PREPARE FOR SECOND GAME

HUSKERS WORK HARD TO STRENGTHEN WEAK SPOTS.

Freshman Team to Battle Wesleyan on Coyote Field in Their First Game This Season.

COLORADO TEAM SATURDAY

If the Cornhusker football team is going to bring up another victory next Saturday when they clash with the Colorado Aggies, Coach Schulte's warriors are due for a week of hard work and preparation. The Huskers must display considerable gridiron skill that was evident in the Washburn game. Schulte undoubtedly intends to make the most of the next few days in order to improve the weak spots in his machine. While Nebraska won from Washburn seemingly without much difficulty, by no means did they exhibit a brilliant brand of football. The Ichabod's light line and their inability to realize on their opportunities to score were responsible for the downfall of the Kansans.

The Colorado Aggies are coming to Lincoln with a real football team. Nebraska will meet an eleven that has been training since early in August and it is reported that the Westerners are hungry for a taste of Cornhusker blood. The Colorado team always stands high in the Rocky Mountain conference ratings and is said to have an exceptionally capable eleven this year. They journeyed to Laramie last Saturday and defeated the University of Wyoming team, 14-0, it being their initial game of the year. The result of this game does not at all augur success for the Husker aggregation in the approaching battle. Wyoming is always represented by a strong eleven and the 1920 team is no exception.

The Washburn game afforded Coach Schulte excellent opportunity to size up the material in his squad as he made use of the greater part of his men. The performance of Moore in the backfield was extremely gratifying and it is quite likely that the former Lincoln High player will be a permanent fixture behind the line. Schoepfel, Rogers, Thompson and Hoy also showed good form as backfield men and will doubtless be used throughout the season. Rogers, diminutive halfback, is exceptionally brilliant in interference and defensive play. The development of this new material will prove of great value to the Varsity in the coming games.

The next few days will witness a shaking up of the Husker squad. Preparation for the Colorado eleven demands a week of hard work. New plays and formations must be inaugurated. Only a very few formations were used by the Huskers Saturday. The numerous scouts who were in the press stand were no doubt disappointed in the simplicity of the Husker plays. But the Nebraska team will not be playing Washburn next Saturday and a decided improvement must be evidenced if Schulte's team registers another victory.

Freshmen Play Wesleyan Today.

Assistant Coach Schissler's Freshmen are slated to tangle with the Wesleyan Coyotes on the Methodist gridiron this afternoon. This is the first game of the season for the Yearlings and although only a practice game.

UNI COMMERCIAL CLUB ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

The University Commercial Club held a smoker Friday night, October 1, at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Building for members and prospective members. About ninety men were present.

Talks by Dean LeRossignol and Professor Ivey were the main events of the evening. There were also a few short talks by members of the Club. After the talks the Freshmen in the College of Business Administration and other men registered in the College but not yet members of the Club signified their intentions of joining at the earliest opportunity.

The newly elected officers for this year are: D. M. McLellan, president; Wallace Herrick, vice-president; W. T. Mauck, treasurer; C. D. Spangler, secretary.

The Club expects to progress farther this year than last. The initiation will be held soon when all men in the College of Business Administration may join. Those men who wish to join and who were not present at the stag last Friday should consult any of the above named officers for particulars.

All men in the College of Business Administration are eligible to membership in the University Commercial Club.

OLYMPICS SCHEDULED FOR HOMECOMING DAY

Annual "Scrap" Between Freshmen and Sophomore Classes to Be Held on October 16.

ONLY TEN DAYS TO PREPARE

The annual "scrap" between the class of 1923 and the class of 1924 will be staged October 16. This "scrap" is better known as the Olympics and is one of Nebraska's oldest traditions. The class elections are being held to day and as soon as a president is elected he will announce his committees for the Olympics. On account of the large number of Freshmen enrolled last year they had very little difficulty in defeating the Sophomores. There are not as many Freshmen in school this year and most of the second-year men have returned to school.

Freshmen will also be allowed to discard the "emerald" headgear if they are successful in winning the Olympics. If they are defeated it will be necessary for them to wear the green caps until the end of the first semester. All men who are interested in boxing, wrestling or running will be urged to start training at once.

If any of the Freshmen are in doubt about any matter concerning the Olympics they should go at once to some member of the Innocents Society where they may obtain the information they desire.

So far there has been very little talk on the campus regarding the Olympics. Since this is a great event for all Nebraskans it is time the Freshmen were starting to show some life, according to those who have the clash in charge.

Opening of Kenilworth Club.

The Kenilworth Club has invited University students and their friends to attend the formal opening at the Knights of Columbus Hall this evening.

THORNDIKE INTELLIGENCE TESTS.

The Thorndike intelligence tests will be required this year of entering Freshmen of all colleges and will be given Wednesday, October 6, at 8 a. m. All Freshmen will be excused from classes from 8 to 12 o'clock, likewise students needed as monitors and all classes scheduled in the rooms mentioned below will be dismissed (or moved at the instructor's option) from 8-12 on the above date.

