REGISTRAR'S OFFICE WILL NOT LEND AID LOCATING STUDENTS
Los Angeles.—Because of the extra work involved, the Registrar's office will no longer locate students during class hours. This accommodation will be taken over by the "Y" and "Y. W." organizations. Miss Russel, of the Registrar's office, said: "Students throughout the day interrupt the work of the staff by asking where 'so and so' is at 'such-and-such' period, and at the end of the day we have a stack of cards over half inch to replace. The Y. and Y. W. formerly had charge of this work, but during the past three years inquiries have been light, and we have handled them. This year the requests are so numerous we will be obliged to again place duplicate files in the hands of the Y organizations."

To save attendants from the laborious task of copying the files, each student will be given a card upon which to place his schedule. This card will then be given to the Y. or Y. W.
The new system will be started some time next week.—The Southern California Trojan.

BIG SISTER MOVEMENT GREAT HELP TO "FROSH"
Los Angeles.—"The 'Big Sister' movement is one of the most far-reaching organizations in the school," said Miss Biles, dean of women, in a recent interview. In past years, according to Miss Biles, the seniors called the juniors to aid them in helping the freshmen to find their places in the school. However, this year not only the seniors and juniors were big sisters, but the sophomores were called in to help. But still each big sister has from two to three little sisters. This organization is the only college association that brings the freshman into close personal contact with the upper classman. The standards of the college are handed down to the little sister by association with the big sister, and the little sister keeps the grave and reverent senior ever young.—The Southern California Trojan.

GIRLS LIMIT NUMBER OF OFFICES TO BE HELD
The women students of Penn State College have inaugurated a new system in regard to the election of officers of the various women's activities. The Point System which is being installed provides that no girl may hold more than a certain number of offices. Every office-holder is to be credited with a certain number of points and no girl will be permitted to obtain more than a prescribed number. The purpose of this is twofold; to give every girl a chance to engage in college activities, and to relieve the strain upon any one individual.—Penn State Collegian.

THE GIRLS ARE SINGING, TOO.
The women students of Penn State College have shown their college spirit and interest in singing to the extent of electing a song leader, Miss Anne Morgan, from the senior class. Song practice every Wednesday evening in the dining room under Miss Morgan's direction is speedily familiarizing the girls with the songs of their Alma Mater.—Penn State Collegian.

WE NOTE:
Freshmen going to a Princeton game when Rutgers plays.
Freshmen strolling leisurely up and down the north side of Blecker Place.
Freshmen quaintly wearing an ordinary hat and waive by saying freshmen hats were for campus only, and neckwear.
Freshmen downtown, around town and where they shouldn't be. (Freshmen who do not live on campus discounted.)

WE WOULD LIKE TO NOTE:
Improvement and results.—The Targum, Rutgers College.
Listen to a few of the freshmen rules at Bucknell Women's College:
1. Respect, of course, is demanded.
2. Silk hose is banned.
3. Green ribbons are necessities.
4. Telephones, etc., are first everyone else's, then the freshmen's.
5. Thy speech shall be "Yes, miss!" and "No, miss!"
6. Men as a subject for discussion is taboo.
7. Hats must be worn when off the campus.
And there's a number of rules not mentioned here which are just as stringent. We are wondering how violators of these commands are punished!

One student objects to the honor system because it deprives him of the opportunity of cheating when success or failure in a subject depends upon it. He is too honorable to cheat under the honor system, hence the difficulty is raised. We pass.—University of Washington Daily.

CREDIT FOR WORK IN RELIGION.
The Arts College faculty committee decided at a conference Wednesday at 4 p. m. to give credit for work done in the Ohio School of Religion. The committee reported to the arts faculty to refer this report and similar reports to a special committee with instruction to consider and report upon a university policy with reference to other schools of religion. It was also decided that, owing to the two weeks' interruption, deans reports would be deferred one week.—Ohio State Lantern, Columbus, O.

Club Will Discuss the Irish Question

The Irish question is the subject for discussion at the first meeting of the International Relations Club of the University, to be held Tuesday evening in Social Science building. The University club is a branch of the International Relations Club with headquarters at New York. This club is backed by the Carnegie Foundation. Noted speakers are sent out by the national club to speak to members of the branch organizations. The University club is limited to sixty-six members and qualifications for membership are very rigid. Melvin Bekins is president; Sam Brownell, vice-president; Alice Temple, secretary-treasurer, and Prof. Roy Cochran of the History Department is sponsor. This meeting will be private for the transaction of business. On November 30 an open meeting will be held at which time Dean P. M. Buck will speak on India and International Relations.

Missionary Tells of Work Among Chinese

"Kidnapped by Chinese Brigands" was the novel theme that Dr. A. L. Shelton chose for his speech at a special convocation yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Temple theater. Dr. H. H. Harmon, pastor of the First Christian church of Lincoln, presented the speaker and told something of his work among the Chinese. Dr. Shelton told many incidents of quarrels between the different tribes of that country. It was on his way to Tibet from China that brigands kidnapped him and held him for ransom. Dr. Shelton is temporarily in America because of illness. He hopes to return to carry out his project of establishing hospitals and medical stations in Tibet. Shortly after he was taken ill he was rescued by the Chinese government and will now be able to continue his work.

Students May Read Story of Rutgers Game

The New York Times Nebraska Rutgers football "story," which opens with the statement that "they grow something besides corn out on the prairies of Nebraska," is accessible to University students in general in University Hall 112, Prof. M. M. Fogg's office. Members of the News Writing class are studying it as a specimen of an interesting sports writing.

FRIEND PUBLISHERS ENTERTAIN SCRIBES OF SALINE COUNTY

Friend, Neb.—E. A. Brown and son and Harry Hannis, publishers of the Friend Sentinel and Friend Telegraph, entertained the members of the Saline County Press Association and a few invited guests in this city Friday afternoon. A chicken dinner banquet was served at 1 o'clock. After the banquet the ladies were entertained at a matinee at the Family theatre while the men held a business session in the Commercial club rooms. Another dinner was served at 6 o'clock, after which the guests attended a lecture and concert at San Carlo theatre.

Memorial Pictures Are Placed on Exhibition

Pictures of war memorials from the American Federation of Fine Arts will be on exhibition in the Art gallery by Wednesday. The purpose of this exhibition is to stimulate the erection of proper memorials throughout the country. The Federation has given every attention since the war to directing these memorials along artistic lines. The exhibition will be free to the public. It is of especial interest at this time because of the celebration of Armistice Day this week.
