VOL. XX. NO. 45.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1920.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

STUDENTS CHOOSE CORNHUSKER TOWNS

Ballot Today to Select Twenty-five Most Popular Cities in State for Year-Book.

Two Choices Allowed

Number to Be Used in Annual Will Be Reduced to Ten After this Vote.

Students of the University will vote today for the two towns that they desire to have represented in the Nebraska section of the 1921 Cornhusker. After the vote has been taken, the Cornhusker staff will count the votes and announce the list of twenty-five towns and cities in Nebraska that receive the highest number of votes.

In order to facilitate the matter of obtaining a vote, it was decided to place a ballot coupon in this issue of the Daily Nebraskan. Students will merely tear out this coupon and deposit it in ballot box in Station A, and in the Aggie Book Store at the Farm.

Any town or city in Nebraska can be voted on by the students. In order to make the selection more fair, it was decided to give each student two choices. These votes will be counted individually and the total votes announced Wednesday. If a student gives two votes to one town on the same ballot only one will be counted.

This method of choice has been selected by the Cornhusker managers to insure that the will of the students will be expressed in the big feature section of the 1921 annual book. This section promises to be the most successful and attractive feature section that the annual has ever had.

A page will be devoted in this section to each town finally selected for a place in the book. Photographs of these towns and cities will be used and short writeups of the towns will be given. A skilled artist has been employed to do the decorative work for this part of the book.

Voting will continue from the time of the distribution of the Daily Nebraskan at 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. Every subscriber of the paper should vote. After the twenty-five winners have been announced, the staff will consider plans for reducing the number to ten which will be placed in the feature section.

CO-ED CHEMISTRY CLUB INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

Iota Sigma Phi, Honorary Society, Takes Nine University Women into Organization.

Nine new members were initiated into Iota Sigma Phi, women's honorary chemistry society, on Friday evening, November 12. The new members are Ethel Curry, Leona Nurenberger, Dr. Francis Long, Josephine Reyman, Margaret Carman, Mary Foster, Mrs. Florence Fuller, and Ella Fortna.

Iota Sigma Phi is a national organization, founded for the purpose of furthering the interest of women in chemistry. There are seven chapters of this society, at California University, Leland Stanford University, Yale University, Iowa Agricultural College at Ames, and at the state universities of Washington, Colorado and Nebraska.

This organization was formed from four similar societies in different universities. The two chapters in California contributed the constitution, Washington the pin, and Nebraska the name. The national organization was completed in 1916. The chapters at Yale and Ames were admitted last year. Mills College in California is now petitioning for a chapter.

The requirements for initiation into the society are that the girl shall have completed two years of her college course, and shall have credit for fifteen hours of chemistry, with an average of 80 per cent in this work.

The officers of the local chapter are: Lila Sands, president; Mary Hendryx, vice-president, and Esther Allen, secretary-treasurer.

Artists' Guild Plan Art Gallery Exhibition

Nebraska Artists' Guild will place its work on exhibition in the Art gallery next Thursday. The Guild consists primarily of Lincoln artists, although a number of artists from other sections of the state are members. The work on exhibition will not only be paintings and water-colors, but also specimens of interior decorating, artistic weaving and ceramics. This interesting collection will be open to the public for two weeks.

PRESS CLUB WILL ORGANIZE TONIGHT

Students Interested in Journalism Plan Society to Help Nebraska Publications.

A great deal of favorable comment among students and faculty members has followed the announcement last Wednesday that a movement had been started among students interested in journalism toward the formation of a University Press Club.

The first meeting of the proposed organization which is to be composed of all the members of the editorial staffs of the several University publications and all students in journalism together with all others who have a desire or an inclination to take up newspaper or magazine work, has been called for 7:30 Tuesday evening in the Law auditorium.

A committee of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, has been meeting with Chandler Trimble of the Department of English, and formulating tentative plans for the organization.

There are approximately 300 students taking at least one course in journalism in the University at the present time and perhaps one hundred more who are filling executive positions on or are contributing to University publications, besides a dozen or more working on the Lincoln daily papers. It is desired to secure a 100 per cent enrollment of these students in the Press Club.

