

The Daily Nebraskan

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

Published every day except Sunday and Monday during the college year. Subscription, per semester, $2.50.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Frank Petty	Editor-in-Chief
N. Gary Spaulding	Managing Editor
Dorothy Barkley	Associate Editor
Jack Smith	News Editor
Gregg McBride	Acting News Editor
Herbert Brownell	Acting News Editor
John W. Quinn	Sports Editor
Carl G. Gorman	Sports Editor
Bob M. Buchanan	Business Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Evelyn L. Bushong	Business Manager
James F. Fiddick	Circulation Manager

News Editor for this issue

GREGG McBRIDE

A GREAT BEGINNING.

Nebraska's victory over the strong Washburn eleven was a great beginning for a great season. The team showed us last Saturday, that what we have surmised is true. That the 1920 Cornhuskers are potentially one of Nebraska's strongest teams and that they are going to deliver the goods in the greatest of all Nebraska football schedules.

DOWN WITH THE BAR FLIES.

Did you notice that bunch of loyal Cornhuskers at the game Saturday carelessly standing on perilous peaks of coal in order to see and cheer their team to victory. At first sight we mistook them for a class of geology students, but upon closer observance saw by their nonchalant attitude that we were mistaken. They did not even have that excuse for not buying tickets and attending the game with the other students. And so the five berries are still glued to their pockets and their names are absent from the list of loyal Huskers. They are the same type of men who, in the days of King Bacchus bought a nickel drink and ate a dollar's work of pretzels and then complained because the pretzels were stale. DOWN WITH THE BAR FLIES.

CORNHUSKER SPIRIT WAS THERE.

Nebraska rooters were there—3,500 strong. And that's not all. Cornhusker spirit and enthusiasm was there, the willingness to shout, to yell, to sing. Can you beat it, 3,500 pair of lusty willing Husker lungs to greet the 1920 team at the opening game of the year. The Washburn team spoke of our fine spirit, the alumni are talking about it, the team and the coach are greatly encouraged by the new enthusiasm displayed by the students.

Those who have any doubts about Nebraska's spirit had them dispersed at the game Saturday. It looked great to see the entire south grandstand jammed with cheering students. As a result of the large student crowd at Saturday's game it is probable that a section of the north grandstand will have to be reserved for student ticket holders. Student teamwork in the rooting was greatly in evidence and next to teamwork on the field it stands out as the greatest asset to a football team. The teamwork of the student body demonstrates that Cornhusker spirit is running high at old Uni and the rooters are back of the team—win or lose.

At the first rally of the year Friday night the students decided to adopt the custom of standing in their places, while the football squad files from the field. And the rooting section is to be commended upon the manner in which they held their places Saturday until the last Husker warrior had left the field.

GIVE THEM A REST.

Did you ever stop to think that there is always a certain group of loyal Nebraskans that are always out boosting football, basketball, Cornhusker, Daily Nebraskan campaigns and the like. These students are interested primarily in Nebraska University, its spirit and its advancement. The only reward they receive is the satisfaction gained from seeing the University progress in the various activities.

Many students have the idea that these solicitors are making money from the students, others that they are out for personal favors and popularity. This is not the case, they are the type that Nebraska needs more of, men and women that have volunteered their time and services in order to encourage students to back all University activities.

In nearly every case these volunteers are upperclassmen. Why not give them a rest on the next campaign? You Freshmen and Sophomores, this is your opportunity to serve the University. Submit your names to the Student Activities office, so that the different managers may know that they can count on you to push the various campaigns. We have our selected committees, that put on the All-University Mixers. Why not have a committee, which is also held responsible for all of the large student campaigns.

DAVID LAWRENCE ON THE HONOR SYSTEM.

David Lawrence, the eminent political writer whose stories of the present campaigns are being read all over the United States, was in Lincoln last week. An interview with Mr. Lawrence brought out the fact that he was a Princeton graduate, class of 1910. When asked what had impressed him most while he was in college, Mr. Lawrence said that the Honor System as carried out at Princeton had been the greatest factor in his college life.

The Honor System at Princeton, according to Mr. Lawrence, is a wonderful success. Students rarely, if ever, cheat and those who are apprehended are turned over to the student council for trial. The instructor pays little or no attention to the students during examinations. They may leave the building and walk about the campus and even discuss the examination insofar as its qualities are concerned or the progress they are making but never is a question asked nor an answer received. During his entire college career Mr. Lawrence says he remembers but one incident of a student being apprehended at cheating.

