FRATERNITY ROW LOOMS UP AGAIN

Chancellor Says University Societies Cannot Pledge High School Greeks.

Failure to Enforce this Rule Results in Penalization and Suspension.

The five men who were suspended from the Lincoln High School last spring because they were members of fraternities in the High School will be ineligible to membership in any Greek-letter fraternity in the University. This was the notification that Chancellor Samuel Avery sent to the Student Affairs Committee of Lincoln High School yesterday.

In October, 1917, every student in the High School was given a card quoting extracts from the Nebraska state law which forbids fraternities in the High School. The students stated on these cards whether they were members of any secret organization outside the bounds of the school authorities. This statement was countersigned by the parents or guardians of each student. Similar cards have been issued every year following.

Asked to Give Up Charters.

At this time the fraternities were asked to submit their charters and to dissolve. Students who failed to comply to the rules of the High School regarding membership in fraternities were suspended.

Two years ago, in 1918, the Inter-Fraternity Council passed a ruling that no man was eligible to membership in a fraternity in the University if he had at any previous time been affiliated with one in High School. Until recently this rule was not enforced strictly enough to have any effect.

This fall the Student Affairs Committee of the High School asked the Inter-Fraternity Council, through its chairman, Professor R. D. Scott, to co-operate with their efforts to force the fraternities out of the High School by enforcing its ruling that was passed in 1918. Chancellor Avery and the Board of Regents were sent a duplicate letter of the one sent to Professor Scott.

Fraternities to Be Penalized.

Chancellor Avery declared in his letter to the High School yesterday that the University fraternities will be expected to enforce this rule. Failure to do this will result in penalization of the fraternity. Any member of a fraternity who is guilty of pledging any man who is a member of a High School fraternity will be liable to suspension.

This notice of the Chancellor's has been sent to Dean Engberg, Dean Buck, the President of the Board of Regents and Professor R. D. Scott.

PATTY ASSERTS THAT CHARGES ARE UNTRUE

Patty's Statement.

"Le Ross Hammond, yesterday afternoon, refused to accept my challenge for an open debate on the Nebraska controversy, making no statement as to why he would not accept that challenge. Realizing that many of the University students have been misled by the four charges published by Hammond's friends in the Student Opinion, it was my desire to have those charges brought down to actual facts rather than left as undenied assertions.

"Their first point, that the Publication Board was misled by its student members is ungrounded. These student members voted on all candidates according to a signed recommendation by one of the deans, and claiming that the Board was misled by the student members would be claiming that a dean of the University was also connected with the political combine along with the student. University students who are acquainted with the deans in the University realize the inconsistency of such a claim. The recommendations as they were presented to the Board are on file in the Student Activities Office.

"The second charge is that my newspaper experience was limited to three weeks' business experience while Hammond had devoted two years to the editorial side of the Nebraskan. The facts taken from the

BENGSTON WILL OFFER NEW COURSE ON MEXICO

The rapidly increasing importance of Mexico, and the countries of Central and South America in international trade is causing a demand for serious study of the resources and industries of those countries. To meet this demand the Department of Geology and Geography is offering this semester Course 167, Geography of Latin America, lectures at 9:00 Tuesdays and Thursdays.

While the course is of especial importance to students of economics and to geologists and engineers, it should prove very valuable from a general culture standpoint as well. The work will be in charge of Professor N. A. Bengston who has just returned from geological work in the tropics.

YEARLING GRID MEN OUT TODAY

High School Stars Will Swell Ranks of First-Year Football Squad.

All candidates for the Freshman football squad are requested by Assistant Coach P. J. Schissler to be at the Athletic Field promptly at 3 p. m. today. It will not be necessary to bring equipment as no workout will be held but the coaches are anxious to size up the wealth of Yearling material and start the real work as soon as possible.

Never in the history of the school has been apparent such a remarkable display of Freshman football talent as greets the athletic heads this year. Many High School stars are swelling the ranks and also a large number of athletes from other colleges are registering at the University of Nebraska for the ensuing year. Numerous predictions are being circulated that the Yearling team will be capable of furnishing the Varsity outfit plenty of thrills in the daily scrimmages throughout the season. A strong Freshman team insures a strong Varsity, however, and the coaching staff is jubilant at the prospects of the Yearling squad.

Attractive Yearling Schedule.

