, heat, light, hot and cold water, bath and phone. Rent reasonable, 2030 R street.
 LOST—Between 12th and 17th on R, the bottom part of pen. Call at student activities for reward.B1739.
 Young lady student wants roommate. Nice front room, board. Call B1756.
 For Sale—Genuine Canadian reg. fox stole and muff. Good as new. Call B4812. 21-21.
 Will the party who was seen taking a note book cover from the vestibule of the Armory during drill hour please return it to the same place.

Dance Saturday Night
ROSEWILDE
 Southern Rag-A-Jazz Band

Announcing
SUBSCRIPTION PARTY

The Lincoln
 FRIDAY, OCT. 17, 1919

One Twenty-five

8:30

DANCING 8-11:30

$1.25

NOTRE DAME RALLY DANCE

(Subscription Party)

Friday, Oct. 17, 1919

Rosewilde Party House

DEFORDS
 JAZZ
 PHEINDS

The Christian Science Society of the University Announces a

Free Lecture on Christian Science

by JOHN RANDALL DUNN, C. S. of St. Louis, Missouri

Saturday, October 18 at 8.30 p. m.

TEMPLE THEATRE

The public is cordially invited to attend—
 No Collection

Mr. Dunn is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

E. Albert Crawford, one of the "Girls" in "Putting It Over," the screamingly funny headliner at Orpheum Theater this week

COLONIAL

Starting Monday

"The World Aflame"

The Picture of the Hour

Orpheum

2:20—Twice Daily—8:20
 LAST TIMES TODAY & SAT. MATINEE AND EVENING
PUTTING IT OVER
 The Musical Comedy
 LLOYD & CHRISTIE
 KEANE & WALSH
 GRAY & NORMAN
 NELL LOCKWOOD
 McINTOSH MUSICAL MAIDS
LONG TACK SAM
 Mat. 25c & 50c; Eve. 25c to 75c

RIALTO

The Home of Better Pictures With Harmonizing Music
 Direction L. M. Garman
ALL THIS WEEK STARTING MONDAY MATINEE
 The World's Greatest Actress,
NAZIMOVA
 In—
"THE BRAT"
 A superb story of smiles, tears and big moments
 ALSO NEWS, COMEDY AND TRAVEL FEATURES
 RIALTO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
 Tena L. Schaefer, Conductor
 Overture—"Hungarian Comedy"—Kela-Bela
 SHOWS START AT 1, 3, 5, 7
 MATS., 15c; NIGHT, 25c

LYRIC

The Little Theatre With the Big Shows
ALL THE SWEET STARTING MONDAY MATINEE
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
 IN HIS NEWEST PICTURE
"HIS MAJESTY THE AMERICAN"
 A Story of Laughter, Love, Thrills and Surprises
 Also Short News and Topical Subjects
 MIRIAM FROSH'S ORCHESTRA
 SHOWS START AT 1, 3, 5, 7, 9
 MATS., 15c; NIGHT, 25c

WORLD VAUDEVILLE
 WHERE EVERYBODY GOES

THUR.—FRI.—SAT.
JACK DELLMAN & CO.
 In Aaron Hoffman's Comedy
"THE NEW LEADER"
 The Finest Playlet in Vaudeville
BERT & ESTELLE GORDON
 Presenting
"STOPIYOUR FLAT"
PAUL, LEVAN AND MILLER
 The Acrobatic Comedians
 Fun—Laughter—Thrills
MANNING AND HALL
 That Kipper Comedy Couple
WILLIAM S. HART
 In the Artcraft Picture
"THE MONEY CORRAL"
 A Stirring Story of Romance and Adventure
LIBERTY NEWS WEEKLY BRADER AND THE ORCHESTRA
 3 SHOWS DAILY—2:30, 7 and 9
 MATS. 15c, NIGHT, 30c. GAL. 15c

PARKER PENS
PILLERS' PRESCRIPTION HARMACY
 LINCOLN, NEBR.

HEFFLEY'S
 TAILORS OF QUALITY
 138 No. 11th St. Phone B-1422