MISS LULU MANN WILL TRAIN FRESHMEN GIRLS

Cornhusker Graduate in Charge of First-Year Work in Physical Education.

Miss Lulu Mann will be the instructor in charge of all the Freshman work in the Physical Training Department. She was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1918, after spending her first two years at Ames College, Ames, Iowa. It was while she was at Ames that she received her inspiration to enter the Physical Training field from Miss Tilden who is quite well known in gymnasium work, and who is now the head of that department at Ames.

After graduating from Nebraska Miss Mann was instructor of Physical Education at the High School at Aurora, Ill. She also supervised such work in the grade schools. In the summer of 1919 she took work in the Physical Training School in the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Mann intends to divide the work in Physical Education for the first year students equally between formal gymnasium and recreative work.

While attending the University as a student Miss Mann was especially interested in Y. W. C. A. activities and the Girls' Club.

Professor Max Westerman spent the month of August at Pelican Lake with Phineas Spaulding.

AWGWAN will not be out until next week, because of delay in assembling copy.

PATTY ASSERTS THAT CHARGES ARE UNTRUE

files of the Daily Nebraskan show that I served 131 days on the paper, or six times their claim; that Hammond worked 212 days, or only 38.8 per cent of the two years credited to him.

"Their third charge, that the Publication Board struck a fatal blow at the morale of the Daily Nebraskan by my election is untrue. A canvass of the incoming staff shows that they are all willing to give their best efforts to the Nebraskan if I am re-elected as its Editor. Does this look as if the Board had struck a fatal blow at the paper's morale when 100 per cent of the staff will work for me in case of my reinstatement?"

"Lastly, in stating that the Managing Editor is naturally elected Editor according to Nebraskan tradition and precedence, my opponents show complete ignorance of past Nebraskan history and newspaper customs in general. Taken from the Nebraskan files from 1905 up to the present date are the following statistics:

"1. Of thirty-two editors elected since 1905, nine or only 28 per cent have been promoted from Managing Editors to Editor.

"2. Thirteen or 40 per cent never worked a day on the paper before their election.

"3. Ten had served on the Daily Nebraskan staff but were elected over the Managing Editor.

"These four statements on which Hammond claims his priority to editorship being false, upon what is the claim based that he is the only man for the position?"

HAMMOND SAYS STUDENTS SHOULD DECIDE DISPUTE

a united student body co-operating at all times. If it is possible for a group of students to form a political combination and place men of their own number in important offices regardless of the qualifications of students outside their combination, such co-operation can never be secured.

"I believe such a move has been attempted in the present instance and I believe the students through the present referendum will decisively voice their objections to such tactics."

(Signed) LE ROSS HAMMOND.

WEDDINGS.

A marriage of interest to University people, which took place in Omaha Wednesday was that of Miss Katherine Sturtevant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sturtevant, to Dr. Elmer Bantin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bantin. Rev. Arthur Atack performed the ceremony which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents. Pink and white asters were used through the rooms.

Miss Margaret McCoy, sorority sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of pink georgette and carried pink roses.

The bridal gown was of white satin combined with lace, and the bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Clarence Bantin, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. E. P. Berryman played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held for the wedding guests. The bride's traveling suit was of dark blue duvetyn trimmed with squirrel fur and with which a small duvetyn hat was worn.

The bride attended the University and is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Dr. Bantin was graduated from the University College of Medicine and is a member of Nu Sigma Nu fraternity.

Dr. and Mrs. Bantin have gone on a western trip and will be at home after October 1 at 2930 North Twenty-fifth street, Omaha.

TAKES CINDER FROM EYE OF AMERICA'S SWEETHEART

Jessie Beghtol Lee, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and formerly instructor in physical training at the University, is now a feature writer for the Chicago Evening Post, under the name of Gretchen Lee. Recently she gained considerable newspaper celebrity under the caption, "Million-Dollar Eyelash and a Nebraska Girl," in an article giving an account of her taking a cinder from the eye of Mary Pickford, when sent to interview Mary and Douglas Fairbanks.

