REGISTRATION IN FULL SWING

Less Than 600 Students Had Registered up to Five O'clock Wednesday.

BIG ENROLLMENT EXPECTED

Registration for the second semester began at 9:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, January 28th, in the Armory and will continue until 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At 5 o'clock Wednesday night less than six hundred students had registered, which is more than two hundred behind the estimate set by the registrar for the day. With only three days left to complete registration, the assistant registrars will be working at top-speed to finish by Saturday afternoon.

The system in use is entirely adequate to meet the needs of the students and at no time was there a rush or congestion of students. Advisors were not hard-pressed and freshmen students experiencing their first mid-year registration, were pleased at the speed and ease at this time, in comparison with registration last September.

The number of students expected to register for the second semester will probably exceed the forty-two hundred who enrolled last fall. This is due to the unusual number of high school graduates entering the university at this time, the return of ex-service men to the university, and a number of men taking advantage of the government's vocational training.

To equalize the number of students registering each day, engineering students are requested to register January 29, agricultural students Friday or Saturday, January 30, and 31, law students in the Law College on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, January 29, 30, and 31. Payment of fees must be made on the day of registration or students violating this rule will be liable for an extra fee of $3.00. This rule goes in force Monday, February 2, for those not paying their fees promptly.

Office hours during registration week are as follows:

1. Chancellor, 10 a. m. to 12 a. m.; 2 to 5 p. m. daily in Administration Building.
2. Dean Buck and Prof. Grummann, 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. daily in Armory.
3. Dean Burnett—9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. daily in Dental Building.
4. Dean Fordyce, 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. daily in Armory.
5. Dean Hastings, 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. Thurs., Friday and Saturday in College of Law.
6. Dean LeRossignol, 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Armory.
7. Dean Lyman 9-12 a. m. and 2-5 p. m. daily in Armory.
8. Dean Sherman, 9-12 a. m., and (Continued on Page Four.)

FACULTY TO AID ARTS STUDENTS

Ways and Means Committee Will Advice Freshmen on Courses —English Requirements Raised.

The faculty members of the college of arts and sciences at the university met Tuesday afternoon to discuss the report of a committee on the ways and means of securing better co-operation among the students in that college. Members of the committee reporting were Prof. G. O. Virtue, chairman, D. D. Whitney, Laura Pfeiffer, H. P. Williams, H. H. Vaughan, M. G. Gaba and S. B. Gass. The meeting was largely attended and much interest was shown in the matters at hand. Dean P. M. Buck presided.

The committee has been named by the dean to consider what additional regulations should be adopted by the board for the guidance of students in making a selection of courses that would best secure for them the larger and more permanent advantages of an arts college education.

Before proceeding to the consideration of the report, the faculty voted to request that the board of regents change the requirements for the entrance to the college in the matter of English from the present statement of four points (as given in the catalog) to six points.

The following resolutions were adopted at Tuesday's meeting:

1. That more definite statement shall be made in the departmental announcements in the catalog, as to the prerequisites, if any, for each course.

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR BIG MEMORIAL

Strong Sentiment Among School Alumni for Stadium or "Gym."

A suitable memorial for the men and women of the University of Nebraska who served in the great war was discussed at a meeting of the memorial committee in Chancellor Avery's office Thursday. The committee consists of the chancellor Regents T. P. Brown, Dean P. M. Buck, Professor Alice Howell, and A. C. Hunter and Luther Cobbey.

It was the opinion of those present that the memorial honor all who wore the uniform in service on both sides of the sea for the place of service was a minor point. The members of the committee expressed a decide matters of detail, including memorial bearing the names of those who died in service, be a feature of some larger and some expressive memorial of all.

It was unanimously decided to ask the board of directors of the general alumni association with President R. A. Orsdel of Omaha to meet with the committee at an early date to decide matters of detail, including the form which the memorial should take. Mr. Var Orsdel is a member of the above named committee but was unable to be present Friday because business in court had called him to Washington, D. C. The board of directors of the alumni association consists of these: Charles W. Beal, '93, Broker Bow; E. P. Brown, '92, Davey; Luke H. Cheney, '87, Stockville; Mrs. Fred M. Deweese, '05, (Continued on Page Four.)

PROF. N. A. BENGSTON WRITES FROM YUCATAN

A letter has been received from Prof. N. A. Bengston of the geography department, written on board the Steamship Coppename off the coast of Yucatan. Professor Bengston was granted a leave of absence recently in order that he might conduct the first geographical reconnaissance survey of Honduras. The survey is being made by a private firm. Professor Bengston stated that most of the passengers were wearing Palm Beach suits and that those who didn't have them were envious of those who did. He will go to Guatemala first and then to Tegucigalpa in Honduras. His address will be in care of the American Consul General at that place. Professor Bengston expects to return next June.

