RALLY AND TORCHLIGHT PARADE IN PREPARATION FOR GRIDIRON CLASSIC TO BE NOVEL AFFAIR

Students Will Be Given Opportunity to Demonstrate Traditional Cornhusker Pep in Mass Meeting on Eve of Homecoming Game With Much Touted Irish Gridders.

Fire-brands Will Illuminate Lincoln Streets

Short Talks By University Representatives Will Feature Program at Armory Tonight—Notre Dame Squad Will Review Shirt-Tail Troopers from Balcony of Lincoln Hotel.

Dean C. C. Engberg, Coach H. F. Schulte, Director F. W. Luehring and Dr. George E. Condra will speak at the Notre Dame rally and yell-fest at the Armory tonight, according to the program outlined by the Innocents Society. The first cheers for the team will start at 7:30, and students are urged to go early to be assured of seats.

In addition to these short talks about Nebraska's prospects with the Indiana aggregation, a "pep session" of limited duration will be conducted by Cornhusker cheer-leaders. The University band will lead in the singing of the chant. All sorority, fraternity, dormitory and other organization members of the student body were asked to learn the "Scarlet and the Cream," Nebraska's song, before the Homecoming game. The band will help those present at the rally to sing this song with as much confidence and fervor as "U-U-Uni" is given.

Russell Bailey will give a short talk on the way Nebraska yells should be given at a football game. "There has been some complaint that Nebraska has no pep this year," said Bailey yesterday. He will also explain to the Freshmen that it is a tradition at Nebraska for all students to remain standing while the players leave the field after the game, while they join in with the band in the singing of "The Cornhusker."

Torches Handed Out After Rally.
Torches will be given to the co-eds at the east door of the Armory and to the men at the west entrance, immediately after the rally in preparation for the torchlight parade. A deposit of 25 cents will be asked when each torch is handed out. This amount will be refunded when the fire-brands are returned after the parade.

The serpentine dance and parade will begin at Twelfth street. The line of march is down Twelfth to Q, down Q to Sixteenth street, down Sixteenth to O, and then down O street to the Lincoln Hotel at Ninth street, where the Notre Dame team will be waiting on the balcony overlooking the street.

The band will lead the parade, followed by University women in a body (Continued on Page Four)

LEARN NEBRASKA YELLS.

The University authorities request that all members of fraternities, sororities, rooming houses, and dormitories learn Nebraska yells before the big game Saturday, October 16.

NO INDIVIDUAL SCRAPS.

There are to be no scraps between individuals or groups representing the Freshmen and Sophomore classes before Saturday, the day of the Olympics. Drastic measures will be taken by the executive dean against students who attempt to kidnap contestants or individuals of either class. The Olympics were instituted to do away with hazing and class scraps which used to be the custom at the University in days gone by. Such customs are not to be revived this year. The fight between the Freshmen and Sophomores must be confined to Saturday's Olympics is the definite stand taken by the executive dean.

This does not signify that the fight is on at one minute after 12 Saturday morning, it means no scraps before 9 a. m. Saturday, the time set for the Olympics.

Boreas Plays a Few Tricks on Campus--Pharmacy Hall Suffers

It appeared Wednesday as though the entrusted keeper of the winds had untied his bag and spread the contents liberally over the campus. "Blow Winds, Blow!" seemed to be the order of the universe, and forthwith doors banged or refused to open window panes have rattled in terror, and billow clouds of dust have swept zephyrs! Distressed and anxious co-eds have complained bitterly as they clung desperately to their hats and books, at the same time attempting to overcome the balloon tendencies of a taffeta skirt. The much-despised green cap was not regarded so scornfully when its snug fitness challenged the blasts of the sharpest gale.

Pharmacy Hall met with a sad mishap when a sudden turn of the wind snapped off several yards of the metallic frieze decoration around the tower. The frieze adjacent to it has also been torn from its place, and swings forth precariously in each gust. Nevertheless Pharmacy Hall still "carries on" in proud defiance to wind and rain. What are a few decorations more or less to an old land mark?

BUSY TIME IN STORE FOR VISITING GRADS

Home-Made Cake to Be Served Former Students By Local Alumni Club.

Home-made cake for visiting alumni, made by many prominent women of the Lincoln Alumni Club, will be only one feature of the welcome in store for former students and faculty members of the University when they arrive in Lincoln Saturday for their annual Homecoming pilgrimage.

A full day's program is being prepared for the visitors. At noon a "banquet-lunch" has been planned and more than one thousand are to be served in Ellen Smith Hall from 12 until 2 o'clock. The lunch will be served in two sections. The second section will be accommodated at 1 o'clock.

The committee for the banquet is composed of Mrs. Maurice Deutsch, Miss Catherine Kline, Mrs. H. B. Pier, Mrs. Theo. Kisselbach, Mrs. R. F. Howard and Mrs. B. F. Good. These members have arranged the entire program, including music by the University orchestra, under the direction of Director Quick. They have also planned the decorations and appointments for the dinner and rally.

Alumni Will Attend Game.

In the afternoon all of the faculty, students and alumni are expected to turn out for the biggest football game of the season between the Huskers and the Notre Dame Catholics.

Reservations for the noon lunch may be made either at the office of Miss Chaiken, the alumni secretary, or by calling F2969.

The second All-University mixer will be held Saturday evening. The Armory will be decorated for the occasion, and the Indiana grid men will be guests of honor. Preparations are being made for over two thousand students, in spite of the fact that Saturday evening is not a closed night.

Complete plans for the Homecoming Party, which is to be held in the evening in Ellen Smith Hall, have not yet been announced but there will be music, dancing and a general reception for all alumni and faculty. The final arrangements will be announced later.

