

CUPS GIVEN FOR GRIDIRON WORK

Silver Awards Presented Winners in Different Divisions of Spring Football.

An added interest was given to the spring football practice this year by the awarding of silver cups to the best man in each particular division. Prizes were awarded in passing, goal kicking, broken-field running, punting and line play.

The final competition was held Tuesday afternoon on the athletic field with the following results:

Passing—Kenworthy, winner.
Goal kicking—Weller, winner.
Broken-field running—Howarth, winner.

Punting—Russell, winner.
Line play—Day, winner.

This is the first year that this practice has been followed out at Nebraska, and the interest probably was not as intense as it will be in the tryouts in future years. The man who stars in the football game is the man who has specialized and excels in one particular branch. With each man on the team trying out for the various positions the team on the whole will be benefited.

The purpose in giving these awards was to promote special work during the spring vacation. This last year of football demonstrated the part that special training plays. The man who went out for track showed the results in the fall.

MAY ISSUE COMPLETES BIG YEAR FOR AWGWAN

Staff of Nebraska's College Comic Finishes Last Successful Volume.

The last issue of Awgwan for this year is now ready for distribution. This issue features cartoons and the best of humor from Awgwan's contemporaries. The cover design is especially clever for this issue. It portrays the faculty, finishing up the Senior of 1920 (in the role of a sculptor).

The staff of Nebraska's comic for next year includes Gayle Vincent Grubb as editor-in-chief, Charles Gillman as Senior managing editor, Oz Black as art editor. The contributing staff is not fully selected and will not be announced until the first issue of Volume IX appears, in September, 1920. The business end of the magazine will be managed by George Maguire with Leland Fisher as assistant.

Awgwan has just completed the most successful year of its existence. It is recognized in the East as one of the standard college comics. Extracts from Awgwan appear frequently in Judge and in nearly all college comics. Awgwan has been quoted three times during the past year in "Topics of the Day" a series of humorous puns run in motion pictures before an average of fifteen million people each week. This adds to the advertisement of Awgwan and incidentally to the activities of Sigma Delta Chi of the University of Nebraska.

M. Elsie Brugger, director of kindergarten work in the Oberlin, Ohio, University Training School, will attend the 1920 University commencement exercises.

The Extension Department reports lecture dates in the state as follows:
May 25—Dean P. M. Buck, Madison.
May 26—Dean Charles Fordyce, Fairbury; Asst. Prof. G. N. Foster, Gordon.

May 27—Prof. M. M. Fogg, Davenport; Prof. H. W. Caldwell, Hordville; Dean J. E. LeRossignol, Auburn; Prof. F. A. Stuff, Pender; Asst. Prof. G. N. Foster, Randolph.

May 28—Asst. Inspector A. M. Voss, Holmesville; Asst. Prof. Donald McFayden, Sanborn, Iowa.

May 31—Dean P. M. Buck, Memorial day address, Arcadia.

The class of '06 will meet for luncheon at the Lincoln Hotel June 4 at 12:30.

Rudge & Guenzel Co

Buy Your New Suit this Week in Our

SALE--involving $40,000 Worth of Men's Clothing

Here is an opportunity to buy high grade suits at worth-while savings, just because unforeseen weather conditions left us greatly overstocked in our men's section.

EVERY SUIT IN STOCK IS INCLUDED IN THE SALE, EXCEPTING ONLY, PALM BEACH and TROPICAL SUITS. Kirschbaum, Vogue, Stratford and I System suits. Styles for both men and young men—developed in every popular fabric. Arranged in five large sale groups at

28.⁷⁵ 38.⁷⁵ 48.⁷⁵ 58.⁷⁵ 68.⁷⁵

Sale of

Men's Raincoats

Just 150 raincoats which we bought for much less than the usual amount because they were samples. Consequently you can save considerably on their purchase at their sale prices ranging from $7.85 to $28.85.

Sale of

Men's Hose

Six groups of hose ranging in price from 25c to $1.25 a pair. All are such exceptionally good values that it will be the part of economy for men to anticipate their hosiery needs for some time to come.

The STORE for MEN

HIGH PRAISE FOR R. O. T. C. MEMBERS

Military Authorities Agreeably Surprised With Work of Men at Saturday Compet.

