SIX MORE DAYS FOR PICTURES

All Individual and Group Photographs Must be Taken Before February 10.

More Than 600 Junior and Senior Cuts Have Been Received for 1920 Annual.

Six more days remain in which students, juniors and seniors, and organizations may get pictures in for the 1920 Cornhusker.

With more than six hundred junior and senior individual pictures already taken for the Cornhusker, the staff is still hoping that a few more students will get their photos taken for the book before the individual section is closed on February 10. This is absolutely the dead line for pictures.

There are already 150 more junior and senior pictures taken than were in the annual last year, but it is hoped that the individual section will represent practically all the third and fourth year students.

A half dozen organizations have not as yet had their group pictures taken. This should be done at once so the proofs can be turned in by February 10.

Students have been asked by the editor of the book to turn in snap shots of all school life for all sections of the Cornhusker immediately. It is (Continued on Page Four.)

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR THE UNIVERSITY SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

Representatives from Students, Faculty, Alumni and Patrons Will Act Soon.

It was voted to call this committee together at 2 p. m. Thursday, February 12, when final plans will be made.

HAROLD BAYNES WILL TALK ON BIRDS FRIDAY

Harold Baynes of the Bird Sanctuary of Meridan, N. H. will deliver illustrated lectures Friday afternoon and evening of this week at St. Paul's church under the auspices of the Nebraska State Journal and the Bruner Bird Club. Regent J. E. Miller is very much interested. Those who are planning the course extend a special invitation to students of this university to attend. Professor Bruner for whom the Bird Club is named has been connected with this university for many years, both as a student and since then as a professor. He is one of those who were honored last spring by the board with an advance to a half time schedule. He has finished his work for the semester and will leave about the end of the month for California. Professor Bruner has done much towards discovering the birds of Nebraska so that the state is now famous for having a larger number of bird inhabitants than any other in the union.

PROF. A. R. HATTON TALKS AT CONVOCATION

Member of Western Reserve Faculty Tells of Need for Highly Simplified Government.

An intensely interesting and impressive lecture on "The Needs and Tendencies in State Governments," by Professor A. R. Hatton, of Western Reserve, featured convocation in memorial hall, Tuesday morning.

He has made a thorough study of state governments, has run for office numerous times, and is fully prepared to convert his hearers to his viewpoint.

There is great need of a simplified form of government, Professor Hatton believes. He is of the opinion that the governor should be chosen by the people and that the governor should choose his own assistants. As it is, many bills devised by the people, successfully pass the house or representatives by a large majority and are delayed by the senate committees until it is impossible to pass them. Thus many laws which are promised the people by party platforms are killed. He declared that there was no more (Continued on page 3)

EXCUSES TO BE GIVEN ONLY BY MEDICAL BOARD

After this morning, all excuses for illness will be granted only by the Medical Supervision Board in Pharmacy Hall. Miss Heppner and Dean Engberg will grant only incidental excuses.

The Medical Supervision Board is composed of Dr. Philbrick, Miss Dykema and Dr. Webb. A card catalogue of all excuses will be kept by Miss Dykema and all illnesses will be investigated by the two physicians and excuses granted by them. In the case of long illnesses, the friends of the student must report the illness to either Dr. Philbrick or Dr. Webb. Miss Heppner and Dean Engberg will have charge of the giving of all other excuses such as excuses for leaving school temporarily on account of business, or attending weddings, funerals or other affairs.

This announcement will no doubt cause a little grief to those who have heretofore been skipping classes. This new system will be a more efficient and business-like method of handling these excuses and will no doubt lessen the number of "cuts."

NEBRASKAN NEEDS STUDENT SUPPORT

Vikings and W. A. A. Members to Assist in "Rag" Subscription Campaign.

University students must rally to the support of the Daily Nebraskan if they are to be assured of a daily paper that will conform to the standards of campus papers of the past. The subscription is far below normal, according to the statement made last evening by the circulation manager. Several hundred subscriptions must be written during the next few days to insure adequate financial backing for the publication. At the present time about four hundred students are carrying yellow receipts. Those slips must be presented at the station "A" before the papers are given out.

Starting today students will be called on to show a new brand of Cornhusker spirit by subscribing for the "Rag." The price of only $1.25 is insignificant because all the latest campus news written in a crisp and interesting manner appears each day in the columns of the paper.