University Co-eds To Banquet En Masse

University of Nebraska "Co-Eds" will attend en masse the tenth annual girls football luncheon which will be given under the auspices of the W. S. G. A. at 12 p. m. at the Lindell Hotel, October the sixteenth.

The girls are going to answer the varsity's call to come out and root for Nebraska. Plates will be laid for 350 guests.

Toastmistress and the subject for response will be kept secret until the big event. The decorations will be in scarlet and cream.

Due to the courtesy of Lawlor Cycle Company "Sure enough" footballs will be used everywhere. Red and white carnations will also be used. The varsity cheer leaders will lend pep to the occasion.

Tickets are on sale at the Student Activities office. Get yours now and help boost the team.

Sorority houses are not going to serve luncheon Saturday to show that they are all back of the team.

All remaining tickets and money should be turned in Friday at Student Activities office not later than 5 p. m.

OLYMPICS TO BE HELD ON STATE FARM CAMPUS

Last Minute Changes Shift Scene of Battle From M Street Park to Home of Ags.

Plans Completed and Everything in Readiness for Opening at 9 A. M. Tomorrow.

The State Farm campus will be the scene of the annual Olympics between the Freshmen and Sophomores at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. According to previous plans the festivities were slated for the M street ball park but the latest arrangements by the committees in charge have shifted the scene of battle to the Farm. At the last minute difficulty arose in obtaining the use of the ball park and without hesitation it was decided that the Farm campus would meet all the requirements fully as well as the down town location and provide an excellent arena for lower class combat.

The main features of the Olympics will be the pole rush, tug-of-war, push ball contest, and relay race, in addition to the various classes of wrestling and boxing bouts. The push ball that will be used is coming all the way from Ames, Iowa, by aeroplane for the express purpose of participating in the Nebraska Olympics. Twenty-five men will be on each end of the rope in the tug-of-war, while four men will represent each class in the relay race.

Several "N" men will be on hand to judge the wrestling matches and see that fair play is evident at all times. Frank Adkins is in charge of the boxing and an efficient referee will be provided for each bout.

It is very important that all participants be on hand promptly at 9 o'clock in order that all of the events may be run off on scheduled time. The co-operation of everyone is needed to make the 1920 Olympics a complete success.

Here follows a complete list of the events and the number of points each counts:

Home Economics Faculty Entertains

The faculty of the Home Economics Department entertained seventy-five students at tea, Thursday, in the Home Economics Building. As the girls entered they received tags on which they wrote their names and addresses. For the first part of the hour Miss Morton and Miss Mather poured tea. Later Miss Wyman took their place. The rooms were decorated with ferns and autumn berries.

A short business meeting was held, when the workers for the membership drive of the Home Economics Club were announced. The following girls will receive memberships: Ella Fortna, Harriet Wilson, Hattie Hepperly, Katherine Heckart, Lois Haas, Eleanor Mapes, Mary Herzing, Beulah Mills, Gladys Kleinke, Ethel Wells, Helen Hunt, Frances Fuller, Bernice Peters.

FINAL TOUCHES PUT ON SOPHOMORE MACHINE

Second-Year Class Confident of Big Victory—Events Begin at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Final touches have been put on the Sophomore war machine. Everything necessary to the downfall of the Freshmen has been arranged. The Sophomore Class will enter the Olympics with a better chance of winning the clash than any second year class has had for several years. They will outnumber the Yearlings and will have the experience from last year's scrap to add them.

President Philbrick is optimistic over the outlook for the second-year class, although he concedes that the Freshmen will put up a hard fight. "If every man registered in the class will turn out for the scrap we should have no difficulty in winning. This class has the best chance that any class has had for several years to win the Olympics twice. Sophomores should make it a matter of self pride to see that the class comes out victorious." These are statements made by the second-year President Thursday.

JUNIORS PICK OFFICERS AT BIG CLASS MEETING

Story Harding Chosen Vice-President, Evva Holloway is Secretary and Dorothy Pierce Treasurer.

The first meeting of the Junior class was held in the Auditorium of the Social Science Building at 11 o'clock Thursday. Isabel Pearsall, president of the class, called the meeting to order and came directly to the business of the hour by opening the nominations for the minor offices.

Those elected were: Vice-president, Story Harding; secretary, Evva Holloway; treasurer, Dorothy Pierce; Sargeant-at-arms, Walton Roberts.

Following these elections, suggestions were requested as to some means by which the Junior class could take an active part in University affairs. It was suggested that a class play be given sometime during the year. The various Junior committees will be published in the Daily Nebraskan the first of next week, Miss Pearsall announced.

Charles Farnham President of Chorus

Charles Farnham was elected president of the University Chorus at the last meeting of the organization. There are 225 students enrolled in the chorus this year. Registration is still open for bass and tenor voices. One hour credit a semester is given. The chorus will make its first public appearance in November. The minor officers selected are: Vice-president, Donna Gustin; secretary, Marianna Cummings; treasurer, Oscar Bennet.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 14.—Nebraska plays, as executed by Notre Dame Freshmen, cut big holes in the Varsity defense today. Time and again the Yearling backs battered their way through the line for substantial gains. The first year men were unable, however, to check the Varsity on offense. Grant played quarterback for the Varsity in the final moments of the scrimmage, and his showing surprised the coaches. Today was the first active service Grant has seen since his return ten days ago.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers were unable to work out on the gridiron yesterday owing to the heavy field. Coach Schulte put his men through a long signal practice in the gymnasium and gave them a good workout indoors. The Huskers do not seem doubtful in the least as to the outcome of the game tomorrow but are only hoping that ideal weather prevails so that team play will not be in any way hampered.