The primary object of the organization is to unite the journalistically inclined students into one big society for the purpose of intensifying interest in the profession and to have some organization large enough to warrant inviting speakers of prominence to address it.

The plan for forming this club has been heartily endorsed by members of the University faculty. Dean P. M. Buck of the Arts and Science College, has said that he is entirely in accord with the movement and is glad that definite steps have been taken toward making it a reality.

Prof. M. M. Fogg of the English Department, lends his support toward the plan, which he says is in accordance with an idea he has had for some time for members of his journalism classes.

J. E. Lawrence, city editor of the Daily Star and instructor in journalism, is quoted as saying that the club should find a ready response from every student who is interested in the newspaper work.

Basketball Men Hold Pre-Season Meeting

Coach Schissler called the first meeting of the basketball men last night in Memorial Hall. About twenty-five men who will be eligible for the Varsity this year reported. Coach Schissler gave a short talk on the prospects, the schedule and the spirit of the team. The prospects this year are better than they have ever been. With the exception of Schellenberg, Paynter and Russell, last year's squad will be intact. Last year Nebraska was recognized as having one of the best if not the best quintet in the country. The Huskers defeated the best of them from all over the country. The coming season should be even a greater success. The men have the advantage of experience as well as reputation and wonderful results are anticipated. The men will start working out immediately either on the track or in the gym in order to be in good condition when the season opens. Coach Schissler refuses to make the schedule public at this date but he admits that the Huskers have the stiffest schedule a Nebraska team has ever had.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Nations Hold An Assembly.

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—Despite the fact that the United States did not have a delegate at the first meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations, they today announced their readiness to take up at once the world problems of the future. Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister, was chosen president of the session.

Europe Still Buys Armaments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Europe is still spending a great deal of money for military and naval purposes, upon a peace time scale that is unprecedented, and is paying little attention to taxation to care for current expenditures. Financial observers abroad convey a gloomy picture of financial disturbances, affecting alike England, France, Italy and other powers. They lessened hope of Europe's ability to pay off soon the huge American obligations now outstanding.

Hunger Strikers Gain Flesh.

CORK, Nov. 16.—The nine Sinn Fein hunger strikers, who voluntarily ended their fast last Friday after going ninety-three days without food in Cork Jail were much stronger today and have already begun to take on flesh. They were given their first cooked food today.

STATE COLLEGE TITLE HANGING IN BALANCE

Grand Island, Omaha, Doane and Wesleyan Are Now Tied for Conference Honors.

Team	Stands	In	Pts.	Op.
Grand Island	4	0	1000	125	13
Doane	4	0	1000	78	13
Omaha	4	0	1000	126	26
Wesleyan	2	0	1000	88	7
Hastings	4	1	800	96	49

Wayne	0	1	000	13	32

Games Played Last Week.

Omaha, 32; Wayne, 13.
Doane, 20; Peru, 6.
Cotner, 48; Kearney, 0.
Hastings, 20; Midland, 3.
Grand Island, 34; York, 0.

Games This Week.

Kearney vs. Midland at Kearney.
Wesleyan vs. Hastings at University Place.
Central vs. Grand Island at Grand Island.
Peru vs. Wayne at Wayne.
Cotner vs. Trinity at Sioux City (tentative).
York vs. Doane at Crete.

Grand Island College, Doane, Omaha University and Nebraska Wesleyan University still seem to be the pick of the Nebraska inter-collegiate football race. Not a single defeat has been chalked up against these four speeding elevens and they head the list. Omaha University has won every game she has played this season, while the other three leaders have the scores marked on their records. The Omaha Maroons, however, can hardly be considered contenders for the pennant, because of their slender victories over Cotner and Midland.

Of the three leaders—Grand Island, Doane and Wesleyan—all rate within the realm of pennant possibilities. It may be that a series of post-season games will be played to settle the championship. Doane and Wesleyan are already dickering for such a contest.

Had it not been for a slump in the early season games the crown could not probably be in the hands of the Methodists. Wesleyan looked poor in her early games, but seemed to find

Venizelos Faction Leads in Election.

ATHENS, Nov. 16.—Early returns today from the general elections throughout Greece Sunday, showed the political faction of Premier Venizelos leading almost every community. There were indications that the faction supporting former King Constantine was badly defeated. There were no disorders.

