SCHOLARSHIP REPORT FOR SECOND SEMESTER ANNOUNCED SATURDAY

Farm House Again Wins First Honors in Race for More Learning—Delta Zeta Leads Sororities.

Delta Tau Delta Awarded Hainer Cup Given Highest National Greek-Letter Social Fraternity—Positions Shifted.

Farm House carried away first honors in the scholarship race at the University the second semester of last year. The report was issued by Dean C. C. Engberg Saturday night and shows Farm House to have a rating of 290.4 for the term. Bushnell Guild was second with a rating of 250.5 and Kappa Delta Phi, a local organization, third with 246.5.

Delta Tau Delta won the Hainer scholarship cup given the national Greek-letter social fraternity having the highest scholarship record during the school year.

Xi Psi Phi, professional dental fraternity, jumped from seventh place during the first term to fourth the second semester. Alpha Gamma Rho dropped from third to fifth place.

Delta Zeta Spilled the Dope. In the sorority race the second semester and leaped from eighth place to first. Alpha Xi Delta which led the first term slumped to seventh position. Pi Beta Phi dropped from second to thirteenth place.

Kappa Alpha Theta soared from eleventh place to fourth in the list and Achuth rose from fifth to second, surpassing Delta Delta Delta which ranked third the second semester.

The new reports show that those not connected with fraternities or sororities stand much higher in scholarship than those affiliated with such societies. It is hoped that the restless period of last year is over and that scholarships for 1920-21 will be much higher.

Dean Engberg's Comment.

Dean C. C. Engberg commented as follows upon the new report:

"In looking over the scholarship data compiled for the past years the following comparisons might be made:

"The scholarship of non-fraternity men, although very low the first semester, was slightly higher than for the past four years, while in the second semester it was the highest yet reached.

"The fraternity men stood lower the first semester than ever before, and in the second semester, lower than they had since 1913.

"The scholarship rating of the women, both sorority and non-sorority was the lowest it had been for five years.

"The higher record made by the non-fraternity men as compared with the lower record of the fraternity men indicate the results of the well known over indulgence in social affairs that so seriously affected the scholarship of the Greek-letter groups last year. The poor standing of the sororities was due to practically the same conditions.

"The Hainer scholarship cup given to the national Greek-letter social fraternity having the highest standing this year goes to the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. It is interesting to note that this fraternity is ninth on the list, that its scholarship is 120 points below that of the leader, the Farm House, and thirty-four points below the non-fraternity average."

REGISTRATION MAY PASS 7,000 MARK

Incomplete Figures Saturday Show Enrollment of 5,321 Students—1,000 More Expected.

Registration at the University of Nebraska which closed Saturday afternoon is larger than any other previous enrollment in the history of the institution, even running higher than the record-breaking record made last year when returning soldiers and a double Freshmen enrollment nearly swamped the capacity of the school.

At the close of the regular three day registration period Saturday the total enrollments entered were 5,321. This figure includes the registrations to date at the Medical College in Omaha but does not include the large registrations at the various agricultural schools and sub-stations of the University, nor the registrations in the extension departments. The record breaking registration of 1919 showed for the same period a total of 3,423.

Delayed registration of students coming from distant points, those waiting to arrange entrance credits, etc., will continue well into the first week of school, officials of the advisory staff state. Last year the delayed enrollments for the first thirty days totaled nearly a thousand different names and indications are that practically the same number are on the waiting list or are to be expected this fall. Future enrollments, in

RHODET SCHOLAR CHOSEN SOON

Committee of Selection Will Choose Lucky Man September 27.

Nebraska's Rhodes scholar will be elected September 25 at a meeting of the Committee of Selection at the University. Each college in the state named a candidate last spring. From this group of students the final selection will be made.

The lucky candidate will go to school at Oxford half the time and will be furnished with 300 pounds or about $1,500 a year for expenses. This is quite sufficient if economy is practiced and the student may plan his work so that at least a part of the summer may be spent touring interesting points on the European continent.

Dr. Lees has information in regard to the scholarship and Professor Rice is a member of the Committee of Selection.

PATTY ELECTED EDITOR IN CLOSE RACE, 714 to 640

Frank Patty was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Daily Nebraskan over Le Ross Hammond after a four-day balloting by students as they paid their fees in the office of the Registrar. The vote was 714 to 640.

The referendum was decided upon to select the Editor-in-Chief after the appointment of Patty by the Publication Board last spring had been contested by a number of students.

Both candidates electioneered on the campus Saturday and all those who were in school last year were urged to cast their ballot.

SPIRIT FINE IN VARSITY RANKS

First Signal and Scrimmage Practice Will Begin This Week, Says Schulte.

