DAILY NEBRASKAN'S 1920-21 PLATFORM FOR UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

1. The Single Tax System.
2. Speedy Realization of the Greater Nebraska University.
3. Campus Democracy.

A 1920 WELCOME

It would be as poor etiquette as giving your parched throat a drink from a finger-bowl at a dinner party, if the first editorial of the year did not contain a welcome to new students at the University of Nebraska. But old welcomes become as monotonous as some "alleged" movies, and should contain something more than a mere gathering of all students into the new Husker fold. Newcomers at Nebraska University do not really become a part of this expanding manufacturing plant of education until they are imbued with Nebraska spirit. Thus, in welcoming you from every corner of Nebraska, from other states of the Union, and some of you from foreign countries, we want you to become a Cornhusker in actions and spirit, and not in name only.

A modern welcome must be full of "pep" to keep pace with the times—it must be figuratively full of "fire." If you would be true Cornhuskers forget your high school records, forget the way they play the instrument of education at Hick's Corner, and enter into Husker life with a new determination to start something new in educational circles—then when you have accomplished something original, get your idea patented!

BACK TO FULL SIZE AGAIN

The Daily Nebraskan is no longer hampered by a shell too small for the happenings at the University. The paper will again appear in six-column form much to the delight of those who frowned on the "miniature newspaper," as they called it, when authorities said five columns were sufficient early last semester.

A six-column sheet will mean just a little harder work for the reporters, but with the efficient corps of news-getters that will soon be working for the publication, the "Rag" need not fear that news will not be nosed out. "A nose for news" will be the reporters' motto, if it be a motto. This year will find the Nebraskan following the same conservative lines as before, but with a larger interest in national affairs, the theatre, special departments, and feature articles.

The drive for subscriptions will begin Wednesday unofficially and will continue in full force thruout the registration period. Subscriptions will not be hard to "pull in" when readers during the college year will have at their disposal intimate close-ups of campus life from the typewriter of the feature writer, informal accounts of the special features of college life, and humor and "hand grenades" galore.

"Filler" has been eliminated from the Nebraskan newspaper dictionary, and each story will be limited to a certain length in harmony with its relative importance considering news values.

If you see a Freshman who looks as tho he might be in need a little information, but appears too timid to ask for it, stop and tell him what he wants to know. You were once a beginner and didn't know the Pharmacy Hall from the Law Building. Show the first-year student "the ropes"; it is significant of Cornhusker spirit.

OUR 1920-21 PLATFORM.

In this first issue of the Daily Nebraskan we have printed at the head of the editorial column our platform for a bigger and better University of Nebraska for 1920-21. We have dared to concentrate our efforts on three distinct issues. More may be added to the list as suggestions are received from the students themselves.

The three issues chosen are very wide in scope—perhaps boundless. If the general idea of each can be achieved this year much will have been accomplished.

The Single Tax System has been up before the University, voted on favorably, and then dropped. But why should we drop as dead a live issue? The realization of a Greater Nebraska is being accomplished slowly but with the utmost sureness. Campus democracy is one of the greatest present needs at Nebraska where class distinction apparent at times. Student suggestions for additions to platform will be appreciated.

UNI NOTICES

Palladian.

There will be a business meeting Thursday at 12:30 p. m. All Palladians be present at hall.

Cadet Officers.

The Commandant desires to see the cadet officers of last year in his office between 10 a. m. and noon any day during the present week, in order that he may meet them, and talk over the plans for the coming year.

The following is a list of the students who were cadet officers last year. Any student whose name has been omitted through error is invited to be present:

Babeock, Edwin; Beaton, Russell; Carlson, Phillip G.; Cowley, Leonard M.; Dearmont, Richard E.; Godwin, Arden W.; Hall, Earl E.; Harley, James B.; Herring, Arthur M.; Lever, David; Nelson, Chauncey B.; Noh, Joseph G.; Northwall, Virgil E.; Osborne, Robert G.; Proebstring, James L.; Putman, Byron E.; Richards, Fred H.; Richardson, Edward C.; Salter, George S.; Tyson, James H.; Weightman, Ray; Devoe, Lowell S.; Corey, Jule F.; Freeland, John T.; Johnson, Harvey B.; Kenny, Norris G.; Lewis, Samuel A.; Maupin, Myron; Ogier, Raymond A.; Ryons, Joe L.; Schafer, Earl F.; Talbot, Richard C.

Omission in Program of Courses.

By error American History, Course 10 (old number, 2) was left out of the printed program for the first semester classes. This course will be given as usual. It is a three hour course taught by Prof. Roy E. Cochran at 2:00 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in Room 205, and is open to all.

It covers the Revolutionary period of American History, 1688-1789, and involves the French-English struggle for North America, Revolution, Independence and the making of the Constitution.

PATTY CHALLENGES HAMMOND TO DEBATE

our records and policies as man to man.

"Hammond and his associates have publicly charged:

"1. That the Student Publication Board was misled by its student members, who had allied themselves in a political combination.

"2. That Patty's newspaper experience had been limited to three weeks' business experience and that Mr. Hammond had devoted two years of faithful service to the editorial side of the Nebraskan.

"3. That the Publication Board struck a fatal blow at the morale of the Daily Nebraskan staff when it elected Patty editor.

"4. That Mr. Hammond was next in line for the position of Editor; that is if a student has served as News Editor and Managing Editor, the Publication Board naturally elects him Editor.

"The above statements are false and absolutely without basis. I shall present to that effect facts and statistics taken from the University files and records to the students tonight."

ORGANIZATIONS TO HELP NEW STUDENTS

versity Y. M. C. A. in the Temple Building is a long list of available rooms, and already those in charge have been able to place a large number of students in comfortable quarters. Judging from the work done in the past, the employment bureau, also to be found in the University Temple Building, will be able to place men students who may desire work while attending school. The Dean of Women will aid co-eds in finding employment.

In spite of the great jump in printing costs, the "N" Book will be distributed free of charge, until the supply is exhausted. Late last spring there seemed to be little hope that it would be published this year, but after considerable effort on the part of those in charge, funds were secured to cover the outlay. As it purports to be, it is a students' handbook, containing information regarding the University, its history, its organizations, and its customs, and other helps to students.

A stag for all University men has been planned by the University Y. M. C. A., both for Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The hour has been set for 7:30, and if these affairs prove to be as popular as they were last year opportunity will be given for the formation of many new acquaintances at the beginning of the new college year.

At the same time a party for women students will be held at the Women's Hall, located at Fourteenth and R streets. On Friday evening the Lincoln churches will hold their annual students' receptions, and the Chancellor's Reception will be Saturday evening.

Makes Your Education Pay

The student has thousands of opportunities to collect knowledge that may be of tremendous value later, and in order get the full value out of notes it is necessary to have a system and to follow it at the time the notes are taken. Lefax provides hundreds of bank forms, each ruled to suit the particular information to be recorded. These sheets can then be classified and filed for future reference.

LEFAX Data Sheets enable you to take to class in neat, compact form, just the information you need.
