VARSITY TEAM IN SCRIMMAGE

YEARLINGS TO MIX WITH VARSITY TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

FIRST GAME NEXT WEEK

CRIMSON SWEATERS MAKE SHOWING FOR FIRST TIME.

Line Scrimmage Forms Main Part of Practice Work in Steady Workouts.

Clad in the crimson sweaters of old and regular football equipment for the first time this season, Coach Schulte's gridiron warriors were put through a stiff workout on the athletic field last night preparatory to the Varsity-Freshmen battle slated for tomorrow afternoon. The squad has been enjoying comparatively easy work up to date as Schulte desired to run no risk of early staleness and the temperature has been such that heavy equipment has been impracticable. From now on the work will go forward in earnest as the opening game of the season is scheduled for one week from tomorrow.

Line scrimmage work was stressed by Schulte in the practice session yesterday. Two opposing lines were formed and various backfield performers charged through the line. All in all, it was the most business-like session that has been on the Husker program since the beginning of the 1920 campaign and there is no doubt but that it will be repeated many times throughout the season. Another week of steady practice such as was held yesterday and the Huskers will be in prime condition to meet the Washburn eleven when they journey to Lincoln on October 2.

Washburn Team Strong.

And just a few words in regard to this Washburn tribe. The prevailing sentiment of the campus seems to indicate that the Huskers are in line for an easy battle in their initial contest. But the Washburn eleven is not to be despised and belittled to such an extent that the Nebraska team becomes over-confident. Many football games are lost in this manner and in this case, over-confidence is decidedly out of place. The Kansas school is represented by an exceptionally strong gridiron eleven. The team of last year was a winner, holding Kansas to a scoreless tie and winning from the majority of the schools in the Kansas State Conference. The 1920 team is composed chiefly of veterans of last year and will present a very formidable array of football performers against Nebraska. The Huskers are due for a hard battle when they meet Washburn.

DAILY WORKOUT GIVEN TO FIRST YEAR SQUAD

COACH SCHISLER TRAINS FIRST-YEAR MEN ON FARM CAMPUS.

The Freshman squad under the watchful eye of Coach Schissler has been working out daily during the past week at the University Farm and is in good condition for the game with the Varsity tomorrow afternoon. Coach Schissler reports that his men will give the Varsity a real battle and the game will not be a track meet as some of the students think.

The game Saturday will not be a regulation game but one that should be full of thrills for both the participants and the crowd. It will consist of six quarters of ten minutes each. Coach Schissler plans to use his first string men for the first three quarters then put the rest of the men in at intervals so that all the squad will get a chance to show what they can do under fire.

The following men are candidates for the end positions on the team: Maxwell, Miller, Long, Bieser, Reed and Clemke. Tackles: Toft, Odum, Thompson, McGlasson and Scott. The guards are: Farrell, Epp, Thompson, Benish and Dunham. Centers: Moser, Peterson and Thomas. There is a wealth of material for backfield positions but the most promising men are Lewellyn, Lamb, Mockett, Morgan, Noble, Clemke, DeWitz, Milham, Higgins and Norris. This is not a complete list but will give some idea of

"BIG SISTER" PICNIC IS AT ANTELOPE PARK

The first "Big and Little Sisters" get-together of the year will be held Saturday at Antelope park. It is urged that every "Big Sister" bring her "Little Sisters" and also the Freshmen girls who as yet do not have "Big Sisters" are urged to come, and get acquainted. The Senior Girls' Advisory Board have been attempting to see that every Freshman shall have a "Big Sister" for the year but owing to the fact that, in some cases credentials were sent in late, some of the Freshmen have not as yet met their "Big Sisters." The Board intends to have all the "Big Sisters" in touch with the Freshmen girls by Friday night but the Freshmen should get their tickets anyway and come. Tickets for the breakfast are twenty-five cents and will be on sale on the campus and may also be procured at Woman's Hall, Friday. In case of rain, the "get-together" will be held at Woman's Hall. Otherwise, be at the pavilion at Antelope park at nine o'clock. Take the Normal street car at 13th and O streets at eight-thirty A. M. Freshmen, come and get acquainted.

NEW CAPTAINS ARE APPOINTED

R. O. T. C. Organizes Temporarily Into Eight Infantry Companies.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FOR UNDER-CLASSMEN.

The organization of the R. O. T. C. has been partially completed, and in another week both the instruction work and the cadet regiment will be on a fairly well established footing. The large registration necessitated a change in the organization from a four company battalion to a two battalion regiment, each battalion having four companies. The following table shows the old and new designations of the various companies. All students who registered for instruction are cautioned to note the change in the designation of the company for which they registered.