DRIVE NOW ON FOR RAG SUBSCRIPTIONS

Members of W. A. A. Have Complete Charge of Sale of Nebraskans for Second Semester.

An urgent drive for subscriptions to the Daily Nebraskan for the second semester was launched early this week by the members of the W. A. A. of the university. Early Wednesday morning when first students entered the armory to begin the registration for the second term, W. A. A. girls were on hand to get each extra $1.25.

Those girls who are selling subscriptions report that the armory floor was thoroughly canvassed Wednesday and many students subscribed, including hosts of new first year students. Every one who went into the registration hall yesterday was, at one time or another, queried by a subscription-taker. Girls were stationed in the building at all hours of the day, and in this way the six hundred students who registered Wednesday were not lost in the rush. Irene Springer has charge of the sale of subscriptions by members of the W. A. A.

A new policy has been adopted this year with regard to the sale of Nebraskan subscriptions. Heretofore some inducement has been offered university women who would be willing to canvass the student body for new names on the Nebraskan account books. Various prizes have been offered at one time and another for the girl who sold the largest number, and in some cases a cash prize was offered for the largest number of individual subscriptions secured by one person. This year the girls are selling subscriptions without any monetary incentive or inducement, but are doing it because they have the true Nebraska spirit.

Because the subscription list of the Nebraskan was larger the past semester than at any time before, that is (Continued on Page Three)

HUSKERS CANCEL SIOUX CITY TRIP

Examinations and Influenza Prevent Schissler's Victorious Ponies from Meeting Morningside Maroons.

PREPARING FOR HOOSIERS

With ten victories out of eleven games to their credit the Nebraska Cornhuskers are taking a vacation this week and will not make the journey to Sioux City to meet the Morningside Maroons who they so decisively defeated in the first games of the season. Semester examinations and several cases of illness are given as the reasons for canceling the two clashes with the Maroons. Several of the Husker veterans are suffering from attacks of the old reliable influenza and the squad is by no means in shape to hit the road Friday. If the games should be played, there is little doubt but that the Cornhusker tossed would have an easy time in snaring two more victories. Coach Schissler has announced that there is a possibility of the Huskers meeting the Maroons in Sioux City when they make their eastern trip. If this should materialize the Huskers and Maroons will mix on the Morningside court February 24 and 25.

While the Huskers expected stiff opposition in the two games with South Dakota University, they found little trouble in winning both frays by large scores. In the first game the Coyotes were practically helpless against the clever work of the Nebraskans. The work of Jesse Patty completely bewildered the Coyote guards and the star Husker forward registered basket after basket. In the second game, in spite of the absence of Patty, and Coach Schissler, the Coyotes were again humiliated with a one-sided defeat. Coach Schissler was unable to be present to direct the second game with the Coyotes. He was confined to his bed at home, threatened with pneumonia. His ailment proved to be only a touch of the influenza, however, and he is once more back on the job. The team was very ably handled by Coach Schulte in the absence of Schissler.

Preparing for Indiana

On account of the registration equipment, which now occupies the Armory, Coach Schissler's men were unable to use the gymnasium for practice yesterday and consequently held the daily grind at the city Y. M. C. A. Schissler does not intend to slack up on the practice work merely because of the cancellation of the Morningside games. A great deal of hard work is necessary to prepare the Cornhuskers for the tilts with "Jumbo" Stiehm's Indiana Hoosiers, who come to Lincoln for two games with the Huskers next week. The Hoosiers are looming up as the "dark horse team" of the Big Ten conference, recently winning from Purdue and the strong Ohio State team, which boasts of the famous "Chick" Harley. Stiehm's five stop in Omaha for a grace of games with Tommy Mills' Creighton flippers before coming to Lincoln, and this will give the Cornhusker fans a chance to see how the Huskers line up with the Omaha Catholics.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS HOLD GET-TOGETHER MEETING

Rev. C. H. Krause, Secretary of the Lutheran Student Activities for the United Lutheran Church gave a survey of the conditions and organization of the church over the country, before thirty-five Lutheran students who attended a get-together meeting held in Faculty Hall last Friday evening.

Plans were discussed to form a Lutheran student organization here. There are about 280 Lutherans at Nebraska, and a live organization could be formed, Rev. Krause stated. E. H. Strelter was appointed to represent the Missouri Synod; Matt Christensen, the Danish Synod; Prof. J. E. Alexis, the Swedish Synod, and Walter M. Wolf, to represent the United Lutheran Church.

A final organization meeting of all Lutherans in school will be held in the near future.
