TIGERS TO MEET HUSKERS TODAY

Colorado College Quintet to Fight Nebraska Five for Cage Honors in Double Header.

LOCALS ARE CONFIDENT

The Colorado College Tigers are here with blood in their eyes, determined to whip the Cornhuskers in the two battles slated for this afternoon and tomorrow. The Tigers are now rated as the champions of the Rocky Mountain Conference and have been going strong all season. They believe they have a team that is capable of making the measure of Coach Schlusser's doughty Huskers and intend to make a public demonstration of the feat. Just how far they will get in the enterprise remains to be seen.

The Cornhuskers are eagerly awaiting another chance at the Colorado team. They are confident that they were not playing their best brand of basketball when they lost to the Tigers at Colorado Springs and express no doubt whatever as to the outcome of the games to be played in Lincoln. It seems that a certain member of the Colorado team, MacTavish by name, was largely responsible for the Tiger victory and the Huskers will concentrate their attack on this particular hooper. There is not a great deal of difference between the two teams and the games will be hotly contested.

These games will afford an opportunity for the visiting high school players to see the Cornhusker machine in action and inasmuch as it is conceded to be one of the classiest machines in the country, the chance to see them play the Colorado Tigers should not be lost. The Friday game (Continued on Page Four.)

FRESHMEN ELECT HELEN BUCK VICE-PRESIDENT

The freshmen class elected officers for the second semester Thursday morning, March 4, 1920, in Law 101. Although the cold weather and the basketball tournament as a counter attraction, kept many from attending the meeting, it was enthusiastic. Miss Helen Buck was elected vice president and Bernie Gerard, treasurer.

A complete list of the officers elected follows:
Vice-president—Helen Buck.
Treasurer—Bernie Gerard.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Fred Richards and Mary McIntosh.
Reporter—Jack Austin.
Committee appointments are not yet ready, but a complete list will be published within a week.

When the teams began to arrive Wednesday evening, each team seemed to prize its own basketball. They carried them to dinner, took the balls to the theatre, and even carried them on pleasure walks through the University buildings.

University Will Have "Hello Girl" On Campus

Many a "prof" has reached for his umbrella and failed to find it, many a "phys-ed" has opened her locker and discovered that her "gym" suit was gone, many a student has written a check to find that his bank account was a minus quantity, but it is not every day that the "Rag" editor comes to the office and finds two telephones instead of one. But, then, surprises are the spice of life.

The explanation is very simple, however. A new telephone system is being installed. A private branch exchange is to take the place of the automatics. This system is less expensive than the old. The University campus will have a private switchboard, and, when the work now under way is completed, every office will have a telephone. Those offices which have two telephones at present have been shown no partiality, however, because the new ones cannot be used until the switchboard is installed and connections made.

W. A. A. HAS CHARGE OF SELLING "EATS" AT GAMES

The Woman's Athletic Association has charge of selling candy and apples at all of the games in the high school basketball tournament. This concession has been held by the W. A. A. for three years. At all of the football and basketball games this year the co-eds with baskets on their arms have been busy on the bleachers selling their wares. The money cleared goes into the W. A. A. treasury to finance girls' sports in Nebraska.

GOVERNOR WELCOMES ROADMEN'S CONVENTION

Institute Members Hear Valuable Talks Given by Prominent Engineers.

Motor transportation and the use of trucks in building and maintaining roads was the subject of the discussion at the Thursday session of the Nebraska Road Institute in the Mechanical Engineering building. Geo. E. Johnson, secretary of the Department of Public Works, spoke on "The Use of Trucks in Building and Maintaining Roads." "Motor Operation and Transport Service" was the subject of the address of Marcus Poteet. Mr. Poteet was graduated from the university in 1916. Loyd Winship, secretary and treasurer of the Hebb Motor Company, took up motor transportation in Nebraska and Thorne Brown state railway commissioner, spoke on "Motor Transport Rates." Governor S. R. McKelvie in an address welcomed the road men and congratulated them on the work that they have been doing.

At the beginning of the afternoon session James W. Brooks, director of the Educational Bureau, federal highway council, spoke on "Model Methods in Highway Educational Work." Mr. Brooks showed two reels of scenes taken in Kentucky. One reel showed the progress that the state was making in farming, manufacturing and commercial enterprises and the second illustrated the lack of good roads in all parts of the state.

Prof. T. R. Agg, of the Iowa State College told of the construction and maintenance of gravel roads in Iowa. Prof. C. E. Mickey, of the Engineering College, gave the road men an actual demonstration of the inspection and testing of cement, brick, stone and other road materials.