The R. O. T. C. military authorities are unanimous in their praise concerning the manner in which the members of the infantry and artillery units exhibited their military efficiency at the annual "compet" last Saturday. "The work of the men exceeded their highest expectations," were the words of Colonel Burks Harley in discussing the maneuvers.

Commandant Hauser, in his toast at the commissioned officers' banquet Friday evening, said that if the men had done one-fifth as good last Saturday, that he would have been fully satisfied. The eleventh-hour spirit on the part of the men and officers was largely responsible for the success of the drill work by both units.

The R. O. T. C. units have been considerably handicapped by the lack of equipment this year. The men have been drilling with full equipment for the past month only and their work with the manual of arms has been almost phenomenal, according to the commandant.

All uniforms issued to the members of the units must be turned in some time this week. The rifles are to be cleaned, inspected, and checked in at the regular drill periods. The uniforms turned in this spring will be re-issued to the same men next fall. This method has met the popular approval of the majority of the men and the customary red tape and confusion will be eliminated.

"MAN FROM MEXICO" UNIQUE OFFERING

(Continued From Page One) what the director wants than University students."

The performance will begin at eight o'clock. There will be no reserved seats, and consequently those who go first will have the "pick." Students who intend to witness the presentation should take the Lancaster car.

J. Laird Warner, '16, of Wyoming; Byron Hooper, '22, of Holdrege, and Ernest H. Cornelius, '12, of Tulsa, Okla., are visitors at the Sigma Nu house.

Mrs. E. F. Edee and Gwendolyn Edee, of Pawnee, left yesterday after a few days visit with Gretchen Edee '22, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

TODAY IS SUBSCRIPTION DAY FOR CORNHUSKERS

(Continued From Page One) are or some necessity to put the campaign across.

Campaign Must be Successful

The drive on the University campus must be a success. It must go over the mark to show the rest of the state what loyalty the students hold to their school and what a desire they have to aid in its greater extension. The state will not help those who do not help themselves and, although the students will give a small percentage of the total subscription, it is necessary that they show that they have the spirit and desire to see the new memorial before the spirit of outsiders can be appealed to in any degree.

Subscriptions average approximately $35 with some running close to the thousand mark and a few over it. This shows that many have a real ambition to help Nebraska grow, to of special interest to teachers and others who desire to take up business training.

Big Summer Session

OPENS TUESDAY, JUNE 1

Best equipped Commercial Normal department in the West. Our graduates now employed throughout the Union.

Literature Free.

NEBRASKA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

(Fully Accredited)

T. A. BLAKESLEE, President.

Corner O and 14th Streets

Lincoln, Nebraska

Increase its prestige in the college world and to show the deep regard she has for her soldier dead. The spirit of patriotism has not gone below par but still has a sound foothold in the hearts of loyal Nebraskans.

W. A. A. LEADERS TO BE ELECTED TODAY

(Continued From Page One) Track—Ruth McKinney, Edith Burton.

Swimming—Martha Krogmann, Mary Hardy.

Soccer—Ruth Fickes, Adelheit Dettman.

Hockey—Margaret Ulry, Eleanor Snell.

Baseball—Mary Shepherd, Mary Herzing.

Minor Sports—Donna Gustin, Josselyn Stone.

Basketball—Ethel Hoagland, Bob Henderson.

Hike—Bernice Bailey, Katherine Wolf.

At 7:30 tonight in Woman's Hall the final meeting of the association will be held. The returns of the election will be given out, and sweaters will be awarded girls who succeeded in making their "N" in athletics at the University this year.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS ALSO AFTER PICKETT

(Continued From Page One) stated yesterday that if he did enter professional ball he would join the ranks of the Sox.

Won't Sign With St. Louis

"If I decided to break into professional circles, the White Sox is the only major league club I would care to play with. I'll not sign with St. Louis." These were Pickett's statements when queried.

Branch Rickey, head of the Cardinals, is a former college player and baseball manager. Rickey had charge of baseball at Michigan University several years ago and developed George Sisler, now star hitter and first baseman with the St. Louis Browns. The Pittsburgh Nationals dickered with Sisler, but when Rickey went to the Browns as manager he landed the Michigan wizard and Sisler soon became one of the great ball players of the American league. Two years ago, Rickey broke away from the Browns and organized a stock company which purchased the Cardinals, landing for himself the presidency of the team. Rickey is strong for college players and proclaims that the college baseball men are more amenable to discipline.