ENGINEERS ELECT OFFICERS TUESDAY

Also Choose Editorial Staff for Next Year's Engineering Publication — "Blue Print."

R. M. Tracy was elected president of the Nebraska Chapter of the American Association of Engineers Thursday evening at a meeting of the Association in the Mechanical Engineering Building. Phil Parker was chosen vice-president; H. N. Barnard, secretary; C. O. Hedges, treasurer.

The Blue Print staff for the next semester was elected by the members at the Thursday night meeting. C. T. Minnich will be editor; Lendgren, business manager; George Salter, circulation manager; H. N. Barnard, assistant editor; Robert McCandless, assistant circulation manager; R. G. Van Brunt, assistant business manager.

Prof. G. O. Virtue of the College of Business Administration gave an interesting talk on "Railway Valuation by the Federal Government."

Plans for Engineers' Week were discussed. It was voted to publish an engineers' edition of the Daily Nebraskan to appear May 5.

GENERAL AZGAPETIAN SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Splendid ensemble playing characterized the recital given by Harold H. Lewis, piano; George B. Tack, flute; and Harry Anderson, violin, at the Thursday morning Convocation.

Mr. Tack, whose ability as a flutist is well known in Lincoln, is at the head of the Chautauqua department of the University School of Music. Harold, Lewis and Harry Anderson are Seniors in the University, and are both going out as the heads of Chautauqua companies this summer.

It is to be regretted that a larger audience could not have benefitted by the well planned musical program, and the short address which followed. The proper publicity was not given, and thus many students missed out.

General Azgapetian, a native of Armenia, made an eloquent plea for the Armenian Relief. He is a graduate of an Armenian college, of a Swiss University, and Columbia University of New York. He was in the military and diplomatic service of his country for thirty years and fought with the Armenian army against the Turks for two years.

ALL-WOOL SUITS
$47.50

QUITE a number of men and young men are under the impression that a good suit of clothes will cost them around $100.00.

That is very true if you don't know where to go to buy your suit, for we understand that some firms advocate this—But here you'll find Hart Schaffner & Marx all wool suits—satisfaction guaranteed—priced with the idea of big volume—(not big profits) from $35 to $85—and the one price we wish to call your attention too, is $47.50, which includes Unfinished Worsteds, Fancy Mixtures, etc., in double or single breasted models, stouts, slims, regular and stubs.

GREEN SHIRTS POLKA DOT TIES
 FOR YOUNG MEN QUITE THE RAGE
$4.50 $1.00

Made with a button through collar. This is something different in the shirt line and has been accepted by eastern college men as a method of economy.

With the approach of spring—comes the new low collars which require ties that make very small knots, that's why polka dot foulards will be so popular.
