HUSKERS MEET RUTGERS TODAY

Nebraska Team Makes Debut in Eastern Football Circles in Clash with New Jersey Eleven.

Arrive at Metropolis

Scarlet and Cream Squad in Excellent Shape—Schulte Praises Rutgers Clan and Expects Hard Battle.

Nebraska's warriors make their debut into eastern football circles this afternoon when they mix with the fast Rutgers team at the Polo Grounds in New York City.

The game promises to be one of the hardest fought contests seen in the east this year on account of the fact that an eastern team does not like to bow to a western team. Today is a holiday in New York and one of the largest crowds that ever attended a football game is expected to throng the Giants' home.

The Cornhuskers are in good condition after their four days trip and are ready to give Rutgers one of the hardest battles that school has had this year. Nebraska has suffered only one defeat so far this year and that was at the hands of the formidable Notre Dame team. All of the men are anxious to keep up the good work and are going to fight all the harder to keep from being defeated. Rutgers have been defeated in a number of games this year but all of their defeats have been by some of the foremost teams in the east. Coach Sanford of the Rutgers crew is noted for the "fighting spirit" his teams have displayed in their former games and he has promised the followers of the Rutgers clan that Nebraska will have to fight for every inch of ground the Huskers gain in the battle.

Schulte Not Confident.

The Cornhuskers were met in Niagara Falls by Coach Schulte who saw the Rutgers-Cornell game Saturday. He has been giving the squad the dope on the New Yorkers. Final instructions were given the men yesterday. Coach Schulte does not seem confident of winning the game but intends to give the easterners a real battle. The following report has been received from Niagara Falls and will give the loyal followers of the Cornhuskers some idea of how things stand with the team.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 1.—Over confidence in Cornhusker ranks in the ability of the Nebraska football warriors to trim Rutgers college on Tuesday in the gridiron battle at the Polo Grounds, New York, was rudely jarred Sunday morning when the Nebraska party arrived in Niagara Falls. Head Coach Schulte, who scouted the Cornell Rutgers game Saturday at Ithaca was at the Michigan Central station when the Huskers pulled in from Chicago greeting them with the warning that Rutgers has a real football team and will be hard to beat.

"Rutgers has one of the biggest teams in the east," said Schulte. "Coach Foster Sanford started the season with several green performers in the lineup, but the class of football which Rutgers displayed against Cornell convinced me that the Rutgers are a real football team." ## ALUMNI WILL REVEL TONIGHT AT BANQUET

Election and Football Returns Are Features of Program at Chamber of Commerce.

Hundreds of alumni and ex-students of the University will revel at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce tonight at 6 o'clock, when their annual get-together banquet is planned. The entertainment will depart from the more staid and dignified alumni banquets of the past. The committee has promised that the only serious part of the evening will be the election returns—and that they will not be serious to everybody. They go even so far as to prophesy that Nebraska will win the Rutgers game.

The plot of the evening is laid about the presidential candidates who will each tell in a talk not to exceed ten minutes just how they happened to be elected. The candidates have all accepted—at least men who look like future presidents have accepted. The guests will be divided equally into the various national political parties in order to insure vociferous applause.

"Yearly Shock to Appear."

Another feature of the evening will be the appearance of the first yearly newspaper known as "The Yearly Shock." It will be filled with ridiculous personalities regarding the great and near-great among the alumni and former students at the University. Any reader who finds a word of truth in the newspaper will be awarded a prize. The board of editors has already left town, it is reported, in order to escape assault and suits for slander and libel. Songs, stunts, football and election returns, along with Nebraska yells, will reign until 9 o'clock, after which the rest of the evening will be spent in dancing.

Reservations for places at the feast may still be made by telephoning B3555 or consulting Miss Annis Chalkin, alumni secretary, at the Administration building.

Citizenship Meetings Held Among Women

According to Director A. A. Reed, Charless Delano of the Department of Political Science and Edna Bullock of the Legislative Reference Bureau are co-operating with the league of women voters and the University Extension Division in holding citizenship meetings at Wausa and Bloomfield this week.