Company "A," meeting at eight Monday and Wednesday, and Tuesday at five, has been divided into two companies, the first two platoons being called Company "A," the third and fourth platoons being now called Company "B."

Company "B," meeting at eight Tuesday and Thursday, and Tuesday at five, is now called Company "C."

The company at the College of Agriculture is now called Company "D."

Company "C," meeting at eleven on Monday and Wednesday, and Tuesday at five, has been divided into two companies, the first two platoons being called Company "E," and the third and fourth platoons being called Company "F."

Company "D," meeting Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at five, has been divided into two companies, the first two platoons being called Company "G," and the third and fourth platoons being called Company "H."

The appointment of cadet officers is tentative, and the appointments and assignments made so far are shown below. A number of assignments of cadet officers have yet to be made from available material, and there remain enough vacancies in both the commissioned and non-commissioned grades to make it worth while for every man interested to try his best to make good.

Commanding the Cadet Regiment—Lieutenant Colonel J. B. Harley. Regimental Adjutant—Captain R. C. Talbot.

Commanding the 1st Battalion—Vacant.

Adjutant 1st Battalion—Captain Jule F. Corey.

Commanding Company "A"—Captain J. F. Tyson.

Commanding Company "B"—Captain C. B. Nelson.

Commanding Company "C"—Captain R. Weightman.

Commanding Company "D"—Captain A. W. Goodwin.

Commanding the 2nd Battalion—Vacant.

New Version of "Drink to Only With Thine Eyes" By a Coke Hound

"Drink and be merry for tomorrow you may die." They stroll around the shady walks hand in hand or otherwise, and she says with a sigh as she shops her sweating brow—GOSH!!! but I'm THIRSTY! And so he, who is forever solicitous of her every wish, says: "Sure we'll get a drink and then you'll feel better."

She takes a new lease on life, as it were, and her hopes rise to the heights—she visualizes a nice sticky "Perfecto" or a "Home-Style" and her mouth begins to water.

He leads her gently but firmly down the walk until they arrive at the spot where many a fetching scene has taken place—the drinking fountain near the Library and the sundial—you know where! In a lordly way he says—the drinks are on me—take all you want! The Coke-hound gives him a black look which withers him completely and says, "I guess I'm not thirsty any more, so save your money for a rainy day—you'll need it."

CURTAIN.

COMMITTEE OF 200 EXPLAINS ITS WORK

Program of Religious Forces on Campus Divided in Six Parts.

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. CO-OPERATE IN PROMOTING WORK.

Everyone is asking these days, "What is the Committee of Two Hundred?" There has been so much activity on the campus during the last week directed by these campus luminaries that this question logically comes to the minds of the students.

The Committee of Two Hundred is essentially a unification of all of the work of the religious forces on the campus. Last spring through the efforts of the student pastors of the University and the work of the secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., a program was consummated which unified the work of the different organizations, which in years past have worked separately. All the work of the campus has been divided into six parts:

New Student Work and Religious Affiliation.
Religious Education.
Community Service.
Life Work Guidance.
Friendship and Administration for Women.
Personnel and Administration for Men.

One department is taken by each one of the student pastors and the two association secretaries. In this way there is no conflicting or overlapping of the work and each department can be handled more efficiently and completely.

During registration week the Committee of Two Hundred held a banquet on Tuesday evening before registration began and seated 120 students who had returned one day early to help new students get located and to assist the Senior Girls' Advisory Committee in giving new students a most royal welcome to the University.

A most extensive program has been planned by the Committee of Two Hundred during the year to come and they cordially invite any religious organization to become represented in their number. There is no restriction of race or doctrine or religious affiliation. It is a movement which includes all denominations or churches and they may have representation.

MISS LAURA PFEIFER RETURNS FROM TRIP

Visits Central Europe in Four Months' Stay Given to Research Work.

TELLS OF UNSETTLED CONDITIONS ACROSS OCEAN.

Miss Laura B. Pfeiffer, Assistant in European History, returned last Wednesday from a four months visit in Switzerland, Germany, France and England. Most of her time was spent in Paris, doing research work in the libraries there, mainly Bibliotheque, National and Arsenal National. Her work was over the late French Revolution, the period of Constitutional Monarchy, which lasted less than a year. She brought back material which will take her over a year to work over.

She says conditions in Europe are unsettled as the result of the war and that Americans know nothing of the hardships that war entails and, compared with European countries, the United States has not suffered at all. The French are still eating black bread and are on sugar rations. Butter is scarcely to be had. All foods are very high for the French, but for Americans living in Paris it is not, because of the rate of exchange. An American can buy fourteen francs for a dollar, when normally five francs are sold. For the French, living conditions are extremely difficult because of the low value of their money. Clothing is not as high there as in America.