With the second week of gridiron practice for the Husker Varsity almost here, the Schulte warriors are beginning to turn their attention to the training details designed to put them in trim for their clash with Washburn College, Topeka, Saturday, October 2. This is the opening contest of the big 1920 schedule. Preliminary practice ended last week. Two formations a day have been the order for a time.

Before the end of next week the Husker demons will have had their first whirl at scrimmaging. Beginning Monday afternoon the candidates will be running signals. Next Saturday afternoon will see the annual mixup between Varsity and Freshmen squads. The gates to the field will be thrown open for this battle which in a measure will determine the prospects of the season.

Wade Munn, veteran guard, and Ted Bogue, tackle, are due to don the moleskins Monday and their addition to the squad will boost the Varsity to about forty men. Coach Schulte declared Saturday that the spirit being displayed is decidedly encouraging and that this spirit is pervading the entire Husker camp.

The Yearling squad migrated to the State Farm campus Saturday, forty strong, and were given a stiff three hours' workout by Assistant Coach Schissler. Schissler reports that he has a wealth of backfield material but lacks line candidates. Development of the 1920 Freshmen squad will be an important job. John Pickett will assist Schissler drill the football "freshies."

SENSATIONAL RUSHING SEASON ENDS FOR NEBRACKA SORORITIES

Pi Beta Phi Pledges Twenty-two, Delta Gamma Twenty and Kappa Alpha Theta Sixteen.

Some Lists Are Yet Incomplete—Concludes Strenuous Week for Both Upperclassmen and "Rushes."

The pledging of a large number of girls by the Nebraska sororities Saturday was the outcome of the busy half-week of "rushing." Pi Beta Phi pledged the largest number, twenty-two; the Achuths pledged four, and the numbers pledged by the other sororities range all the way from four to twenty-two. Some of the lists are incomplete.

Special effort was made to avoid error in delivering the invitations. Members of the Pan-Hellenic Board, Miss McPhee, Miss Pound, Mrs. Deusch, Mrs. Hyde and Miss Heppner, assisted by Mrs. Ray De Putron and Mrs. J. H. Avery accompanied the girls who delivered the invitations. Two years ago the messenger lost invitations entrusted to him and they were later found in a barn.

After the formalities the pledges were entertained in various informal ways including dinners and theater parties.

A majority of the pledges and the members of the sororities met for the first time during "rush" season. A concentrated effort was made to get acquainted in those three days, but many feel that the time was too limited. As a result some will be pledged later in the year. The inconvenience of the sorority members and the "rushes" meeting each other such a short time before pledging is partially removed by mutual recommendations. The "rushes" name is usually suggested in the summer by an active or alumna member of the sorority and carefully recommended. The same person stands as a recommendation of the sorority to the "rushes."

In some schools no girl is pledged until the end of the first semester. In others the "rushing" season lasts three weeks. Some give formal parties while others depend upon becoming acquainted with the girls in the ordinary routine of school life.

The pledges announced Saturday follow:

COUNCIL HOLDS UP FRATERNITY LISTS

High School Row Causes Delay in Giving Out Greek Pledge's Names.

Greek-letter fraternities at the University were not permitted to make known the lists of their pledges at the close of rushing season, according to announcements received Saturday. This follows on the heels of the row over pledging of high school fraternity men which is against the state laws.

Action by the Inter-Fraternity Council is a result of the resolutions passed by that body wherein all of the fraternities agreed not to accept any high school students who had previously been affiliated with secret societies in their high schools.

Will Investigate Matter.
The Council desires to have two or three days to investigate the list of

OVER 600 ATTEND FIRST RECEPTION

Chancellor and Mrs. Avery Extend Welcome to New Students in Art Hall.

Between six and seven hundred students, members of the faculty and administrative force of the University attended the annual reception given by Chancellor and Mrs. Avery Saturday evening in Art Hall.

New students predominated in the crowd, which filled the room between eight and ten o'clock. The reception was one of the largest and most pleasant in all the forty years since its institution. Nearly all of the faculty members were present and became acquainted with many of the students who are attending Nebraska University for the first time.

Miss Florence I. McGahey and Chancellor and Mrs. Avery greeted the guests as they entered the room.

Refreshments were served by the wives of the deans who were assisted by several of the newer members on the faculty. Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Fordy, Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Lyman served during the first hour. During the second hour, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Le Rossignol, Mrs. Seavey and Mrs. Clyde Davis served. They were assisted by Misses Wyman, Runge, Redford and McKinnon, and Mesdames Heffley and Luebs.

First All-University Event.

The reception was the first all-University event this year and many acquaintances were formed during the evening. Small reception lines were formed in a hurry by some of the students. These usually broke up into groups before long and others took their place, only to turn into a hum of conversation.

The Chancellor's reception has become a cherished institution in the University. The first one was held a out forty years ago. Chancellor and Mrs. Avery have never missed a year in greeting the students in this
