A SERIOUS MATTER

Accounts of thieving in the girls' locker room of the gymnasium have been reported more than once this year. Recently two "co-eds" found their pocketbooks, which they had left with their clothes in the locker room while attending a "gym" class, lying open on the floor and the entire contents, in money, missing. Just before the Christmas recess, The Daily Nebraskan published an article telling of the robbery from a student, of seventeen dollars, her entire earnings for some time. The girl, who was working her way through school, was heart-broken. Her holiday plans were spoiled, as all her gifts were to have been bought with the money she lost.

Such thefts deserve the utmost condemnation. In addition to the violation of all ethics and moral principles, such hardship may be worked upon a student who is earning the money to pay her expenses, that she may be compelled to forego her education. Deeds of this sort reflect upon the fair name of the university. May the student standards be such that repetition of these and like offenses will never occur.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE SINGLE TAX?

About two years ago students voted for the addition of the single tax at Nebraska. Before the measure could be put into effect, it had to be passed upon by the university senate. The matter was put before that body and has not been heard from since. What has become of the single tax proposition?

IT'S THE ENCORE THAT MAKES LYING DIFFICULT

I have long considered issuing a warning to liars—so here goes. We all are tempted to decorate the truth. Frequently the truth is no lily—so we like to paint it.

But we have one human frailty which, particularly when it comes to our wanting to tell a lie, is exceedingly bothersome—and that is our poor memories. We don't realize how often we tell the same story twice, and we don't realize how hard it is to tell the same story twice alike, especially if it isn't true. You recall the old Hoosier saying, "I reckon that a man in order to be a good liar must have a wonderful memory."

There is no doubt that it is easier to tell the truth than it is to tell a lie and then try to repeat it. Test yourself on this. Suppose somebody asks you what size hat you wear. If you tell the truth about it you won't have any trouble answering the same question a month from now. But if you lie about it you may not recall the lie you told, and find yourself puzzled.

That is how this editorial happened to be written—only it wasn't the size of a man's hat that got him into trouble, but the size of his salary. A friend of mine had two interviews with a man whom he was considering for an important job. The interviews were three months apart. At the first interview the man was asked what salary he got. He mentioned a certain figure. At the second interview the same question was asked and a different figure was mentioned. It so happened that my friend's connections were such that he could get at the truth. He did get at it, and found that both figures were lies. That ended the negotiations for the new job.

As a race we human beings are pretty clever. We can move about the monkey cage (called the world) with considerable agility. But the liar's trapeze is beyond the reach of most of us. We can't swing up to it without great danger of falling and getting hurt.—The American.

MAJ.-GEN. LEONARD WOOD URGES DEPORTATION LAW

Chicago Jan. 15—Four measures leading toward a more thorough Americanization were demanded by Major General Food speaking at the central department of the Y. M. C. A.

The general asked for more adequate laws for deportation of alien agitator, legislation, dealing more effectively with "reds" of American birth, close scrutiny of immigration and immediate universal military service.

"As for our army and navy" said the general, "our forces should be large enough to rescue an occasional abducted consul or two."

THE DAILY DITTY

by
 Gayle Vincent Grubb

Be seated friends, and listen to
 A liberal chunk of gaff,
 That has caused the dumb to titter
 and

The wiser ones to laugh;
 To wonder why and wherefore, or,
 Which or even what;
 To wonder if the nuts are dead
 Or whether they are not.

A gang of dames held council with
 A similar gang of men,
 And agreed to hold an eat-fest and Decided where and when;
 And the dames they were to cook the stuff.

The bounders were to buy;
 And the bounders were to fix the time
 The party'd best get by.

Well, Saturday was the day they fixed
 To kill the fatted steak,
 So they met when the dew was heavy yet

And most of them half awake,
 While they ate and gossiped fluently
 'Till all the platters gleamed
 And each soul seemed well satisfied
 And each one's lookour beamed.

But in this age when man is man
 And women second rate
 Although, perhaps the latter say
 I'm wrong, that's what I state;
 The knitting bees and pink teas are
 For they who wear the skirts
 And not for men, take no offense—the Whole truth never hurts.

ALPHA PHI SORORITY OWNER OF BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE PROPERTY

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 15—The Alpha Phi sorority has just purchased the fine residence property of Mrs. J. P. Allee on East Seminary street after business transactions which started last summer.

The first payment has been made on the property, the consideration being $10,000, and the deed will be turned over to the sorority on February 25 when the payments will have been completed.

By the purchase of the Allee property the Alpha Phis set a precedent for the other De Pauw sororities, as theirs is the first organization of women on the campus to become the owner of its chapter house.

Alpha Phis from all parts of the nation will convene here next June, and it is expected that the sorority will be removed from its present residence on South Locust street to the newly acquired residence by that time.

The house is on a large site and one of the most beautiful and expensively built in the entire city.

URGES INCREASE IN THE SALARIES OF TEACHERS—NORMAL SCHOOLS SUFFER

New York, Jan. 15—Material increases in teachers' salaries were urged today by the chief public school officials from nine eastern states.

"The public schools of the nation are facing a critical situation," says their statement. "In the states of the Atlantic seaboard hundreds of schools are closed because teachers are not available."

"There are employed as teachers many who are not qualified."

"A loss of students in the state normal schools amounting to 25, 30 and in some states, 50 per cent, indicates that young persons are turning their attention to other occupations than teaching."

Up in Doniphan county so many boys are trapping this year that the school teachers are wearing gas masks.