As instructor in physical training, she extracted cinders from the eyes of Nebraska college girls almost daily, and her skill and experience served her well when she found Mary Pickford looking unhappy, with her hand at her head, and came to the rescue of the "finest left eye in America."

100 FRESHMEN CAPS SOLD ON WEDNESDAY

First-Year Men Appear on the Campus in Emerald Array.

Green caps for Freshmen men were put on sale Wednesday morning in University Hall and over one hundred caps were purchased at one dollar each from members of the Innocents Society who have the sale in charge. It is expected that the 775 caps on hand will be disposed of before Saturday night after which time authorities do not wish to hold them.

In 1919 a feature column on the first page of the Daily Nebraskan contained a few paragraphs of pithy remarks about Freshmen caps.

A Patriotic Act.

"It is patriotic to wear the green cap, symbolic of one of Nebraska's most sacred traditions," reads one of these paragraphs.

Another bit of advice to Freshmen explained that those who wear the caps will not be laughed at, but those who refuse to don them will be frowned on.

The cap is usually worn only until the Olympics when the first-year class meets the Sophomores in the annual class scrap. If the Freshmen are victorious they earn the right to discard the skull cap; if they lose the struggle they must wear the "green" until the first furies of snow.

"These green caps will make fine additions to the Freshmen's baseball outfit later in the spring," said one of those who were in charge of the sale of the headgears yesterday.

LINCOLN GIRLS PICKED TO RIDE IN BIG PARADE

Eleanor Talbot, Latta Watson, Flavia Waters and Florence Garbut have been chosen from the younger set to represent Lincoln and to ride in the Lincoln float which will be one of the many elaborate and beautifully decorated floats in the big Ak-Sar-Ben parade in Omaha. The Ak-Sar-Ben festivities will be held the last two weeks in September.

The girls spent Saturday in Omaha to assist in the planning and arrangements for their costumes.

ALUMNI ARTISTS TO GIVE FIRST PLAY

direction of Professor Alice Howell, to give several plays during the year. University productions are usually given on Friday or Saturday night, but the privilege of a Monday and Tuesday night performance has been given the Alumni Players.

The manuscript has a high royalty price of one hundred and fifty dollars and for this reason tickets will cost fifty cents. They may be bought and seats may be reserved at the Ross P. Curtice Music Store.

"Daddy Long Legs" is a sure-cure-for-the-blues-play and with the all-star cast, an excellent performance is assured.

Awgwan--Nebraska's Passing Show--To Make First Appearance Soon

"Subscribe for the Awgwan?" "Awgwan, what's that?"

The Awgwan is Nebraska's college comic, and that it contains all of the choicest wit and humor of the campus, is the explanation of the solicitor of the magazine.

In this way many new students on the campus are getting acquainted with Awgwan and are digging up their two dollars for subscription.

The first issue will be out the middle of next week, and more than a dozen solicitors are out on the campus campaigning for a big subscription list with the distribution of the first number.

"The End of the Glorious Parade," is the title of the cover page of the first number, and chronicles the end of the parade of summer vacation joys. It is printed in four colors. The inside pages of the magazine are filled with the pleasantries of the college life depicted in cartoons, in jokes and every other conceivable way. The editors promise to make this year's Awgwan the liveliest and cleverest yet and promise no disappointments with this first issue.

The subscription price for the nine issues of this year is two dollars, and may be paid to the solicitors or at the Student Activities office. Single copies will be on sale at news stands and at Station A in U Hall for twenty-five cents.

NO FIXED CONVOCATIONS PLANNED FOR THIS YEAR

According to University authorities, no regular morning convocations at eleven o'clock will be part of the college schedule. From time to time various special convocation hours will be arranged, but no definite program has been mapped out at this time.

Rachel Trester, '20, will take graduate work at Smith this year.
