PLAN MEMORIAL FOR UNIVERSITY

world as Empires are remembered by their statues and edifices erected in respect to their heroes, on the spots so sacred to those who fell. Napoleon lies entombed in his beloved Paris, Washington at his ancestral home, Mt. Vernon, and in our own day we see the the last resting places of Helen Hunt Jackson, on the green mountain side, and 'Buffalo Bill' Cody. What would our heroes desire us to overlook the scenes of his youth, do? Would they want to be forgotten by the generations that flow year by year through the portals of their Alma Mater? It is only natural that they would hope to be remembered by the school they loved. And it is a sacred desire of the school to do them justice and to remember what they did for their school and country.

The bodies of those who gave their all for America are to be brought back to the land they loved. They will, doubtless, be reinterred in many cemeteries throuth the state and possibly in many other states. But at one time they were all members of a common brotherhood, schoolmates, many were classmates, and those who fell together for a common cause should and will be remembered together at the University of Nebraska.

The committee in charge of the memorial will consist of R. A. Ordrel, representing the alumni, an Omaha man and president of the alumni association, E. P. Brown, survey, representing the regents, Luther Cobbe, president of and representing the university post of the American Legion, Dean P. M. Buck, representing the faculty men who saw service, Professor Alice Howell, representing the faculty women who were in the service, A. C. Hunter, secretary of the committee in charge of publication and Chancellor Avery, the latter representing the university as a whole.

force and main strength that we gathered together and took a section opposite the 50 yard line, running out the Nebraska rooters.

"Then the band was another recipient of the arrows of bad luck. The Lincoln band came on the field, and seeing the section that we occupied, came over and took position immediately in front of us, drowning out our yells throughout the game. Between halves, however, the K. U. band got up and started across the field, and Nebraska saw what was coming, and got up and moved over to the outer side.

"In the game itself, all the flukes, breaks, and lucky turns, went to the Nebraskans. Fluke kicks, freak recovery of both their fumbles and ours, all went their way. Indeed, had it not been for the rabbit's foot that Tom Pringle had sewed into his football jersey last week, we would not even have scored.

"When we decided to go to show, after the game, we discovered that the only show in town was the Orpheum, and our jinx followed us to the ticket window, where we were told that nothing was left but standing room.

scrimmage practice for the Varsity team, and in this way are in part responsible for the success of the Nebraska Varsity. Riddell is possessor of the true Nebraska spirit and has thoroughly imbued this spirit into the hearts of his players. Through his efforts, the freshmen have developed into a gridiron machine capable of stopping even the Varsity at times, and the game will offer a comparison of their ability with the best college team in the state.

Tickets are now on sale for his game. The price of admission is fifty cents. The expenses of the York team have to be met and all surplus funds will be used to buy trophy sweaters for the freshmen players. The men are justly entitled to these sweaters and it is the duty of every Cornhusker student to attend this game and back up the freshmen. Coach Schulte is in charge of the ticket sale and all the members of the Varsity and a few other students have the tickets for sale on the campus. The price is only fifty cents and the game is easily worth double that.

COMPLETE COLLEGE FUND DRIVE

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—Wisconsin today completed a campaign that has attracted or will attract the attention of the entire educational field of the United States.

This was the final day in a week's drive to raise $5,000,000 for use in Wisconsin colleges associated, an affiliation of the University of Wisconsin, Marquette university and minor colleges of the state of all denominations.

The money is to be paid during a period of five years by all subscribers to the fund and is to be used in paying higher salaries to faculty members, to insure the teaching of a better Americanism and inculcate higher ideals in the minds of the students.

The plan may be tried in other states. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, president, Armour institute of technology, Chicago, and other leading educators of the country used their influence in making the campaign a success.

The general engineering society was addressed last Wednesday evening by Professor Shedd of the cultural Engineering department upon the subject of tractor testing. Prof. Shedd gave a short history of the tractor industry and its development, and outlined the tractor test as it is conducted at the State Farm. He also explained to the students the uses of the Sprague Electric Dynamometer and the Galley Traction Dynamometer.

Senator Warren, who was instrumental in securing the passage of the tractor test law in the state legislature, told of some of his personal experiences with tractors, and of the difficulties encountered in bringing about the passage of the law. The tractor law requires that a stock model of every tractor sold in Nebraska must be tested at the State Farm under the provision of the proper officials of the department.