Hardings Snow Bound in Texas.

POINT ISABEL, Tex., Nov. 16.—President-elect Harding, Mrs. Harding and their party made another unsuccessful attempt to leave Point Isabel but one of the worst storms in years prevented. The engine broke down and in the midst of a forty-five mile gale the train left the track.

Mrs. MacSwiney to Sail for U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton prison after a hunger strike lasting seventy-four days, will sail November 24 on the Celtic for the United States, according to a cable from her received here today. She will reach Washington early in December and is expected to testify shortly thereafter at the hearings on Ireland scheduled to commence Wednesday.

CONVOCAION FOR ARTS AND SCIENCE STUDENTS

All Wednesday Classes at Eleven Dismissed for Special Meeting in Temple.

All classes in the Arts and Science College will be dismissed at 11 o'clock Wednesday, November 1, when a special convocation has been planned for the students and faculty of that college in the Temple theater. This convocation has been postponed one day, and was originally scheduled for today at 11 o'clock.

Dean Philo M. Buck, head of the Arts College, will address the convocation. Chancellor Samuel Avery is also on the program. He will discuss "The Science of Art."

"Humanity in Art" will be the subject of a talk by Prof. Donal McFayden of the History Department. Prof. Paul H. Grummann, head of the School of Fine Arts and chairman of University convocations, has chosen "The Fine Arts" as his subject. Professor Grummann will define some of the broader purposes and ideals of the Arts and Science College, which make it a significant force in the educational world of today in its relation to the future.

This is the first special college convocation of the year and all Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and members of the instructional force of the Arts College are specially urged to attend in the interests of the college. The speeches promise to be interesting and no technicalities will be considered.

Iowa Sends Band To Big Game at Omaha

Lead Parade and Advertise School on Saturday Trip.

Results more than justified the time and trouble spent in raising the money to send the fifty piece college band to Omaha for the Creighton game. From the time that they arrived in Omaha and marched to the hotel they were the center of attraction whenever they appeared on the streets.

On Saturday morning the Iowa State Band led the Creighton parade and in the afternoon they gave a concert in front of the Hotel Fontainelle before the game. At the game the band played thruout the afternoon in spite of the drizzling rain and were instrumental in focusing the cheering of the Iowa State backers.—Iowa State Student.

Inter-Greek Contest Discussion Today

Members of the Inter-Fraternity Athletic Association will meet today at 11 o'clock in the Athletic office of the Armory for the purpose of electing officers and taking up other important business for the Greeks. This is the first meeting of that body this year and every representative is urged to be present. Inter-Greek bowling, basketball and football will be discussed.

FACULTY ADOPTS NEW LANGUAGE STANDARD

Sixteen Hours Requirement for Arts and Science and Combined Law Degrees.

Three new curriculum requirements designed to raise the standard of the work required of students seeking a degree in the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Nebraska were adopted by the faculty of the college at a meeting in the Social Science building, Saturday morning. The changes affect the modern language department and the law students working for a combined degree in law and arts and sciences.

The change in modern language requirements was presented by the modern language department. In this recommendation the course of study committee recognizes work done in modern languages in the high schools but stiffens the language group requirements in the University. Students will hereafter be required to have sixteen college hours work in modern languages to complete the group requirement, instead of ten hours only required heretofore. The following resolution was passed by the faculty of the Arts College on this requirement:

"Moved that the equivalent of sixteen college hours be required for the completion of the modern language group requirements. If a student presents one year of high school work in language, then ten college hours will be required in the same language; if he presents two or more years of high school work then six college hours of work in the same language would satisfy the requirements."

Affecting the combined course of law and arts and sciences, the faculty of the Arts College passed a rule requiring any law student seeking a degree in the arts and sciences from the University of Nebraska must take at least thirty hours work in that college here. This means that students from other or smaller colleges will not be able to obtain the degrees of bachelor of arts or bachelor of sciences from the University of Nebraska on the strength of work in law alone, combined with courses taken at other arts colleges. They will be required to take at least thirty hours of work in the Arts College of the University of Nebraska in order to receive the combined degree on completion of their work in the Law College.