A blockade is now declared and it is the circulation manager's plan to throw a drag-net over the entire campus. Solicitors expect to comb the interior of every building on the city and farm campus this week. No one will be exempt from the subscription blockade. The members of the Vikings, honorary junior organization, have signified their willingness to help in the drive. The Vikings will visit each sorority and boarding house along university row and appeal for subscriptions for the Daily Nebraskan. Members of W. A. A. have been active (Continued on Page Three)

MRS. RYAN TELLS WHY DOLLAR IS WORTH 30c

State Manager for Economy Talks to Fifty Girls at Vespers Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles G. Ryan, state manager of the campaign against the high cost of living, explained the plan and purpose of raising the Women's Army of Nebraska to fight the high cost of living, to about fifty girls at vespers, Tuesday. The girls unanimously pledged themselves to live in accordance with the rules of the Women's Army.

This campaign originated in the Federal Department of Justice. A number of states have voluntarily taken it up. Mrs. Ryan predicted that it will soon be a nation-wide movement.

"In taking up the economy campaign it is the conviction," Mrs. Ryan stated, "that shortage of supply is the fundamental cause of high prices." She mentioned other things popularly supposed to be causes. About speculation she said, "You are speculating when you buy more than you need and put things away."

Those who join the Women's Army of Nebraska pledge themselves not to buy the exorbitantly priced articles, not to indulge in luxuries, to help other women to live economically and to keep account of their expenses. The last is intended to show how the money is spent and thus act as a check upon expenditures.

To show the personal advantage in saving, Mrs. Ryan remarked that a dollar is worth only thirty cents at the present time. She pointed out that, if people save their dollars until they are worth one hundred cents, they will profit.

"Y" FORUM WILL DISCUSS U. S. FOREIGN RELATIONS

"Foreign Relations" will be the topic of discussion at the meeting of the "Y" Forum this week at the Temple. Rev. Mr. Dunn, student pastor of the Congregational churches of Lincoln, will lead the meeting. Two questions will be taken up in development of the topic:

1. What should be the determining factors in our relations with other countries?
2. What are the remedies for the present foreign relations?

The matter of foreign relations is one that is bothering American statesmen. Whether United States shall continue to uphold the Monroe Doctrine or adopt a new policy is the problem that must be solved. Everyone attending the meeting will get a chance to give his opinion.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL NOW HOLDS INTEREST

Ruth Fickes, Sports Leader, Urges Players to Begin Practicing at Once.

Basketball will hold the center of interest in girls' sports for the next two months. The season is now on and practices are being held daily in the gymnasium. Basketball is usually regarded as the game of games and the number of girls who are interested in it exceeds the number interested in other sports. The bulletin on the W. A. A. board where those who wish to practice may sign, is already well filled with names. There is still plenty of opportunity for those who have not signed up to do so.

Ruth Fickes is the sports leader for basketball. She urges the girls to begin practicing immediately. Every girl must have at least ten practices in order to play in one of the two big tournaments. A preliminary tournament is planned in which every girl who has had ten practices will play. Temporary leaders, one for every six players, will be selected and the teams will be chosen by lot. The showing made by the players in this tournament will help to determine the selections for the class teams. The inter-class tournament will probably be played the last of March. Girls who play in the preliminary tournament will receive fifty W. A. A. points and receive one hundred points for playing on the class team.

The plans for this year's tournament differ from those for previous seasons in that there will not be an inter-sorority tournament as heretofore.

STIEHM'S FIVE TO MEET PONIES

Hoosiers Will Battle Huskers on Home Floor Thursday and Friday.

Indiana's Coach Returns to Nebraska for First Time Since Leaving University.

For the first time since he severed connections with the University of Nebraska "Jumbo" Stiehm is invading the camp of the Cornhuskers with a Hoosier team. Since Stiehm left Nebraska and went to Indiana, the two schools have not met in any form of athletics and the two basketball games Thursday and Friday nights will be the first time Nebraska fans have had the privilege of seeing one of "Jumbo's" Indiana teams in action. Incidentally, it is to be noticed that the five which is invading Huskerland is the first basketball outfit that Stiehm has coached at the Indiana school. Heretofore he has confined his time solely to the gridiron sport and has not meddled with basketball. The 1920 Hoosier flippers are, however, under his guidance.

The recent victory of Iowa over the strong Minnesota team is further proof of the strength of Stiehm's aggregation. Iowa also won from Chicago, and the Maroons were rated as the strongest contenders for the honors of the Western conference. Iowa, however, fell before Michigan, and the Wolverines were in turn humbled by the Hoosiers. Iowa's defeat of Minnesota puts the Gopher team out of the running for the Big Ten championship. Last year the Gophers carried off the high honors.
