

HUSKERS MEET RUTGERS TODAY

 gers men have at last hit their best gait. The Cornell warriors, coached by Gil Dobie, an expert football tutor, struck their first snag of the year when they bumped into Rutgers on the Ithaca field. Cornell was completely baffled in its efforts to drive ahead on straight football and scored every one of its three touchdowns by resorting to the forward pass. And Rutgers also proved that it has a dangerous offense, as the New Brunswick team twice plunged to Cornell's ten yard line. But for its success in the use of the forward pass, Dobie's team would have been up against it and could not have scored. The Rutgers team is heavier than Nebraska in the line and also has the edge in the back field.

"If the Cornhuskers have been confident of beating Rutgers they might as well forget all about that and get down to the serious business of preparing themselves to play their best football of the season. The Penn State game is a secondary matter just now. The important affair is to make ready for Rutgers."

Coch Schultz had the Cornhuskers all but resigned to a battle in the mud with Rutgers. The weather forecast for Monday and Tuesday indicates rain.

Take Sight-Seeing Tour.
 The Cornhuskers devoted Sunday to a sight-seeing tour of the great falls of the Niagara and the river gorge, rounding out the afternoon with a brisk limbering up cross country walk and then a two hours session at their text-books and studies.

Herb Dana of Fremont, right end, is the only member of the Nebraska party whose physical condition may block him from getting into the Rutgers game. Dana today developed a slightly infected arm which required the attention of the team surgeon, Dr. Oliver W. Everett, who is making the trip with the Cornhuskers.

Harry P. Treadwell, graduate of the University of Nebraska Engineers College and former captain of the Cornhuskers' wrestling team, now in the employ of the International Harvester company in Chicago, joined the Cornhusker party in the Illinois metropolis and will accompany the team during its eastern junket.

SIGMA DELTA CHI ELECT TWO

 Initiation for these new men will be held Sunday afternoon, November 7, at 3 o'clock in the Phi Delta Theta house.

LeRoss Hammond, president of Sigma Delta Chi, was elected delegate to the national convention which will be held at Norman, Okla., November 18, 19 and 20, with the Oklahoma chapter as host.

Hereafter the organization will meet the first Tuesday of each month. Special banquets and meetings will be arranged, at which prominent journalists and newspaper men will be asked to speak.

CORNHUSKER STUDENTS IN PLAY

 The play harkens of the Orient. There will be incense, silken bloomers and turbans of India, as well as scores of young men and women dressed in dazzling costumes. The production centers about the East Indian fakir, Katcha Koo. Dr. J. S. Pierce suddenly undergoes a complete metamorphosis through being invested with magic wearing apparel which induces characteristics hitherto unknown to him. He is finally changed by an all-powerful Hindu to a love-making and flirtatious gay young Lothario.

Discussion Groups for Association Members

Enrollment in Y. M. C. A. discussion groups, which will have their first meeting next Wednesday evening in one of the University Y. M. C. A. rooms, is open to all men students. The students chosen as leaders of these groups expect to call upon every Freshman man and ask him to enroll.

The leaders will be trained in a normal training class, which will meet each week to prepare the lesson to be taken up in the next meetings of the discussion groups. A demonstration discussion group will meet tonight for the benefit of the leaders. The first normal training class will be held next Tuesday evening.

BOOSTER COMMITTEE NAMED

The school room was rather chilly and the school teacher from Boston sent this written complaint to the principal: "There is hardly caloric enough in this room to altitudinize the mercury above the freezing quotation."

Co-ed: "You should change your style of dancing a little."
 Fresh: "In what way?"
 Co-ed: "You might occasionally step on my left foot."

The Newspapers are not making
Men's Clothing
 But, We are Giving
LOW 1920
 PRICES NOW!

—the newspapers have given you a great deal to think about.—reports from "Tom, Dick and Harry" have been full of hope and promise.

—Clothing does not come from Washington, nor is it manufactured by the newspapers. The manufacturers in Chicago and New York pay the cost of woolsens and the wages of the garment workers—they know how much it costs to produce a GOOD SUIT OF CLOTHES.

If you should make a list of all that goes into the making of a suit, you would wonder how it has been possible to keep the price of Good Clothing down as low as it is; you would find that most everything in the making of men's clothes has increased 300 per cent.

However, in the face of false propaganda which has misconstrued the price situation to the public during the past few weeks, we wish to make this statement, and are mighty proud of it
