Theatre Reviews

Sun—"Two Weeks"—First National Production.

This picture, starring Constance Talmadge, who is ably supported by Conway Searle in the male lead, holds one's interest even though it has a rather improbable plot. It is the tale of a misjudged chorus girl whose whole environment is changed in "two weeks" time by three very decided old bachelors. Constance Talmadge is as winsome and pretty as usual and one finds it not at all difficult to understand how she wins the most likely one of the three bachelors in the last reel.

Rialto—"East 39"—Realert.

A play that is different, in its plot, its characters, and best of all its ending. Constance Binney, a charmingly innocent girl who thinks she is "perfectly disgraceful," proves to be a doubting world that happiness is still to be found and that there is really a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Farm Campus Notes

Professors W. W. Burr, M. H. Swenk, T. A. Kleselbach and G. L. Peltier, of the College of Agriculture, inspected a wheat field near Waco October 19. About fifteen acres of wheat had been destroyed. After a careful inspection of the field and talking with the owner it was decided that lice and rany worms did the damage. A part of the wheat was on the ground where an hulled-out oats crop was plowed under. It is believed the volunteer oats were responsible for the presence of the lice. Saturated reports have been coming to Professor Swenk, state entomologist, of damage by lice. The damage as a whole is not extensive, however.

Prof. J. H. Frandsen delivered two lectures on dairying at the Purple Cane community center, Dodge county, October 22. Purple Cane is one of the most active community centers in the state and a number of University professors have visited it. Dean E. A. Burnett recently delivered a lecture there. The community is centered about an undenominational church, which is equipped for social events, having a kitchen, dining room, gymnasium, etc. The community has its own moving picture show at least once a week, held in the church. It has baseball and bowling teams and sports for both men and women form an important part of the program. The pastor, Rev. A. E. Smith, recently celebrated his tenth anniversary at Purple Cane.

S. W. Perin, superintendent of the University farm, left Sunday for Sargent, Neb., for a week's visit. Mr. Perin homesteaded in Custer county forty years ago last May. He was 101 miles from Grand Island, the nearest railroad point. He remained in Custer county until 1889, when he accepted the position as foreman at the State Farm. Mr. Perin has two brothers living in Custer county. This is the first time he has returned to that county at this time of the year, his duties at the State Farm being such that he could not get away except in the winter.

Musical Convocation Thursday Morning

The first musical convocation of the year will be held in Memorial Hall Thursday morning. Principal features of the program are Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, and the Rosamund Overture, to be rendered by a string quartet and pipe organ. Plans are being made for another important convocation to be held just before the Thanksgiving vacation. For this the chorus under the direction of Mrs. Raymond will sing "The Pilgrims."

There is also to be a convocation of the Arts College at an early date. All members, students and faculty members are expected to be present at this discussion of the various important activities connected with the college. The first address will be given by Dean Buck who will be followed by three other speakers on important phases of the college's work.

Midland College Man Killed in Accident

Schocimates See Mortensen Electrocutured When He Tries to Repair Light.

FREMONT, Neb., Oct. 26.—"I can fix that light" were the last words of Herbert Mortensen, aged 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mortensen of 742 East Tenth street, this city, when he climbed a 20 foot tower on the Midland campus to investigate the light bulb that had not been working for the past few nights. As he touched the bulb, it smashed in his hand and the contact of the wires and the steel tower grounded this connection. A flash of electricity passed through his body and he was dashed to the ground unconscious. He died as soon as he reached the hospital.

The young man was a student at Midland, and he, with two of his brothers and a number of other students, had noticed the defective light and wondered what caused the trouble. Several of the boy's school mates and teachers witnessed the tragedy. He is survived by his parents, six brothers and one sister.

WE CALL THEM ROOMMATES.

Say folks I've thinking that you take an awful risk,

Almost as bad as fellows do when they annex a wif.

Or vilca versa, round about, one way's as bad as the other,

Cause when you take a roommate you have to treat him like a brother.

You might get one whose highest aim's oration and debating,

The chances are he'll run you wild with stuff loud and clating.

And what if it should be your lot to draw a young musician?

His practicing might work on you till you needed a physician.

But pity these poor fellows with science on their brains,

Believe me folks they sure can make your life an awful strain!

And then there is the politics in Soella Science section,

With the guys that argue, rave and rant about the next election.

How'er it be it seems to me, (if I may borrow phrases),

You fellows can be glad your mate's not moved by all the crazes,

Not bound by word of fashion to bob his hair so golden.

Nor pluck his brows nor ease his face, to make him more beholden.

I. G.
