Theatre Reviews

"Sunset Sprague."
 Out where the west begins Buck Jones battles for love and money. Admirers of cowboys would hail him with a shout for he is a real one and, on the side he wins "Rose" and a gold mine.

"Little Women"—Orpheum.
 Meg and Jo, Beth, Amy and Laurie and all the rest of that happy troupe which have delighted us all so often, paraded once more before the eyes of a delighted audience last Tuesday. Miss Edith May Clarke in the role of "Jo" was the outstanding feature. Although prettier than one thinks Jo was, she plays her part well and keeps her audience on the road between tears and laughter throughout the play. The scenery aids the cast in converging over the footlights that peaceful atmosphere which is half of the play.

Orpheum.
 An unusually good and "different" bill is the one which the Orpheum has this week. Lovett's "Concentration," which is the headliner is a most unique entertainment. Mr. Lovett through the power of concentration, has his orchestra play any musical selection any one person hums over in his mind. At first the audience is inclined to be skeptical but is finally convinced of the man's wonderful power. Charles Kenna, who inflates a street fakir and Jack Trainor and company in a clever skit are perhaps the next best on the bill. Bob Nelson and Frank Cronin in a jazz song act are also good.

Rialto.
 "Well, Boss, we have to show our sand now," is the theme of the picture at the Rialto. And William S. Hart with his loyal horse, Boss, shows his usual grit and dauntlessness which is always a source of pleasure to his admirers.

Coal Industry Film Shown To Engineers

The various steps in the production of coal were shown in the film presented by the Mechanical Engineering Department Thursday in room 206 of the Mechanical Engineering building. "The Story of Coal," by the Peabody Coal Company, gave a complete survey of the coal manufacturing field. Views of the big mines of the country with close ups of the mining settlements were featured. The different processes of the mining, hauling, washing and loading of coal were taken up.

The picture to be shown next Thursday will be "Making Fine Tools," by the L. S. Starrett Company.

Thirteen New Members Pledged To Sigma Tau

THIRTEEN NEW MEMBERS—Sigma Tau, honorary Engineering fraternity, announced the pledging of the following new members after a meeting of the society Thursday evening:
 G. F. Uplinger, R. C. Talbot, R. G. Van Brunt, B. O. Dorn, V. S. Acton, C. A. Sjogren, P. M. Parker, P. E. Petersen, L. W. Metzger, R. A. Ojer, M. R. Joy, A. V. Lundgren, H. N. Barard.

Engineering College To Have Football Team

Indications are that the Engineering College will be represented by a strong gridiron aggregation before the football season comes to a close. From forty to fifty engineers have been reporting daily for practice on the field north of the Social Science building. Work thus far has been limited to kicking and passing the ball and rudimentary signal practice. The squad is handicapped by lack of football suits and until the players are able to discard gym suits and overalls and don the moleskins scrimmage will be very lightly indulged in.

Due to the many laboratory periods carried by the engineers practice is possible only from 5 to 6 o'clock from Monday to Friday and from 8 to 12 o'clock Saturday morning. Lum Doyle, Husker football star in the days of Jumbo Stehm, is coaching the squad.
