

STRAW VOTE FOR PRESIDENT TODAY

Daily Nebraskan Subscribers Will Ballot on Choice for High Position.

Polls Close at Six O'clock

Part of Plan of Number of Colleges to Ascertain Favorite of University Students.

Today the Daily Nebraskan is conducting a straw vote on the presidential election. At the top of this paper students will find a ballot containing the names of the five candidates. Only Nebraskan subscribers will be allowed to vote, because the number of papers published daily at the University is not equal to the total number of students at Nebraska.

When the Nebraskans are handed out from the University postoffice this morning, names of subscribers will be checked off the subscription list. This will prevent students from voting more than once. Students should tear the ballot out of the paper and after placing an X in the box after the name of the candidate for whom they vote, deposit the vote in the ballot box which will be in a conspicuous place in the Station lobby. Seventeen eastern colleges have conducted like votes with marked success. The schools who have tried out this plan include Harvard, Brown, Princeton, Williams, Syracuse, Richmond, Rochester, Hamilton, Dartmouth, Colgate, Columbia, Trinity, Amherst, M. I. T., Middlebury and Cornell.

All votes must be cast before 6 o'clock this evening, when the polls close. Ballots received after that time will be void. Results of the election will be known Tuesday and will appear in the Daily Nebraskan for that day.

University Chorus Is Preparing Convocation

The University Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond is preparing a special musical convocation to be given shortly before the Thanksgiving recess. Classes will be dismissed. The Chorus will sing "The Pilgrims." As there are nearly 250 voices in that organization this year, more than ordinary interest is attached to the first appearance of Nebraska's singers. Wednesday evening after rehearsal, Mrs. Raymond provided a social hour for the members.

Reese Memorial Soon Ready for Shipment

The memorial tablet in honor of Judge Reese, formerly Dean of the Nebraska Law College, is to be shipped from Chicago November 4, according to a letter from the artist, Mrs. Elizabeth Tuttle Holsman, to D. J. Flaherty. The tablet will be placed in the Law Building and probably will be dedicated during commencement week.

Flansburg Praises Law As Professional Career

"I advise the pursuit of law as a profession, but I would do all in my power to discourage it as a means of securing the almighty dollar," said Hon. C. C. Flansburg at the sixth general law lecture period in the Law Building Friday morning at eleven o'clock. Mr. Flansburg has been prominent as an attorney in Lincoln for many years and the Law College took advantage of the opportunity to learn some of the problems in connection with law as a profession. He explained that it is up to the lawyer to solve the industrial problems of today and to solve the questions arising in connection with law as a profession. He also discussed the "Workman's Compensation Act," saying that it was formed to abolish suit and to award compensation to the laborer.

The Law College valued the talk because of the fact that it was based on actual experience. Judge Flansburg gave many valuable bits of information that will help the students in their future work. In closing he said, "The success of the lawyer lies in securing the confidence of their clients and in order to do this he must prove worthy of the trust that the client places in him."

NEW DIRECTORY PRICE MEETS EXPECTATIONS

Booklets Will Be Sold on Campus Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for Fifty Cents.

50c Announcing 50c
1920 STUDENT DIRECTORY
Several New Features on the Campus
Tuesday-Wednesday-Thursday
50c ONLY 50c

The new student directory will sell for fifty cents on the campus Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, according to announcements made by the editors Saturday. This price for the 1920-21 manual meets the expectations of the students.

The price is not high when the increased cost of print paper is considered. Every student will be able to purchase a pamphlet.

The new directory embraces many new features. In spite of the fact that the booklet contains much additional information, it will appear earlier this year than for some time. Last year the handbooks did not make their appearance until November 24. The editors, John Burley, '21, and Peter Fredericksen, '21, are to be congratulated upon its early campus debut, at the same time keeping the booklet's price within the range of every student.

Final arrangements have been made for a three-day campaign to sell directories on the campus. Tables will be located at the following places: Social Science hall, University hall, west entrance to Armory, Law building and College Book Store. Members of the Y. W. C. A. will aid in the sale of the book.

The directory is especially valuable to the new students at Nebraska, because of the information it gives about student affairs, organizations and the student body itself. Complete information about the Greek-letter memberships will be a handy guide for Freshmen, according to the editors.