The annual banquet of the institute was held in the evening at the Lincoln Hotel. Prof. O. W. Sjogren was in charge.

An attraction of the convention is the exhibition on the second floor of the Mechanical Engineering building. One exhibit is a model concrete road showing the methods of laying, finishing and curing the pavement. Every detail is clearly demonstrated. The other part of the exhibit is a block of concrete taken from the pavement of Bellefontaine, Ohio, after twenty-three years of use.

SCHISSLER'S MESSAGE TO TOURNEY VISITORS

The University Athletic Department and its coaches are more than pleased to be able to assist the State Board of Control of the High School Athletic Association in entertaining the High School teams of the state in the largest tournament in the world. I feel that every man in the tournament should derive a great deal of benefit not only from participating in the games, but from watching the various teams and their many styles of play. It is from these teams that Nebraska expects in the future to continue to reign supreme in the middle west in basketball. We are depending on you high school men for our future football, baseball and track teams and we want you to appreciate that we have in each of you a strong personal interest.

If there is anything we can do to assist you in coming here let us know any time you come to the home of the Nebraska Cornhusker we will be only too glad to meet you personally.
P. J. SCHISSLER.

TO OUR HONORED GUESTS.

The University of Nebraska welcomes you to the tenth annual basketball tournament. You will participate in the largest tournament of its kind in the world and you should be justly proud that Nebraska has taken initiative among the leading schools of the country in bringing together 1500 sterling young men of the state to contend for premier honors in each class.

This week you will meet the men of tomorrow for your responsibility will be to shape the future of this grand old state of Nebraska. Education is your greatest asset. Your high school work is the preparation for the University which is host this week to 176 teams. The University of Nebraska, with an enrollment of over 4000 students, is a mighty institution and its prestige and influence is far-reaching. We want you to become thoroughly acquainted with us in every way possible. Every department is thrown open for your inspection. During your spare moments make a tour of the campus; gain a comprehensive knowledge of the advantages offered by this school. We want you to think that the University of Nebraska is the peer of all; we know it.

Next year when you board the train for Lincoln you may be assured that the glad hand is ready to welcome you through the campus gates.

SPONSORS CHOSEN FOR R. O. T. C. "COMPET"

Co-Eds Will Gird Side Arms on Youthful Commanders Next Spring.

The following girls have been chosen to sponsor the various organizations of the R. O. T. C. unit:
First battalion—Lois Melton.
Second battalion—Bessie Yantz.
Field artillery battalion—Florence Holland.

Company A—Bessie Gunn.
Company B—Ruth Douthett.
Company C—Helen Jobs.
Company D—Gladys Burling.
Company E—Dorothy Ellis.
Company S—Grace Shepard.
Battery A—Elsie Waltemath.
Battery B—Emma Cross.
Battery C—Heby Klingler.

The sponsors were chosen by the commanders of the organizations which they are to adopt. They will act as fairy godmothers to the companies or battalions and will, on "compet" day, gird on the swords of the gallant young commanders as they go forth to lead their troops through the perils of "Squads right about," "Right front into line" and similar dangerous maneuvers.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Soiled Down for Busy Readers

Lincoln, March 4—Attorney general instructs the county attorneys of Nebraska to watch the sale of perfumes and extracts as there seems to be a decided demand for this commodity for narcotics.

Washington, March 4—New Jersey files suit against the eighteenth amendment. Bill says that amendment was improperly drawn and lacked ratification of twenty-one states.

The settlement in Russia is a great problem, says Frank Simonds, and says there is great danger in the sacrifices of Poland and Belgium.

Lincoln, March 4—Ex-Governor Morehead, who is being urged by some 300 petitioners to file for nomination for governor has until Friday to do so. After that he will lose his chance.

March 4—The coldest and worst blizzard in thirty years struck Colorado and Nebraska yesterday. Heavy snows and sleet crippled transportation and communication services.

TENTH ANNUAL BASKETBALL MEET STARTS WITH FLOURISH

Eighty-five Games Played Thursday in Opening Round of Court Classic.

ATTRACT MANY SPECTATORS

Lincoln defeated University Place in yesterday's Class A basketball scrap by the decisive score of 33 to 7. Three Omaha teams were victors in their various games, Omaha Central defeating Minden, Omaha Commerce winning over Lexington and South Omaha eliminating Shelton from the championship race.

The teams were on their mettle every minute and close scores in most cases show the careful classification which was made on the respective schools. The one-sided games were scenes of science versus dogged determination in which the former showed itself by far the better method for basketball teams to acquire.