The first year at Princeton the men who have a tendency to be dishonest are weeded out and from that time on a man's pledge is the gospel to his instructors and his fellow students.

UNI NOTICES.

Palladian.

Palladian business meeting Monday evening at 6:30.

Diet for Cross-Country Men.

Eat any of the following:
Lean meats.
Steaks, well done.
Roast beef, well done.
White meat of chicken and fish.
Potatoes—mashed, boiled or baked.
Vegetables in general.
Lettuce salads, particularly with olive oil dressing.
Olive oil is particularly good for men in training.
Bran bread, corn bread and other coarse breads preferred.
Not more than two cups of coffee daily.

Meals should be taken four hours before a contest.

Avoid the following:
Greasy and fatty goods.
Fried potatoes.
Biscuits.
Pastry.

J. LLOYD McMASTER.
Coach Cross-Country.

Freshmen Girls—Attention.

Freshmen girls who have not signed up for physical and medical examinations must sign on bulletin on gymnasium office door before October 8. All examinations must be completed before Freshmen classes begin.

Union Business Meeting.

There will be a Union business meeting Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the hall.

Silver Serpent.

Silver Serpent meeting will be held at Ellen Smith Hall at 12:30 today. Important!

Dr. Young at Vespers.

Dr. Young of the First Presbyterian church will speak on "Being a Follower of Jesus" at Vespers at Ellen Smith Hall, 5 o'clock Tuesday, October 5.

Freshmen Girls.

Freshmen girls get your University "N" book containing the campus traditions and coming activities at the Y. W. C. A. office, Ellen Smith Hall.

WHEN MA IS SICK

When ma is sick she pegs away;
She's quiet, though, not much to say.
She goes right on a' doin' things
An' sometimes laughs, or even sings.
She says she don't feel extra well
But then it's just a kind o' spell.
She'll be all right tomorrow, sure,
A good old sleep will be the cure.
An' Pa he sniffs an' makes no kick
For women folks is always sick
An' ma she smiles, lets on she's glad
When Ma is sick it ain't so bad.
—Anonymous.

PERSONALS

Kenneth Baker, '24, and Harry Pecka, '24, spent the week-end in Omaha.

Louise Tucker, '23, spent the week-end in Fairbury.
Prof. O. W. Sjogren leaves for Washington, D. C., today in connection with some U. S. government duties.

Lawrence Metzger left Saturday night for Beaver Crossing for a week-end visit with friends.

Margaret Cowden and Gertrude McHale, '20, are spending the week-end at Fairbury.

Beatrice Ballard, '23, is spending the week-end at her home in Beatrice.
J. Sterling Kelly, ex-'19, was a visitor at Acaela house Thursday on his way to Massachusetts Institution of Technology. Mr. Kelly had spent the summer in work connected with the topographical survey of the state.

Merl J. Springer, '18, stopped at Acaela house last week on his way to Harvard Law School.

Frances Graham, '23, and Louise Tucker, '23, spent the week-end in Fairbury.

Geraldine Neusbaum and Mary Hardy spent the week-end in Omaha.
Helen Roberts, '24, spent the week-end at her home in Plattsmouth.

Lucille Krapenhof, '21, has returned from an Omaha visit.
Mildred Pratt, '24, and Mable Knapp, '24, are back from Tekamah, where they spent several days.

Perry Skelton, of Spencer, spent the week-end at the Xi Psi Phi house.

Martha Vallery, '24, went to Plattsmouth Friday and remained for the week-end.

Mildred Rockwell, '23, who has been spending the last few days at her home in Omaha, has returned.

Dorothy Hipple, '21, spent several days in Omaha last week.

Gertrude McHale, '21, returned yesterday from Fairbury, where she was a week-end visitor.

Among the guests at the Swensen-McLean wedding which took place at Omaha on Saturday were: Frances Foote, '22, Ethel Upton, '24, Margaret Cowden, '21, Myrl Hardin, '22, and Mildred Adams, '21.

Donald Lyle, '21, has returned from a two days' visit in Omaha.

Esther Park, '22, spent the week-end in Omaha.

Margaret Lanham, '23, is back from Stromsburg, where she spent a few days.