It is the intention of the Athletic Department to frame an attractive schedule for the Freshman team. This means that they will probably clash with several of the strong state conference eleven's. The great number of candidates reporting requires considerable elimination before any eleven can be formed to furnish scrimmage practice for the Varsity. Candidates will be requested to apply at the Athletic Office for equipment and because of the numerous applicants and shortage of equipment, the most promising players will probably be given first consideration.

ALUMNI ARTISTS TO GIVE FIRST PLAY

"Daddy Long Legs" Will Be Presented in Temple Theater.

Elizabeth Brown, Ex-'21, Plays Part of Judy.

The immortal character of little Judy Abbott, one of two hundred little orphans in a machine-like asylum, will be portrayed by Miss Elizabeth Brown, in the Alumni Players' production of "Daddy Long Legs" September 18, 20 and 21.

Little blue-ginghamed Judys have laughed and sobbed their way into the hearts of thousands of theatergoers and movie fans, and more than one small listener has resolved to play the part when grown up.

"Daddy Long Legs" has just been released to the stock companies and Miss Brown, one of the aforementioned listeners, has been given the role which she has long desired.

Miss Brown attended the University of Nebraska for two years and then went to Wellesley where she will graduate next June. She played the lead in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," given here two years ago and has also starred in "Experience" and "Young America." She thus has a wealth of dramatic experience, which, correlated with her love of the part, should make her characterization of Little Judy particularly real and lovable.

The male lead, that of Daddy Long Legs will be taken by Neil Brown who did so well last year as Judge Prentiss in "The Witching Hour." Mrs. Lippett, of the "electric blue plush parlor" the over-worked inefficient, unsympathizing asylum matron is taken by Leone Mills. Eleanor Fogg and True Jack are to change into Sallie McBride and Julia Pendleton, Judy's college friends.

Other parts will be taken by Cleo Cather Young, as the pompous Mrs. Pendleton, and Elizabeth Cook, Jo La Master, Katherine and Dorothy Bickford and Helen Haverlan will be the little orphan kiddies whom Judy mothers. Louis Horn will be Jimmie McBride, the unsuccessful suitor. Clarence Clark, Rudolph Sandstedt and Essie Zumwinkle will carry minor parts.

The Alumni Players is a stock company composed of former University dramatic stars, and plans, under the

NEW TIME CARDS ARE RADICAL DEPARTURE

The new time-cards printed for the students' use this semester and without which he is unable to register, are a radical departure from those used in other years. In other years they were small yellow cards with the hours for registering and for paying fees required stamped on the end of the pasteboard.

This year they assume the proportions almost of a sample ballot. Printed on thin paper the top portion is devoted to instructions to the student in regard to registration. The hours in which he will present himself before his adviser and in Secretary Dale's office are stamped opposite the explanation.

The lower part of the card is detachable and contains a provisional study card which the student shall fill out and then take to his adviser. On the back of this detachable card are the group requirements for Freshmen and Sophomores and a list of electives. This does away with the use of so many different slips and helps to relieve the mind of the Freshmen.

FIRST FORMAL PIGSKIN PRACTICE HELD YESTERDAY ON HUSKER FIELD

No Heavy Work Prescribed By Coach Schulte for Beginning Week of School—Prospects Look Rosy.

Strong Team Must Be Moulded in Two Weeks Before Initial Game With Washburn October 2.

The first official football practice of the year was held yesterday when the Husker griders assembled on the Athletic Field. Light workouts were held both in the morning and afternoon and Coach Schulte was on the field guiding his proteges on both occasions. The Coach has prescribed no heavy work for his men for the first week of training but wants to gradually work them into excellent condition before commencing the actual grind. The Husker candidates are a fine appearing bunch of material and should develop in a short time.

More Veterans Arrive.

The latest arrivals on the scene of action are Herb Dana, Varsity end of last year, and John Pucelik, who played a line position with the 1919 team. Both Dana and Pucelik are very welcome additions to Schulte's squad as they are counted among the most promising veterans who are again donning the moleskins. Wade Munn and Ted Bogue have not yet joined the ranks but are expected to appear before the end of the week. Munn is counted as a strong candidate for a guard position. He played this position last year in excellent fashion. Bogue is also a linesman and although not a letter man is expected to show Varsity form this year.

