THE COLLEGE WORLD

If the University of Utah students are caught "cutting" convocation they are "ducked."

"Even if they do study law, call 'em the laws? They're the most LAW-LESS crowd on the hill."—Daily Kansan.

The University of Colorado has a new method of making freshmen conform to the rules of the institution. A university police department has been organized and twenty-nine sophomores have been assigned to act as policemen and report culprits.

The college of engineering at the University of Minnesota has a number of fair co-eds studying the fine points of architecture and interior decorating. Out of some ninety members enrolled in the first year class, ten are young women.

Here is the freshmen code of laws at Pennsylvania university; women must wear only green hair ribbons and must not wear their hair hanging; students must not loiter or talk in the corridor or on the stairs; must not walk on the campus with arms linked; and must step off the sidewalk when an upperclassman approaches.

A new step has been taken at the University of Oregon in that credit will be given in intramural debate where the work is carried on under authorized coaches. The plan is to select competent coaches from the members of the university faculty, from the varsity debaters, and from outside coaches.

To make sure that all tubbing will be abolished at Encina hall, the men's dormitory at Leland Stanford university, every bath tub has been removed and showers put in their place. Although tubbing has been tabooed at Stanford for some time there have been numerous submersions of first year students.

Fall crew practice at the University of California was started last Monday with nearly 250 candidates for the Varsity and Freshmen boats ready to commence work. Due to the large number reporting the men had to be divided into sections and will continue to work that way until they can safely be cut down.

A "pep" organization of forty-five members at the University of Oklahoma, "The Ruf Necks," will not shave until November first, the date of the Oklahoma-Missouri game. The reason for the bearded state is the defeat of the Oklahoma team Saturday. The Oklahoman says, "They have a regret and declare that it will be a growing regret until Benny Owen's men wipe the slate clean November first."

Wearers of the Varsity "M" of the University of Michigan who died on the field of honor while fighting the battle of democracy in France will be commemorated by a fitting memorial, to be erected on the University campus by the living members of the "M" club throughout the United States. Engraved on the monument will be the names of four Michigan men, Lieut-Col. Curtis G. Redden, '03, one of the greatest ends Michigan ever developed; Lieuts. Eaton James, Howard R. Smith, and Otto C. Carpell, all of whom participated in Michigan athletics.

JAZZ

Oklahoma has established a new kind of "Pep" club. Maybe Nebraska needs one too. The Oklahoman Daily for October 22d says:

"Jazzettes Meet Tonight
"A meeting of all Jazzettes will be held at 7 o'clock in the rest room, second floor of the administration building.

"General pep schemes will be discussed. Thelma Wild Rose is president of the Jazzettes."

Talk about romantic names. And why was this pep meeting held in the "rest" room, anyway?

Campaign-Urbana also seems to have bowed before the goddess of jazz. But with a name like that why shouldn't they? The following was said by the Daily Illini in regard to a Commerce Smoker:

"Pretzels, visions of the Orient, and jazz music will be the keynote of the Commerce smoker. Leading the entertainment is an Oriental ballet combining the flowing grace of Mohammedan Persia and the princely splendor of the Sultan's lounging room, with the weird and fiery power of modern jazz. A special orchestra for this act will play dreamy music of the East."

Little Elizabeth was spending a week with an aunt. On the first night, when bedtime came, the aunt asked her little guest if she was frightened in the dark. "Oh, no, auntie," replied Elizabeth. "That's lovely," said the aunt, with a sigh of relief. "I was a little afraid once," went on Elizabeth, "when I went into the pantry to get a cookie." "What were you afraid of then?" "I was afraid I couldn't find the cookies."

The teacher had spent twenty minutes impressing on her pupils the correct pronunciation of the word "vase." The following morning she wanted to find out if the children remembered, so she turned to one little boy suddenly and demanded: "What do you see on the mantelpiece at home, Jackie?" "Father's feet, miss," came the prompt reply.

POINT SYSTEM IS REVISED

Committee to Present Worked Over Plan to Student Council of Woman's League

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 19.—The details of the point system for women's activities are being carefully worked over by a committee composed of Frances Parker, chairman; Margaret Rutledge, Victoria Frederick, Martha Humphreys and Opal Cannon, and a report will be made to the Student Council of the Women's League at their meeting at 5 o'clock Monday.

The revised system will then go into immediate effect, unit captains and house presidents reporting the points held by each member of her unit or house. A complete card index showing the points held by each woman in the university will be kept on file in the office of the dean of women.

Under the point system, no woman may engage in activities aggregating a total of more than fifteen points, and no woman whose scholastic average is under B may have more than twelve points. In this way it is hoped that the burden of campus activities may be more equally distributed and also that more women may be drawn into student affairs.

Mr. Henry Chung has just completed two books on "Korean Treaties" and "Oriental Policies of the United States." Mr. Chung was recently entertained at the Pompean club in San Francisco where he was given an ovation. He talked on "The Asia of Tomorrow." He was highly praised by the local press. Mr. Chung is a protege of Frank Robey of Kearney.
