STOCK COMPANY PRESENTS PLAY

"Mrs. Bumstead Leigh" to be Given by University Dramatists Tonight.

FEW CHANGES IN THE CAST

"What happens when you try to be what you aren't" is the moral that is pointed out in the clever little play "Mrs. Bumstead Leigh" which the stock company will present at the Temple Theatre this evening.

"Miss Bradshaw shows remarkably fine character work—something unusual in University Players' Work," said the head of the Dramatic Department today. Melba plays the part of a social "Becky Sharp," who manages everybody and, in shadow-land language "bogs the film." Her perfect abandonment herself to the part mingled with her extraordinary intelligence makes her work very strong.

"Pete" Bushnell plays the heavy, Herbert Yenne the juvenile lead, Margaret Howes, the scion of old, aristocratic family, Jean Hudson and W. Bloomstrand the husband and wife who make a fetish of family, Mr. Sandsted the head of the family.

When the play was presented recently before the P. E. O.'s and the Tuesday Review Club, Mr. Metzinger playing the part of the rustic Pete Swallow, made a big hit. Melba also does some good character work. Jensen plays the butler, and Mildred Galaher is charming on the stage in the part of Nina.

It is the first appearance before the University audience of Marienne Gould, a very worth-while actress who has had professional work in stock.

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE HAS PROGRAM ARRANGED

Eighty Couples to be Entertained at Dinner Dance this Evening.

The stage is set. The banners are out. The trumpets will blare this evening at the rise of the curtain which opens the Junior Prom at the Lincoln Hotel. This affair will be a dinner-dance and is considered a red-letter day on the Junior social program.

Chairman Patty of the prom committee states that everything is in readiness to entertain eighty couples. The dinner will be most delicious and wholesome according to Mr. Patty. The program committee has a number of novel stunts to explode during the evening. The most dependable rhythm on the market has been secured for dancing.

The tickets retail for $5.50. The committee says "it costs more, but it's worth it."

CHUNG ADDRESSES ECONOMICS CLUB

Korean Who Took Degree at Nebraska Working for Betterment of His Country.

The Current Socio-Economic Club adopted a constitution, elected officers and discussed the Far-Eastern situation at a dinner meeting in the Blue Room of the city Y. M. C. A., Wednesday evening. Henry Chung, a Korean, who took his master's degree at the University of Nebraska and is working to improve the conditions in his own country, led the discussion.

The constitution limits the number of active members to thirty. Honorary members may be elected. Those wishing to become members should submit their application endorsed by two members. Manford Lillefors was elected president; Helen Sparks, vice-president and Julia Streeter, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Chung is making a tour of the United States lecturing upon conditions in Korea under the Japanese rule. His aim is to give publicity to the facts and in that way arouse a public sympathy for Korea, which would influence the Japanese policy. He said that Japan's treatment of Korea parallels Germany's treatment of Belgium and Turkey's treatment of Armenia, but that the world does not hear about Korea because of the close censorship Japan exercises.

"CO-EDS" WITH GUN SWELL COFFERS $300

A Powder River atmosphere was given to the Cornhusker Sales Campaign Wednesday evening, when Emma Cross, Alyne O'Laughlin, a brand new revolver, plus $300 were ushered into the student activities office.

It is exactly six blocks from the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house to the basement door of the Cornhusker business sanctum. Last night it seemed much longer as two silhouetted forms passed along the darkened streets with a heavy burden in a large money bag.

It is rumored that the "lady from Wyoming" carried the revolver all the way, with a finger on the trigger for instant's action. The other followed several paces to the rear.

No highwaymen or near-highwaymen were encountered, but it was two severely frightened girls who dropped $300 in cash and currency into the Cornhusker coffer and then sank down in the straight-backed chairs of the activities office to recuperate.

No casualties were reported after the episode, because upon examination of the gun today, it was found to contain nothing but four paper bullets. But the Cornhusker money-bag was swelled $300.

PROGRAM IS COMPLETED FOR UNIVERSITY NIGHT

The spice of University life, as presented in ten skits, with band and orchestra music will enliven the high-school auditorium April 17, University Night.

The committee met Thursday morning to consider the skits that have been submitted. George Driver, the chairman, is highly pleased with them. He said that a special effort is being made this year to make all the skits local in subject matter and to use home talent exclusively. The skits will include take-offs on University people, music, dancing and vaudeville. Three twenty-minute skits and seven curtain skits will be given.

The University band and orchestra will play. The seating capacity of the High school auditorium is 2500, and a full house is expected.

Gypsies From Sioux City Use Buicks and Haynes as Wagons

Nebraskans were greeted with a strange sight Wednesday. Seven automobile loads of Gypsies with beads, jewelry, and cigarets, were held under police control for several hours, and caused much excitement among co-eds at the University. Although Buicks and Haynes are rather expensive Gypsy wagons, yet these aristocratic wanderers had been using highly powered cars to transport them wherever fancy dictated.

The band claimed to have come from the boiling-pot of Mexico, but investigation proved that they were merely voyagers from Sioux City. They spoke many tongues, including Spanish, Italian and a Mexican dialect.

Modern fashions were displayed by the women of the band, as they proudly exhibited French heels under flared skirts of brilliant colors. Gypsies, it seems, as well as Parisians, have fallen victims to American styles. Some of the women in the party smoked long, evil-smelling cigarets. Cheap jewelry was displayed on every hand.

FINAL SALE OF ANNUALS TODAY

1900 Cornhuskers Ordered and Campaign Grows Warm Toward Finish.

Emma Cross sold one hundred fifty six Cornhuskers on the third day of the campaign and won the scarlet and cream "N" blanket given by the Cornhusker management. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority leaped into the lead at the close of the third day's campaign, with the Pi Phi's and Alpha O's a close second.

The final check Thursday night brought the grand total of Cornhuskers sold up to 1,900 books. The 2,500 goal must be reached and the girls are determined to push the sales over the mark by five-thirty tonight. Not a single Cornhusker will be sold after today at any price. It is your last chance to buy a 1920 Cornhusker. Buy TODAY.

All students on the farm campus were solicited yesterday, and a large per cent of the Ag students bought Cornhuskers right off the bat. A final effort will be made to reach every student on the city campus. If a solicitor does not reach you today, be sure to leave your order at the Student Activities office.

All subscription books should be checked into the Student Activities office by five-thirty tonight. The winner of the hundred dollar prize will be announced in Monday's Daily Nebraskan.

TRACK TEAM OFF TO KANSAS CITY

Coach Schulte Has Difficulty in Selecting Men for Indoor Meet.

INDIANS IN MILE RELAY

Tomorrow evening the track team will leave Lincoln for Kansas City where it will compete in the indoor track meet held under the auspices of the Kansas City Athletic Club.

Coach Schissler gave out a probable list but it is uncertain what men will be used and changes might have to be made.

Low hurdles, 50 yards.
Wright	6-2
Gish	6-3
Flood	6-3
Shot put
Dale	41 ft.
Reese	38½ ft.
Pole Vault
Gerhart	10½ ft.
Lees	10 ft.

For the quarter, half, mile and one-thousand yard handicap the following men are entered:

Graff, Egan, Dorn, Kenner, Williams and Kretzier.

Nebraska has the Haskell Indian school for opponents in the mile relay. McMahon will probably be the anchor man. The men for the other positions will be chosen from Owens, Metzger, Deering, and Egan.

So far not enough men have turned out for track work.

The team is handicapped by the fact that there are not enough good men to fall back on in case of injuries. It will take two or three years to build up a team but Coach Schulte has great hopes for Nebraska in the future.