A lecture group has been formed at Blue Springs and will be supplied with a series of six programs by the University Extension Division Lecture Bureau during the winter months. The first number will be the Kobl-Upton-Reed musical trio, opening the series November 19. Four lectures by members of the University faculty will follow as numbers in the series.

Professor Grumann of the Fine Arts Department is arranging with members of that school to furnish musical numbers occasionally in the lecture bureau's programs.

NEWS OF THE DAY

First Sinn Feiner Executed at Dublin.

DUBLIN.—Kevin Barry, an 18-year-old Sinn Feiner, as hanged here yesterday for alleged complicity in the murder of three British soldiers. Shortly after the execution a notice was posted at the prison gate announcing the penalty had been exacted and giving the details of the hanging. The notice was torn down as soon as the guard had re-entered the gate.

Four Killed in Train Wreck.

STANTON, Ia.—Four men were killed and a score injured in a collision of two Burlington passenger trains and a freight near here this morning. The wreck occurred when No. 10, a fast passenger train ran over the rear end of the freight. The wreckage fell over onto the west bound track, and No. 1 west bound, crashed into it at a high rate of speed.

Campaign Methods Are Satisfactory.

MARION, O.—As the campaign reaches its end Senator Harding feels not only complete confidence in its result, but especial satisfaction in the methods which we have followed. He promises to restore to the country the methods of constitutional government; to make and keep the government representative of the national purpose together with the declarations of policy in the republican platform will constitute their covenant with the nation.

Six Policemen Killed in Ireland.

LONDON.—Six British policemen were killed and ten wounded in a great week-end outburst of violence in Ireland. The Irish office announced today. According to the Irish office statement at least fourteen attacks were made against military and constabulary in Ireland, the most of them in Tipperary.

NEBRASKA'S "COMMONER" TALKS TODAY IN TEMPLE

Hon. W. J. Bryan Will Address University Students—Returns to Lincoln To Cast His Vote

Nebraska's famous "Commoner," William Jennings Bryan, speaks to University students at a special convocation today at eleven o'clock in the Temple Theater. This is Mr. Bryan's first appearance before a University audience since last January when he spoke on the fundamentals of right living, before a gathering of students so large that scores were turned away from the theater.

The subject of Mr. Bryan's address has not been announced. It is not known whether or not he has chosen a subject. His message will be for students and everything he will have to say will be of the utmost value.

Classes will not be excused at this hour, but those students who have no recitations at eleven o'clock today are urged to hear the speaker. During all his years of public service Mr. Bryan has maintained his Nebraska residence. He is returning today to cast his ballot in the presidential election. He will speak elsewhere in Lincoln during the day.

BOOSTER COMMITTEE OF OMAHA CLUB ANNOUNCED

Purpose of Advance Enthusiasm in Organization—Members Will Meet Wednesday.

The members of the Booster Committee of the Omaha Club were announced by President Harry Latowsky Monday afternoon. This division of the organization is representative of every fraternity and sorority and will be under the joint chairmanship of J. Wilbur Wolf and Geraldine Nussbaum. The committee is composed of one member from each sorority and fraternity in school, together with five members from the student body.

The purpose of the committee is to instill enthusiasm into the club activities and to see that all meetings and social events are well attended. This group will act as a nucleus in making the different members of the organization better acquainted with one another.

Why Committee Is So Large.

"A large committee of this nature is necessary when the fact is taken into consideration that there are some four hundred Omaha students in the University," said President Harry Latowsky. (Continued on Page Four)

SIGMA DELTA CHI ELECTS TWO MEN TO MEMBERSHIP

Orvin B. Gaston and Gregg McBride to Be Initiated Sunday—LeRoss Hammond Goes to Convention.

At a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary national journalistic society, Sunday afternoon, October 31, in the Daily Nebraskan office, Orvin B. Gaston, '23, and Gregg McBride, '23, were elected to membership. Orvin B. Gaston is a Sophomore at the University and has been connected with the Daily Nebraskan for two years as reporter, sports editor and news editor. Gregg McBride attended Wesleyan University until this year. He was formerly editor of the Wesleyan student publication and is now one of the news editors of the Daily Nebraskan. ## GORNHUSKER STUDENTS TO STAR IN COMEDY

Dorothy Doyle, Florence Garbutt and Joe Iverson Play Leads in Farce, "Katcha Koo."