The next two weeks must witness the moulding of a strong machine out of the material now on hand, as the season officially opens on October 2 when the Washburn team plays the Huskers on the local field. In order to accomplish this task every available moment must be utilized and consequently two workouts will be held daily at least for the remainder of this week. Hard and thorough training will be required to bring about the desired results and produce a winning team. The schedule matches the Nebraskan eleven with the greatest teams of the country and every Nebraskan believes the Cornhusker team will make a creditable showing. In order to do this no time can be lost.

Nine Straight Battles.

Beginning on October 2 the Huskers are in line for nine straight battles with no intervening rests. Such a season as this demands an early-conditioned team. The Husker officials are abiding by the Missouri Valley Conference rule in not staging any practice preliminary to registration week. It is rumored that the Colorado Aggies, whom the Huskers meet in Lincoln on October 9, have been training since early in August and accordingly expect to have an advantage over the Nebraska team. The Nebraska officials believe, however, that consistent daily practice from now on can overcome the lack of earlier training and whip the Huskers into shape for the opening date of the schedule.

CAMPUS EXPANSION IS NOW A REALITY

Many Changes Are Visible to Students Returning from Vacations.

"No Man's Land" Moves in Direction of New Cottage Dormitories.

While students have been away enjoying their vacation, with scarcely a thought of the University, the campus has taken on many changes in its appearance. The program for enlarging and building the campus to the East is well under way and will soon be completed.

"No Man's Land" Plowed Up.

"No Man's Land" of the University, which included the district between Bessey and Social Science Halls, and which tallied very closely with the description of the shell torn battlefields of France last spring, has been leveled off and plowed up, so that it now looks like a peaceful field waiting to be sown to wheat. The larger part of the field between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets is to be rolled and packed and turned into a drill field for the Military Department. This field is expected to be ready in a few days. "No Man's Land" has now moved in the direction of the new cottage dormitories.

The ground between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets has not all been cleared yet, but the present plans are to park at least a portion of it. If the requirements of the Military Department demand it, the drill field will be extended over that part too. At present there are a number of houses yet to be removed. When these are out the campus will be cleared to Fourteenth street.

Military Department Moves.

The Military Department headquarters have been moved from the Armory to Room 202, Nebraska Hall. The supply departments will be moved to the basement of Nebraska Hall where lockers are installed to accommodate the equipment of the cadets.

Football men out on the Athletic Field are watching carpenters improving the grandstands and making other improvements in the fences and gateways. New planks have been put in replacing the rotted ones all through the bleachers. In the grandstand the old boxes which were unfit for use have been torn out and new ones are being built. The entire stand is being repaired in anticipation of record crowds at Nebraska's football games.

HAMMOND SAYS STUDENTS SHOULD DECIDE DISPUTE

Hammond's Statement.

"Answering Frank Patty's challenge to a debate in connection with the referendum vote on the candidates for Editor of The Daily Nebraskan, Le Ross Hammond yesterday afternoon stated that he felt the students of the University were sufficiently acquainted with the facts in the case and that he did not consider it necessary to rehash the details of the election. Mr. Hammond stated that he believed the sole question to be determined was whether or not he had served efficiently in the capacity of Managing Editor and that he felt that the students who were the subscribers of the paper were logically the ones to decide that question.

"Mr. Hammond renewed his charges that the student members of the Publication Board influenced the election last spring contrary to the wishes of the general student body and claimed that they acted on political considerations rather than consideration of merit. Mr. Hammond further stated that one of the primary reasons for the referendum was to decide whether or not the student members had thus acted.

"In part, Mr. Hammond said: 'It is a matter within my personal knowledge that the faculty members of the Publication Board cast their votes for me in the election held last year and that the student members, Ellerbrock, Epps and Bailey and the agent of student activities, Chadderton, voted for Patty. This deadlocked the decision and one faculty member, not wishing to prolong the meeting, switched his vote to Patty.

"I wish to point out that Mr. Bailey is a fraternity brother of Mr. Patty's and that Ellerbrock, Chadderton and Epps were members of other fraternities which for some time had been allied with Mr. Patty's fraternity in political combination. I wish to renew my charge that these members were influenced by consideration of this combination rather than considerations of merit in their decision, and that as a result they directly misrepresented the students who elected them. Whether this is true or not, the referendum will decide.

"I regret very much that Mr. Patty has forced me to again bring these unpleasant charges to light but I feel that the present dispute involves a question which must be settled once for all. I do not feel that the University can expand and grow without
