ENGINEERS' NIGHT

Of all the traditions of Engineers' Week, Engineers' Night is the oldest and perhaps the dearest. On this night the Engineers demonstrate to the public a few of the things that go to make up an Engineer's education.

This year Engineers' Night will be celebrated Friday evening, May 7. On this night all of the shops and laboratories will be in full swing. Both upper and lower classmen will be at their respective places, ready to explain the work they have in hand. Freshmen in the wood-working laboratories will be busy making cabinets, patterns for the foundry, turned work and other wooden articles. In the foundry all the processes required for the production of iron castings will be demonstrated.

Sophomores in the machine shops will be seen at work on various shaped castings. In the power laboratory all types of steam, oil and gas engines will be on display, together with hydraulic machinery.

In the electrical laboratories all types of electrical apparatus will be in operation. A set of wireless telephone apparatus, set up by two Junior electricals, will be featured. Experiments which at first sight appear freakish and impossible will be conducted.

The Civil Engineers will demonstrate the work done in the laboratories for testing materials. Steel rods will be twisted into bow knots, and solid steel bars will be pulled apart. A room in this department will be given over to the display of maps and drawings produced during the year.

A cordial invitation is given to all University people as well as the general public to attend all these demonstrations. We assure you that they will prove as educational as they are novel and interesting.

ENGINEERS BANQUET AT THE GRAND HOTEL

The Engineers' Banquet, to be held Saturday night, has been transferred because of the closing of the Lindell Hotel cafe service to the Grand Hotel. The toast list announced in Tuesday's Rag will all be there, and a peppy banquet is assured.

Dean Fordyce will go to Nebraska City Wednesday where he will talk to the Federation of Women's Clubs. His subject will be "New Movements in Modern Education."

Prof. R. J. Poole, chairman of the Botany Department, has gone to Salt Lake City where he will be employed through the summer as plant Pathologist and Physiologist, investigating smelter smoke damage to vegetation. Prof. J. E. Weaver will be acting chairman of the Department during the absence of Professor Poole. Dr. Poole's work in systematic botany will be taken by Dr. Elda Walker. Assistant Prof. P. B. Sear will give his lectures to Freshmen on city campus and Assistant Prof. Emma N. Anderson on the Farm campus.

The executive committee of the Lincoln Alumni Club of the state University met Saturday to plan for the largest commencement attendance in the history of the University. Another meeting will be held on the coming Saturday. They expect to have at least 1,000 there for the alumni luncheon. Those present were Chancellor Avery, President C. W. Pugsley, Secretary Louise Allen Good, chairman of executive committee, M. A. Hyde, Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin and G. E. Reed. All Lincoln alumni will be asked to act as hosts to out of town alumni.

Saturday, May 1

Chi Omega

Chi Omega was hostess to seventy-five couples at a very attractive party at the Commercial Club ball room. The ball room was decorated with bowers of cherry blossoms in the corners, Japanese lanterns furnished the light and Japanese incense burned in May baskets which hung about the room. Little Gladys Grubb and Pauline Jenkins dressed quaintly in Japanese costumes distributed favors of miniature corsages and caps to the guests. Ruby and Ruth Swenson furnished novel entertainment in the form of interpretive Japanese dances in costume. Prof. and Mrs. A. A. Reed, Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Candy, Mr. and Mrs. Colhapp, Dean Amanda Heppner, Miss Mary Annette Anderson and Mrs. W. O'Connor, chaperoned. Out-of-town guests were Josephine Stuben, Dorothy Canan, Geraldine Compton, Lais Allan and Rosanna Swenson, Omaha; Theresa Brew, Beatrice; Zeda Westerson, Minden; Elizabeth Simmons, McCook; Wilhelmena Breen, Sabetha, Kansas, and Esther Little, Lyons.

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Gamma Delta held its annual banquet at the Lincoln Hotel. Richard Stout presided as toastmaster and called on several members for impromptu speeches. A Freshman stunt and an act from the Orpheum bill this week furnished entertainment.

Delta Delta Delta

Delta Delta Delta was hostess to fifty couples at the Knights of Columbus Hall, at an informal spring dancing party. A feature of the evening was the lady in the moon who threw candy kisses and balloons down to the dancers. Two dainty little girls distributed candy to the guests from baskets of silver, gold and blue. During the intermission, ices were served.

Delta Sigma Delta

Delta Sigma Delta was host to thirty-five couples at an informal dancing party at the chapter house. The house was decorated with large baskets of red roses and carnations which were given to the guests as favors. Dr. and Mrs. Vance, Dr. and Mrs. William Coulter and Dr. and Mrs. Albrecht were invited as chaperons.

Achoth

Achoth sorority entertained ninety-five couples at an informal spring dancing party at the Scottish Rite Temple. The pillars of the ball room were wound with apple blossoms and soft shaded floor lamps carried out the decorative scheme. Out-of-town guests of the sorority for the party were Hazel Sneath, Humboldt; Elsie Hoberg, Plattsmouth; Robert Chipperfield, Dodge; Lillian Cavan, Katherine North, Alice Dean and Frances Strand, Omaha. Dr. and Mrs. Barker, Prof. and Mrs. Barbour, Dr. and Mrs. Vance, and Prof. and Mrs. Hood were invited as chaperons.