David Noble, '24, returned yesterday from Omaha.

Beatrice Ballard, '23, returned from Beatrice after spending the week-end at her home.

Geraldine Nusbaum, '23, was a week-end visitor at her home in Omaha.

Mary Hardy, '22, is back from Omaha, where she spent several days.

Gertrude Patterson, '22, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Nebraska City.

Theatre Reviews

"Homer Comes Home"—Paramount.
He couldn't hold down a job. He was forever dreaming about how to graft lima beans on to corn stalks and make succotash or something equally foolish. His sweetheart's father doesn't like him so Homer leaves home. By and by Homer comes home and everybody knows it. A delightful picture, featuring the popular star, Charles Ray.

"The Inferior Sex"—Mildred Harris Chaplin.

The track man who lied to his sweetheart was a "nawful bluff. Later he had to make his boast of being a sprinter good. It was a matter of getting his girl or losing her and so he won. Cullen Landis and Mildred Harris Chaplin support the leads.

"Riders of the Dawn"—Pathe.

"Riders of the Dawn" is a vivid, intensely dramatic picture. The story of a wheat-rancher's fight to protect his crop from ravaging I. W. W.'s, will hold one in the grip of an endless "thrill." A pretty love story woven through the plot enhances the fascination of this wonderful feature.

"Don't Ever Marry"—Marshall Neilan.

They were married. Now they say "Don't Ever Marry!" Matt Moore and Marjorie Daw have the leading roles and make the comedy parts they play still more humorous.

RESULT IN TICKET SALE RACE REMAINS IN DOUBT PENDING CHECK OF COUNT

The contest for the sale of season football tickets closed Friday at 5 o'clock with approximately 2,500 of the paste boards sold. On account of the difficulty in checking up, the winner of the trip to New York will not be announced until Tuesday morning. There are quite a number who have not as yet checked in their tickets and this is holding up the work of the checkers to a certain extent.

Neil Chadderton, at the Student Activities office, is checking up the tickets in such a manner that when the report is given out every organization in school will know the exact number each sold. The individuals selling the largest number will also be announced at this time. A great deal of interest centers around the contest as there was considerable rivalry between the different organizations in the sale of the tickets.

The number of tickets sold this year is a very much larger than the number sold last year. From a monetary standpoint this should be a banner year for Nebraska, according to those who have the finances to look after.

—Here's a j. b. for copious corresponders! You'll probably still be writing reams to your summer cases till the first frost at least, and of course one wants to do it on the very latest thing in stationery!—viz.: Japanese linen. Its almost like a heavy parchment and has a large oblong envelope and a single sheet that folds twice. Being Scotch, I counted them! 48 sheets and 48 envelopes for $2.25—street floor.

—A reed in the breeze is nothing compared with the suppleness you'll feel wearing a certain corset I'm thinking of. Not many more bones in it than there was in Mother Hubbard's cupboard, and there's a cute little ruffle around its very elastic top. Its made of pink satin too—ain't it a grand and glorious feeling? $10—second floor.

—Who ever heard of a Blousette? I never did, but wouldn't that be a good name for the sleeveless affairs we all like to wear under our suits instead of a blouse? My Scotch tells me its much thriftier to spend $6 for an altogether adorable affair of ecru net, trimmed in fine tucks, hand embroidery and real hand-made filet, than to put that much into a commonplace blouse. And the effect is decidedly niftier!—street floor.

—The Spooks are abroad—at least in our collection of Halloween decorations and favors. If you're planning a dance then, we've got a lot of black cats for decorations that will almost help the orchestra out, and as for the witches—they're guaranteed to make bone chills race up and down your spine. Lots of stickers, Jack Horner pies, bonbons, pumpkins and table decorations too. 7c to $3.50—street floor.

—An important footnote! Its about the new woolen Sox we're showing—real honest-to-goodness Sox for girls. Of course, there is a feminine touch in the way of a deep cuff striped in gay colors, but the thing I like best about these particular Sox is the fact that they are very finely knit, so they won't look bulky around the ankle. $3—second floor. —I'll scout around for more news for Wednesday!

Formal Opening

Kenilworth Club Dances

at the

Knights of Columbus Hall
228 North 12th Street

Complimentary

to Students and Friends

Tuesday, October 5

No Charge

Dancing
6:30-11:30

"Polly" Butler's
Orchestra