SERVICE KEYNOTE OF SPEECH BY GENERAL

Serve to Limit Says Army Officer in Talk to Students.

Give the World the Best That You Have, is Advice to University Members.

"Serve to the limit of your mental and physical ability," declared General Leonard E. Wood at a special convocation yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Temple theater. "Service" was the keynote of his speech. The speaker was introduced by Chancellor Samuel Avery. The convocation was arranged late Wednesday by Prof. Paul H. Grummann of the School of Fine Arts.

General Wood continued in part: "Those who participated in the late World War are now the biggest advo- kept cates for peace—but until our enemies know that everybody in the United States is ready and willing to serve. then only will peace be brought about. "We don't want a large army for two reasons: (1) it demands the expenditure of a large sum of money; and (2) it falsely represents the strength of a country. The organization of a country must be moral as well as material. Equality of Obligation.

"Our constitutional democracy stands for equality of privilege. This is fundamental. With this, however, goes equality of obligation, which rests squarely upon us all. It is not voluntary; it is not a matter of volunteering-it is a duty we all have to "Give to the world the best that you have. The League of Nations has ceased to be an issue-politically at least-but the thought is not yet dead. America will eventually be found in a position to throw her influence toward a world peace-but she will not be forced into this position by the bend cheer leader and the band were guidance of other nations.