Entering Freshmen students will report Wednesday, October 6, at 8 a. m. sharp in accordance with the following schedule:

Group	Building	Room

DR. TIMOTHY STONE TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

Noted Pastor and Lecturer Will Address Committee of 200.

John Timothy Stone, who will be the principal speaker at the Committee of Two Hundred banquet in the Scottish Rite Temple, October 12, is a prominent figure in student circles. He has been a frequent pastor in universities and Eastern colleges and students all over the country count him as one of the most interesting talkers at summer student conferences.

Dr. Stone is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon. He was graduated from Amherst College. When in college he was a classmate of Dr. H. H. Waite, bacteriologist at the University. Dr. Stone is pastor of the Fourth Congregational church in Chicago. Five years ago, through his leadership, one of the most beautiful Gothic churches in America was completed on Michigan avenue at a cost of $800,000. Dr. Stone is very popular with the men of Chicago, according to those who know him intimately.

Sympathetic and Human Messages.

His messages to college students are characteristically human and sympathetic. Dr. Stone's methods of work are systematic. This is Dr. Stone's first visit to the University of Nebraska and authorities consider it a great privilege to be able to present him to University audiences.

Dr. Stone exerted a very great influence in the life of one of the most famous Nebraska graduates, Dr. Paul Harrison. Dr. Harrison attended John Hopkins University when Dr. Stone was pastor of the Brown Memorial church in Baltimore. It was due to Dr. Stone that Dr. Harrison went to Arabia to practice medicine among the Mohammedans of the southern part of that country. In general the theme of Dr. Stone's address will probably be "The Value of the Religious Element in All Education."

OBSERVATORY TO BE OPENED TO PUBLIC

The Observatory will be open to the public this winter on the first and third Tuesday evenings of each month from 7 to 10. At 8 o'clock there will be a short talk by Professor Swezey with lantern slides, given on the following topics:

- Oct. 5 Where are the Stars?
- Oct. 19 What Sort of a Body is a Star?
- Nov. 2 The Sun, Moon and Planets.
- Nov. 16 Why the Planets Revolve About the Sun.
- Dec. 7 The Constellations.
- Dec. 21 What We Owe to the Sun.
- Jan. 4 Finding Accurate Time by the Stars.
- Jan. 18 The Telescope.
- Feb. 8 Mt. Wilson Observatory.
- Feb. 22 How Astronomers Weigh the Stars.
- Mar. 8 The Moon.
- Mar. 12 The Tides.
- Apr. 5 Eclipses of the Sun.
- Apr. 19 The Coming Eclipse of the Moon.

If the skies permit there will be an opportunity to use the telescope before and after the lecture. In any case, the lecture will be given, at 8 o'clock, even if the skies are cloudy. On October 5 the telescope will be used on some of the double stars.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Indiana Statesman Speaks at Monday Morning Convocation.

Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana addressed a large audience on the principles of public speaking Monday morning at convocation in the Temple Theater. Classes were dismissed at that time.

He said that the four fundamental principles of public speaking are, "Be informed," "Be simple," "Be fair," "Be sincere." He criticized the sensational tendency of public speaking at the present time. He laid the responsibility partly upon the public press. A speaker, he declared, has to say something radical if his speech is to appear on the front page of a newspaper. He urged people who speak in public to keep service before them as a goal instead of working for applause and newspaper publicity.

Senator Beveridge compared modern speeches made by men of the highest intellectual type with those made by Christ and St. Paul and Abraham Lincoln's two greatest, his first inaugural and the Gettysburg address. He said that they are far inferior in the ideas presented, that "punch" seems to be the predominant principle in their construction. "The only 'punch' that carries death with it," said Senator Beveridge, "is the punch of moderation."

There was a roar of applause at the conclusion of the speech. Most of the audience expected to hear a political speech, but they did not evidence disappointment in the substitute. The gallery of the theater had to be opened to accommodate the crowd.

WORK TO COMMENCE SCOTTSBLUFF BUILDING

Work on the new Scottsbluff Irrigation School will soon be under way. Thomas H. McCarthy, superintendent of the school, has recently arrived at Scottsbluff and will begin the work of the school at once.

The University has been commissioned by the state legislature to construct the new irrigation school. Ninety acres on the outskirts of Scottsbluff has been purchased and a small school building is in the process of erection.

The work to be taken up will be in the field of construction, operation and maintenance of structures requiring irrigation work. It will be directed more toward engineering features than to agricultural features and the matter of crop production will be an incidental matter.

It is the plan of the College of Engineering to have the school in running order in the near future. Superintendent McCarthy is an experienced irrigation engineer coming directly from work in California. He will have entire supervision of the school and will be located in the College of Engineering rather than in Agricultural College because of the nature of the work.

The Scottsbluff project has been under consideration of the University engineering heads for several years past. It became a reality last spring when the state legislature provided the necessary funds for the extension.

VARSITY DAIRY CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Varsity Dairy Club held its annual election of officers Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Dairy Building, University Farm.

The following officers were elected: President, J. C. Higgins; vice-president, Laurance Lingren; secretary and treasurer, Harry Weakly. The two new members of the Executive Board are Oliver N. Summers and L. W. Ingham.