Dorothy Doyle, '21, Florence Garbutt, '24, and Joe Iverson, '23, will play "leads" in the catchy musical comedy to be presented November 9 under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The purpose of the play is to raise funds to send the girls to the industrial conference next spring. The name of the farce is "Katcha Koo" and it has been presented many times in various towns throughout the state with success. A production of "Katcha Koo" by Nebraska City talent at that city in 1919 was noteworthy. (Continued on Page Four)

Tam Covers Multitude of Sins As Co-Ed Runs to Eight O'clock

No longer are we able to recognize our feminine friends by their distinctive hats. No longer do they display their taste and individuality by attractive headgear. The feathers, bright-colored ribbons and soft silk flowers of former days have gone. The big droopy brims under which some shy maiden hid her blushes, and the small close-fitting turbans, both with their threatening hatpins have given way to big, jaunty, careless tams. Brown ones, blue ones, embroidered ones and plain ones all have their place in each co-ed's wardrobe. With their air of complete "carefreeness" they are pulled to one side or the other, or back from the face, as each wearer desires.

But what is the cause of the sudden mania for tams? Why does every girl consider one a necessary part of her wardrobe? Perhaps the desire to be in style and their attractive price has something to do with it. But only the owner can know and realize their true worth and usefulness.

What a multitude of sins a tam can cover, especially when one is hurrying to an "eight o'clock." Perhaps she has lost a necessary hatpin; but it is all hidden under a tam and she goes merrily on her way. Or Boreas, with his band of cold breezes a-busy, and the co-ed wishes to protect her brown tresses; then too, she hides them under the protecting tam and each smooth wave remains in its proper place. Some Fine Arts student with fond hopes of being the leading artist of America wears one in order to affect the atmosphere of Greenwich Village. How unhappy is the girl in an automobile when she must hang on to her hat with both hands, and how embarrassed she is when she sees it go rolling down the street; but a tam removes these difficulties.

How sorrowful is the girl to whom tams are not becoming. To her they become sour grapes. Perhaps to those belonging to the great sisterhood of tam wearers they become tiresome and ugly, but how blest is the designer and originator of these freaks of millinery by each appreciative owner!

HARDING RECEIVES PLURALITY OF SEVENTY-ONE BALLOTS IN STRAW VOTE ON BIG ELECTION

Republican Nominee Scores 201 Against 130 for Democratic Candidate—Only 339 Votes Cast—Debs Gets 7.

Polls Center of Activity All Day Monday

Eastern Schools in Inter-Collegiate Preference Give Senator Big Majorities—Richmond College Goes Strong for Governor.

Results of Nebraskan Straw Ballot

Warren G. Harding.....	201
James A. Cox.....	130
Eugene V. Debs.....	7

Senator Warren G. Harding, republican candidate for president, received a plurality of seventy-one votes over Governor Jaes A. Cox, democratic nominee, in the straw vote on the presidential election that was held at the University of Nebraska Monday, November 1, under the auspices of the Daily Nebraskan. Two hundred and one votes were polled for Harding, as against one hundred and thirty for Cox, Debs, the socialist candidate, received seven votes. Christensen, of the farmer labor party, and Watkins, the prohibition candidate, received no votes.

The total number of votes cast was 339. One ballot was declared void because the voter placed an X after the names of both Harding and Christensen. The straw vote was open to only those students who are subscribers to the Daily Nebraskan. Members of the staff of the paper were on hand in Station A all day to check subscribers' names off the lists and to aid students in casting their ballots.

The small number of votes cast cannot be considered as a true representative indication of Nebraska opinion on the campaign. However, enough ballots were marked to afford a fairly accurate barometric test of the students' views.

Harding received slightly over 60 per cent of the total number of votes cast. Cox received something over 39 per cent of the total, and Debs three-hundredths of 1 per cent.

Results in Other Schools.

In the inter-collegiate straw vote in which a large number of eastern schools participated, the republican nominee lead by a substantial margin. Every one of the eighteen participating colleges gave Harding large pluralities except Richmond College, Richmond, Va., which went to Cox, 171 to 32. Syracuse rolled up the record number of votes for the senator, giving