Discussion Groups To Be Held On Wednesday

The first of the men's discussion groups, which are being organized by the Committee of Two Hundred, will be held at the rooming places of students next Wednesday evening.

The group leaders expect to visit all Freshmen men before that time and to explain the plan to them and ask them to enroll. The Freshmen men have been grouped into geographical districts according to their rooming places and each leader has been assigned a district.

The groups will normally meet on Thursday evenings, from seven-thirty, but they will meet this week on Wednesday because Fred Rindge will be here then. The normal training classes for leaders and assistant leaders will meet at seven p. m. each Tuesday in Faculty Hall.

Topics of current interest will be discussed.

SONG BOOK PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

Wide Publicity Given Move of Nebraska Committee to Compile and Publish Book of Songs By Students and Alumni.

Organizations Giving Financial Support

Societies of University Asked to Furnish a Guarantee Fund to Secure Success of Undertaking—Innocents Behind Activity.

Plans for the Cornhusker song book are rapidly nearing completion. The movement is receiving wide publicity and meeting approval all over the state. Already University organizations are backing the book with donations.

Not only is the Daily Nebraskan helping with the publicity, but the Lincoln and Omaha papers and other papers throughout the state are helping, both in their news and editorial sections, to make this book a success.

Clarence Haley, president of the Innocents Society, stated the stand taken by the organization as follows: "The Innocents endorse and heartily approve of the work planned by the Cornhusker song book committee and are ready and anxious to back this committee both financially and by co-operating in every possible way to successfully publish a song book for the University of Nebraska."

Financial Plan.
Ruth Kadel, Ruth Lindsay and

Russell Bailey, in charge of the financing of the book, have outlined the plan to be followed. It is decided that each organization in the University will be solicited for the sum of $10 to form a guarantee fund in order that the work may commence at once.

This plan was elected because it would not affect individuals and would be too small a sum to affect an organization materially and would give students an opportunity to back up a worthy proposition.

As soon as each organization has been solicited a list of those contributing will be printed in the Daily Nebraskan, and it will appear in the song book when it is published.

The fund secured in this way will be handled through the Student Activities office, and a financial statement will be published at a later date.

FIVE HUNDRED ATTEND ALL-FRESHMAN PARTY

Armory Decorated in Hallowe'en Colors for Fall Event of First-Year Class.

Five hundred students of the class of 1924 attended the first all-Freshman party of the year held at the Armory Saturday evening at 8:15. Students attending Nebraska for the first time responded to this opportunity to get acquainted with other members of the class.

The mixer, which was a Hallowe'en party, was under the direction of several committees headed by Dick Babcock. The chaperons were Dean Amanda Heppner and Prof. and Mrs. Darbour.

ALUMNI FALL FROLIC BOOKED FOR TUESDAY

Banquet, Stunts and All-Around Good Time Planned for Former Huskers.

University of Nebraska graduates and ex-students will hold their first annual fall frolic de luxe Tuesday, November 2, in the Chamber of Commerce building, under the auspices of the Lincoln Alumni club. A banquet at 6 o'clock p. m. will be followed by a program of varied stunts and skits.

Walter F. Wilson is chairman of the committee on attendance, and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Mrs. G. A. Grubb and Mrs. Lynn Lloyd will assist him. The program committee includes Maurice Hyde, Mrs. J. E. Gavin and Guy E. Reed.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Want Governor Impeached.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The Alabama Federation of Labor in convention here Friday adopted by unanimous vote a resolution demanding the impeachment of Governor Kilby for sending state troops into the coal strike district. In accordance with instructions contained in another resolution, also adopted unanimously, attorneys for the federation will be requested to start proceedings for the impeachment of the governor on the ground that he has violated the state constitution by interfering with the guarantee of free speech and assemblage.

No Escape for Profiteers.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Department of Justice will continue its drive on profiteers "wherever and whenever found," regardless of the dissolution on Monday of the fair price organizations, according to a statement issued tonight by Robert T. Scott, assistant to the attorney general, who formally announced the disbanding of the fair price committees.

In a review of the organization's work, Mr. Scott claimed credit for the department in forcing down prices of many commodities.

Expects Ohio Victory.