Plans were discussed for the ensuing year, and resolutions adopted, which provided for an Agricultural College Students' Judging Contest, a Varsity Dairy Show, and a Smith-Hughes Students' Judging Contest. The Club will endeavor to hold the Smith-Hughes contest during the Farmers' Fair week next spring, in order to introduce more educational features into the Fair. It will be the aim of the Club to hold the Dairy Show and College Judging Contest at as early date in the future as possible.

Prof. J. H. Frandsen, gave a very interesting report of the Waterloo Dairy Show. He stated that, "although the Nebraska Dairy Judging Team did not win first place, ranking fourth, however, their team work was very good, and they are expecting to again win the first honors at the Chicago National Dairy Show."

PREMEDIC STUDENT IS INJURED FATALLY

Roy O. Swanson Crushed Against Side of Fraternity House by Automobile.

DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

Roy O. Swanson, Sophomore Medic at the University of Nebraska Medical College, was almost instantly killed Sunday at 1 o'clock when he was pinned against the wall of the Phi Rho Sigma fraternity house, 4120 Dewey avenue, Omaha, by a Ford roadster that he was cranking. The automobile was standing on a small embankment which faced the house, and was believed to have been in gear, because when Swanson started the engine the car plunged forward throwing him against the brick wall of the fraternity house.

Don Graham, a fraternity brother, in an upstairs room, heard the crash and rushed to assist Roy. He was found lying beside the car in a pool of blood.

Other students helped hurry Swanson across the street to the University Hospital. He died before being placed on the operating table. He suffered a badly fractured skull.

Swanson was 22 years old, an orphan, and was earning his own way through school by working in the vantage department of the Omaha World Herald. He has three sisters, Misses Viola and Alma, who are living in Lincoln, and another who is attending high school at Talmage. While taking his pre-medic work at Lincoln he became a member of Bushnell Guild fraternity and at Omaha was a member of Phi Rho Sigma. At Omaha he was one of the two Freshman Medics who received highest scholarship last year.

The body was taken to Talmage, his former home, where the funeral will be held today. Members of Phi Rho Sigma will act as pall-bearers. A number of Bushnell Guild fraternity brothers left this morning to attend the funeral.

Polite "Cleps" Still Make Heavy Hauls on Sorority Row

The childish custom of simply helping yourself to anything "takeable" seems to still prevail at the University. After all the "dates" have left the various houses with bulging and jingling pockets, you take an inventory of household goods and figure how long it will take for you to be able to have another "date"—for these dates are expensive.

The principle mania of the "cleps" around school is dinner gongs and dinner bells, spoons or loving cups—the first things that take the eye of the noble hero as he enters the abode of his lady fair. You can never tell what will be the next thing to make its disappearance, only to reappear later in the house of the young and charming hero.

Sometimes the girls get sort of "peeved" and wish that a few of the many articles would be returned, but more often than not, the hero has no

ELECT CLASS HEADS TODAY

PRESIDENTS TO BE SELECTED FOR FIRST SEMESTER.

Polls in Social Science Building Open at 9 O'clock—Hot Contest Closers.

WILL KNOW RESULTS SOON

The polls for class presidential elections will open this morning at 9 o'clock. After a short exciting campaign, the three under classes will express their choices for first semester presidents today. The Seniors will cast only a complimentary vote, as only one candidate filed and passed eligibility requirements.

The ballots which will be given to the students at the polling place in Social Science Building, Room 108, will read as follows:

Senior president—Alyne O'Laughlin.
Junior president—Mildred Gollehan.

Students will vote under the Australian ballot system adopted by the Regents in 1912. No campaigning is allowed near the polls. Students at the Farm campus may cast their ballots at the home of the Dean, 3256 Holdrege street, during the same hours as the polls are open in the Social Science Building. Members of any class may vote for the president of that class only, between the hours of 9 and 12, and 2 and 5.

The election will be directed by the Registrar, who will be assisted by Professors Cochran, Sealock, Scott and Arenson. Results will be known as soon as the ballots are counted tonight. The Nebraskan will publish the result of the vote tomorrow.

It is expected that organization of the different classes will follow immediately upon the elections. With the Olympics only ten days away, the presidents of the two underclasses will in all probability announce their committees for the annual scrap some time this week. Other important committees to be announced are the Hop committees by all the presidents, and the Junior and Senior Prom committees.

At least one of the candidates this year was counted ineligible on account of the fact that she carried only eleven instead of the minimum of twelve hours the semester preceding the elections. Other requirements are that the candidate shall be carrying at least twelve hours the present semester.

The minor officers of each of the classes will be elected at the first meetings of the classes to be called by the newly elected executives.

CLASSES IN POTTERY WILL MOVE TO OLD 'RAG' OFFICE

The classes in pottery and modeling, of the Fine Arts College which have been meeting in the basement of Nebraska Hall, are moving this week to the old Daily Nebraskan offices in the basement of the University Hall. One of the rooms is being fitted out with a kiln and the other will be used for the class work. First classes in the new rooms will be held Friday, announced Miss Dobbs yesterday.