French Fear Another War.

The French have suffered from the war, not only in the loss of population, but in the loss and derangement of business, loss of income and loss of health due to the hardships and shocks endured in the war. Miss Pfeiffer says the French live in constant fear of another war with the Germans. In Germany she says all you hear is the next war with France. She also says that the League of Nations has done lots to help improve that condition.

The French people don't say much. They just want to be left alone to work out their own salvation, and to be given an opportunity. The French are encouraging industry and are proceeding to rebuild their lost fortunes and their destroyed areas.

Miss Pfeiffer spent some time on the battlefields, particularly Verdun.

MISS BULLOCK HEADS EXTENSION DIVISION

Miss Flora Bullock, former instructor in the English Department of the School of Agriculture, is the new head of the correspondence courses in English which are sent out by the University Extension Division.

Miss Bullock is a resident of Lincoln. She received her A. B. degree at Nebraska University in 1897 and her M. A. degree two years later. While in school she assisted in the first Journalism courses given at Nebraska University.

During the years 1899-1901, Miss Bullock was instructor in the School of the Blind at Nebraska City. Her next work was the organization of the classes in English at Nebraska Agriculture School and she remained there as instructor until this summer.

Miss Bullock was Literary Editor of the Hesperian, '95-'96, charter member of the English Club, and a member of the Palladian Society. She has written many special articles for local papers and is the author of the book, "The Old Town on the River." She is also one of the composers of the song, "Old Nebraska."

COMMITTEES FOR BIG PARTY OUT

Washburn Football Game to Precede Rally at Armory for All Students.

FIRST ALL-UNIVERSITY GET-TOGETHER OCTOBER 2.

The first All-University party of the school year has been scheduled for the evening of Saturday, October 2. ROUND TRIP TO BE GIVEN FREE

FOOTBALL SEASON TICKET DRIVE COMMENCES NEXT TUESDAY.

GOAL IS SET AT 5,000

LUCKY SOLICITOR MAY CHOOSE BETWEEN JAUNT AND CASH EQUIVALENT.

Person Getting Largest Number of Subscriptions Has Chance to See Big Eastern Games.

A round-trip fare to New York City, including tickets to the game with Rutgers, November 2, and the struggle with Penn State at State College, Pennsylvania, November 6, or its equivalent in cash, which will amount to more than $100, will be the prize given the solicitor who sells the largest number of season football tickets in the big drive that begins Tuesday and closes Friday evening.

The mammoth campaign will be under "full steam" on the campus by a mighty corps of ticket-sellers by Tuesday morning, September 28. Each ticket is priced at five dollars. The goal set in the drive is 5,000 paste-boards, because every Husker is expected to purchase a book of passes.

Price is Negligible.

Five dollars is a small sum to pay for six home games chosen from the stiffest Cornhusker schedule ever arranged, and including clashes with Notre Dame, Homecoming Day, October 16, and with Michigan Aggies, November 20. Washington State plays Schulte's warriors on the Athletic Field November 25, Thanksgiving Day.

Every school organization is called upon to help put the campaign "over the top." This is a big way to justify the existence of campus organizations. Each society will be allowed to get behind one man or woman if they desire and "push" them for the free trip.

Solicitors have been instructed to issue cards entitling their owners to the season ticket booklets, after the purchasers have paid over their five dollars. These cards must then be exchanged for season tickets at the Student Activities office.

The most important reason why every student at the University should purchase a season ticket to all the home games is the fact that this gives him an opportunity to look the University in the face—to "see her as others see her"—to see the whole University together.

CONSTRUCTION ENGINEERS START PRACTICAL DRILL

FORTY MEN TO WIELD PICK AND SPADE DURING CLASS TIME.

Not every man who comes to the University has the opportunity to dig ditches, lay pavement, build bridges and get credit for it. Fortunately are the forty men enrolled in engineering construction who will have the chance to ply pick and spade during the two hours of class period. They will receive laborers pay for their work.

Practical engineering work of this kind, although new at Nebraska, has been tried successfully in eastern schools. Prof. W. H. Pahl, who has arranged the course, believes that the engineering student should know something of the work that the common laborers must do in order that he may handle the men more intelligently when he is handling a gang.

No student will be allowed to sluff on the job. Credit will be given only to hard workers and those who have an inclination to rest often will be weeded out. Notes will be required and an examination given at the end of the semester on the work covered. Thus far, only class work has been attempted in the new course, but field work will be arranged as soon as possible.

This field of engineering is entirely new to Nebraska University. If found to be successful it will no doubt be continued as a regular course in the College of Engineering. The work has not yet begun but the plan calls for the first instruction within the next two weeks.
