ALL-UNI MIXER WELL ATTENDED

The Armory was open for dancing at nine o'clock and was crowded from that time till eleven-thirty, when the music stopped after several blinkings of the lights had failed to disperse the dancers. The music was furnished by a five-piece orchestra.

The decorations of the rooms in red and white carried out the two-fold idea of St. Valentine's day and the Cornhusker gathering. The gymnasium was decorated with red cardboard hearts and red and white paper Cornhusker pennants hanging on strings which extended around the room. Red hearts dangled in the air of the first floor hall of the Temple, while red and white crepe paper added the Cornhusker touch. Hearts were in evidence everywhere. They adorned the name tags received at the entrance. A red heart set in white was the design of the brick ice cream.

Y. M. C. A. MAN TO SPEAK AT TUESDAY CONVOCATION

He held university prizes and studentships. He was for some time of the staff of Trinity College, Kandy, Ceylon, which is the leading boys' school in the far east. He then became principal of the Y. M. C. A. Training School in India and one of the literary secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association. He is the author of several books on Buddhism, including "The Story of Buddhism," and is on his way to Japan and China to make a further study of this great religion.

During the war, Mr. Saunders helped to organize the work for the Indian army in France, and later became organizing secretary of the work for the troops sent from India to East Africa and Mesopotamia. He has recently been helping the British Y. M. C. A. in establishing their training school, and in their work overseas. He is greatly interested in all international problems and in interpreting the east to the west is seeking to make a contribution to the cause of international good will. A South African by birth, and educated in Great Britain, he is a representative of the international committee of Young Men's Christian Associations.

W. S. G. A. COUNCIL CREATES POINT SYSTEM

The members of the council elected a penalizing board to penalize the sorority houses and rooming houses where rules are broken. The girls elected to serve on this board are:

La Verne Boyd
Hattie Hepperly
Mary Stephens

The officers of the council are also members of this penalizing board. Another campaign will be made for the twenty-five per cent tax and they will try to make it 100 per cent in all houses this time.

Teas will be held at the Woman's Building every Friday afternoon from three to five. This was decided by the council.

KEEN RIVALRY IN CLASS ELECTION

Coryell, junior. They will have no competition. Mr. Reese is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, Mr. Wythers of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Mr. Coryell of the Phi Kappa Psi. They will take their offices next year.

On the sophomore ballot, C. H. Ross has filed for the office of junior managing editor of the Cornhusker, and Hugh Carson for the office of business manager. Mr. Ross is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and Mr. Carson of the Delta Upsilon. They will be elected for the 1921 Cornhusker. Jack Landale, of the Sigma Nu fraternity, will be the editor in chief of the Cornhusker, as he is the only one who has filed for that office. He is the junior managing editor this year. It is customary to elect the junior managing editor as editor in chief for the succeeding year.

The publicity department issues the following statement: "Through a misunderstanding with his manager the name of Alfred Reese was filed too late. The registrar very much regretted the misunderstanding and the matter was referred to the decision of Dean Hastings who is the university's legal adviser. His ruling was that the legislation passed by the four classes in 1912 would have to be observed. The article in question reads thus: 'Article V. Each candidate must file his name with the registrar not later than five (5) p. m. on Friday prior to the day of election.'

The seniors will vote on the questions: (1) "Do you wish to adopt the Cornhusker pin for 1920?" (2) "Do you wish to retain the former?"

Miss McGahey, the registrar, has announced that the election will be held in room 108 of the Social Science building. Heretofore, elections have been held in the Armory.

WOMAN'S HALL FORMALLY OPENS

rosewood piano. In one recess of this room stands a grand piano which is the gift of the W. S. G. A.

The parlor is a south room at the left on the first floor. The color effect here is also blue and gold. Here is a very unique mantle. The work in this room is sycamore. A beautiful white marble bust of "Marguerite" was lent by the department of modern language for this room. Above the fireplace in the central court is a rare old piece of tapestry formerly owned by the builders, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon.

On the second floor is a beautiful little room which is to be used by the W. A. A., Valkyrie and Theta Sigma Phi. The curtains and overdrapes here are the gift of Miss Helen Curtis, whose mother is a niece of the Sheldon's. The rug, dome-light and some furniture are the gift of the W. A. A. The Flemish oak furniture is loaned by the physical training department for the women's room. This furniture is the gift of women of former years and belongs to the rest room of the woman's gymnasium to be built in the near future.

Another pretty suite of rooms on the second floor is furnished practically in wicker furniture to be used by the W. S. G. A., Black Masques, Silver Serpent, Xi Delta and Mystic Fish organizations. Another room is for the use of Omicron Nu, The Y. W., Campfire, Home Economics Club and Kappa Phi will hold their meetings on the first floor.

The trophies of the W. A. A. will be kept here until the new gymnasium is built. Among the trophies are a loving cup for women's basketball in 1910, and a silver candlestick. On the buffet in the dining room stands a genuine imported Russian samovar. In the drawing room is a beautiful piece of statuary "Flying Mercury," which was given by the Faculty Women's Club in memory of Mrs. Reese, wife of Dean Reese. A beautiful teak-wood stand was also given by the Faculty Women's Club.

This beautiful home will be open to university girls at any time during the day they care to use it.

HUSKERS WHIP AGGIES TWICE

was the shining light of the Husker Eve, scoring twenty-one points, over half of the Husker total. The same lineup that began the Friday game started Saturday. This five consisted of Patty, Smith, Bekins, and Schellenberger, but before the game was over every man on the squad was used. At no time during this game did the Aggies have a look-in. The Aggie forwards were completely smothered by the brilliant guarding of Captain Schellenberger and Boney. Smith was the second highest scorer for Nebraska, making six points.

Coach Gauthier, of the Aggie team greatly complimented the Husker team, saying it was one of the cleverest combinations he had seen this season. He prophesied two stiff scrimmages for the Nebraskans, however, when they face Notre Dame here in two games next week. Victories over the Catholic school will place Schissler's team at the very front in middle-western basketball.