CHICAGO.—George L. Scott, state chairman of the Ohio republican committee, after a careful survey of the situation in the Buckeye state predicts that Harding and Coolidge will carry seventy-six of the eighty-eight counties in Ohio, and that the democratic national committee candidates will carry not more than twelve counties, with pluralities of not to exceed 11,000.

Red Cross Work in Europe.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The estimate made for the expenditures of the American Red Cross in its relief work in Russia is fourteen million dollars. Service was extended to millions of men, women and children and ranged from hospital care for the sick to food and clothing for the starving and ill clad. The work was carried on through commissions sent to Siberia, western Russia and the Baltic states.

NEBRASKA CORNHUSKERS ARRIVE IN NEW YORK READY FOR BATTLE WITH RUTGERS ON POLO GROUNDS

Students Throng Burlington Station to Give Squad Big Send-Off When Team Leaves for Eastern Invasion.

Big Crowd To Attend Election Day Game

Scarlet and Cream to Meet Pick of Coast Grid Exponents in Pair of Contests at New York and Penn State.

Nebraska students and other football enthusiasts thronged the Burlington station at 4:30 p. m. Friday to speed the fighting Huskers on their way towards New York where they will play Rutgers Tuesday.

The squad arrived in New York this morning and will take a light workout on the Polo Grounds this afternoon. Saturday the Nebraska delegation saw the Ohio state eleven eliminate the Chicago team from winning the western conference championship when the Ohioans in the last few minutes of play defeated Chicago, 7 to 6.

Tomorrow is the day of the Nebraska-Rutgers battle. As tomorrow is election day, many banking and business houses will be closed in New York City. The Nebraska-Rutgers game should therefore be well attended as it is the only athletic contest in the city on that date. Followers of the Nebraska team watched with interest the outcome of the Cornell-Rutgers game staged at Ithaca, N. Y., Saturday. The Rutgers eleven went down to defeat to the tune of 24 to 0.

CHEERING STUDENTS GIVE TEAM SEND-OFFS

University Band Heads Procession to Depot to Witness Departure of Special.

Several hundred Cornhusker football enthusiasts gathered at the Burlington station Friday afternoon to give the football team a send-off on their eastern trip.

Twenty-five members of the team, along with Director F. W. Luehring, made up the Husker group. Others who accompanied the team were J. T. Lees, provost; Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Everett, Eugene Dinsmore and Ardin Godwin. The train, which had been marked by some of the students, "the Nebraska Special to New York to Beat Rutgers and Penn State," pulled out of the station at 4:35, and waiting crowds gave one last cheer for the team.

The band started the celebration by forming for a parade at 4 o'clock at the corner of Twelfth and R streets. Accompanied by a few of the students, they marched to the station, where the crowd had already assembled. After the band had played for a while, "Skipper" Bailey led the students in cheers. After the chant was sung, there were calls for a speech from Captain "Bill" Day.

Responding to the calls, Captain Day said, "We are going east with the spirit of victory. The team has a greater winning spirit right now than at any time this season. We want every one in Lincoln to be back of us and we are out to give the very best we have."

The team crowded the back platform of the train while the crowd cheered and yelled with a spirit of victory which seemed to be prevalent everywhere. Confidence in the ability of the Huskers to down Rutgers on the Polo Grounds in New York City tomorrow, was shown on every side.

In the absence of Coaches Schulte and Schessler, who had previously started, Director F. W. Luehring was in charge of the squad. "The team realizes its responsibilities," he said. "The team has the fighting spirit and they are out to uphold the middle west against the east."

Members of the Squad.

Those who made the trip are as follows: Bill Day (C), center; Wade Munn, guard; Monte Munn, guard; Swanson, end; Puclek, tackle; Weller, tackle; Scherer, end; Newman, quarterback; Wright, halfback; Hartley, fullback; Moore, halfback; Dana, end; Hubka, fullback; Schoepel, halfback; Hoy, halfback; Crissel, end; Young, guard; Howarth, quarterback; Thompson, halfback; Dale, fullback; Wenke, tackle; Triplet, center; Bassett, guard; McGlasson, quarterback; and Martin, end.

CADETS ATTENTION!

All cadets are required to be in uniform at drill Tuesday evening at 5 p. m. Those who have not received their uniforms should arrange to get their issue before drill Tuesday evening.