A second recommendation of the course of study committee adopted, at the meeting, provides that fourth-year students (who have completed at least thirty hours in the College of Arts and Sciences) may elect courses in the Departments of Jurisprudence and Public Law which count toward the degree of bachelor of law, and not to exceed thirty-two hours of college law work. These subjects count toward the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of sciences. The effect of these two decisions is to open up the courses of the College of Arts and Sciences to law students interested in phases of liberal education, particularly requiring some work in the Nebraska Arts College in order to obtain a degree in the University of Nebraska. The second recommendation opens to students of the arts and sciences interested in public affairs, courses in the College of Law such as constitutional interpretation, history of the common law and history of jurisprudence. The latter subjects are taught by Judge Hastings of the College of Law.

A student may register in the six-year combined law and academic course in his Senior year (provided he has completed in residence at least thirty hours of work in the College of Arts and Sciences), and elect not more than thirty-two hours in the College of Law.

HUSKERS PREPARE FOR AGGIE GAME

Team Put Through Stiff Signal Practice Tuesday—Men in Good Shape.

Scrimmage Freshmen

Varsity Outweighs Michigan Crew But Have Fast Offensive Backfield to Stop.

Coach Schulte and his proteges are not discouraged in any way over the outcome of Saturday's battle with the Kansas Jayhawks. All of the men came through the game in fine shape and are more than ever determined to humble the Michigan Aggies and Washington State. These teams will be Nebraska's last foe on the gridiron for the present season. The Michigan Aggie game will be played Saturday and the Washington State contest will take place on Turkey day.

The Michigan Aggie team have one of the strongest combinations this year that ever represented the school and Nebraska is more than anxious to send them home with the short end of the score. The game Saturday will be the first contest between the two schools since 1914. Nebraska overwhelmingly defeated the "farmers" that year to the tune of 24 to 0. Coach Schissler scouted the Michigan team and is busy giving the Freshman team some of the formations used by the Aggies. Schissler reports that the Aggies are coming out of a slump and are playing a brand of football that will keep the Huskers guessing from the first kickoff until the final whistle. Nebraska will slightly outweigh the Michigan squad but their weight will be of no advantage on many of the formations developed by the Aggies. Nebraska's record for the season is somewhat better than that of the Aggies but the Cornhuskers will have to put up a real fight to stop the Michigan men from getting near the Husker goal.

Coach Schulte had the squad out early last night and worked the men until darkness made it impossible to see the ball. He worked the squad at signal practice the entire evening. Tomorrow night will be devoted to

SENIOR SOCCER PLAYERS BEAT SOPHOMORE CREW

Victorious Team Will Meet Junior Aggregation for School Championship Saturday Morning.

The Senior girls' soccer team upset predictions and defeated the Sophomore eleven in the game Monday noon on the Athletic field. A score by the fourth-year players soon after the opening of the second quarter ended the game which was the second Senior-Sophomore clash. The victorious Seniors will meet the Junior machine in the championship game, scheduled for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

In the first contest Armistice day the two teams played for six periods without a score. The opening quarter in yesterday's game was similar to those of the first game. The ball went back and forth with neither side having the advantage. But during the second period the fourth-year girls displayed superior team-work and outclassed the Sophomore team. They carried the ball steadily down the field toward the Sophomore goal. When close to the goal, Ruth McKenney's educated toe lifted the ball off the field and it sailed through the goal posts over the heads of the Sophomore defenders. This goal ended the playing and the Seniors were victors.

All the players showed up well in the game. The strong Senior forward line was well sustained by the backfield. Martha Krogmann, Senior goal keeper, effectively protected the Senior goal and sent the ball back to the center of the field whenever the goal was in danger. Sue Stille, Ruth McKenney, Ruth King and Ruth DuBois were in the Senior forward line. Mary Shepherd, Ada Stidworthy, Rowena Pollard and Ruth King made up the backfield. Sophomore players were Ruby Dammie, Adelheit Dettman, Beate Epstein, Davida Van Gilder, Helen Kennedy, Margaret Falconer, Beulah Grabill, Katherine Matchett, Dorothy Whelpley and Joyce Rundstrom.
