He won his first "N" on the track squad, taking the Missouri Valley championship in the shot put in 1917. Last year he was a letter man on the squad and took several first places in inter-scholastic meets. He is a member of the Acacia fraternity and was prominent in dramatics featuring in several plays presented by the Dramatic Club.

The Rotary Club has sent in a call for four cheer leaders for their section at the Michigan game, and "Skipper" Bailey, who has charge of the yell leaders, has sent out a hurry up call for extra yell masters. He will be glad to meet all applicants at the Student Activities office at 7 p. m. tonight.

One hundred and fifty-five students of the College of Agriculture revived the old United Ag Club Thursday evening. Most of the members who compose the new organization are either members of the Ag Club or the Home Economics Club. The United Ag Club was very active in school activities until a few years ago when it was allowed to wander off and die. Assistants Are Needed On Business Staff

A call has been sounded for assistants on the business staff of the Daily Nebraskan. The work of the advertising department is increasing to such huge proportions that the manager and the assistant cannot properly handle it. Consequently Manager Fred Bosking has asked for volunteers to assist in gathering advertising for the paper.

This will offer an opportunity for students to gain valuable experience in newspaper administration. The advertising field is one of vast dimensions and a helper on the staff of the Nebraskan is afforded the chance to get many helpful pointers in this work.

Anyone who is interested in devoting a portion of his time daily to this work should get in touch with the business manager at once.

Student Life Section of Annual Will Fairly Reek With Scandal

Bits of scandal from every corner of the campus will be aired in the Student Life Section of the 1921 Cornhusker, according to the editors of the book. This department, because of many requests, will be larger than those of any other years, and will contain twice as much University gossip.

"When every Husker buys his annual this year and he has glanced at the various articles and pictures in the first part of the book, he will instinctively turn to the Student Life Section," said Hugh Carson, business manager of the Cornhusker. Experience of other years has proved that this section is not only read once, but repeatedly, after everything else has been finished. The reason for this appears to be the fact that all ordinary mortals seem to delight in laughing at certain predicaments in which their particular friends have played a prominent part.

Twice as Many Pages.

In order to give everyone the proper amount of space to display his brilliancy—or lack of brilliancy, as the case may be—the Scandal Section will contain twice as many pages. It is not merely the humor of the situation, however, that will be shown. The Student Life department will be a veritable "Book of Knowledge." "What Every Student Ought to Know" has been suggested as a proper name for these pages of gossip.

Pictures—varied and illuminating—will illustrate many of the findings of the sleuths who are already on the trail of slander and scandal. The necessary formality of the Board of Censorship will be, of course, one of the assets of the Cornhusker. This board is to be liberal and adjustable. It is its elasticity, according to those who know, that makes it of so much value. Students will not find that their own section has been hampered by the presence of this criticism.

The section will give students the opportunity to see themselves as they really are and as others see them. The co-ed who has unknowingly erred or departed from the straight and narrow path of the student—so to speak—will find herself pictured "au naturel." The bold and dashing University Apollo will appear minus his perfect role and his over-powering air. "No discrimination will be shown and no mercy spared," declared the editor of the student page yesterday.

It is the wish that the section have a truthful and accurate account in picture, rhyme, and song of the life of the student on the campus, in the classroom, and in that particular sport conducive to the utterance of sweet nothings. "Wait and see," is the only hint we have of the real contents of the gossip paragraphs.

SENIOR SOCCER TEAM WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Battle Closely Contested Throughout—Ruth McKenney and Martha Krogmann Star.

With a lone goal to their credit, the Senior girls' soccer team won the championship in the inter-class tournament by defeating the Junior aggregation in the final game Thursday morning on the Athletic field. The margin between the two teams is no greater than the one point difference in score indicates. The two evenly matched teams played one of the best soccer games ever seen on the Nebraska field.

Until the final whistle blew the outcome of the game was in doubt. The one Senior score was made in the first quarter. Several times after that they tried to carry the ball through the Junior goal posts for another score but were effectually held by the third-year players. It seemed almost inevitable that the Juniors would send the ball through the Senior goal posts but each time the play was blocked by their opponents.

Individual Stars.
Ruth McKenney, stellar Senior player, and Martha Krogmann, goal keeper, were the mainstays of the winning team.

THANKSGIVING MIXER SATURDAY EVENING

All-University Turkey Day Celebration Set for November 20 in Armory.

"Hungry" Long and "Blue Devil" Orchestra Will Furnish Musical Entertainment.

The all-University Thanksgiving party, to be held in the Armory Saturday evening, November 20, at 8:30, will include all the regular features of a mixer and many surprises as well, according to the committees in charge.

"Don't be a bit surprised if you see a large turkey strutting around. Merely accept the circumstance as a part of the party," said a committee member in describing the special Thanksgiving features. "This party will fill you with the Tanksgiving spirit," he continued at the same time emphasizing the surprise element of the party.

"Hungry" Anderson, who had charge of the "Blue Devil" orchestra, which played at the University mixers last year, will have his orchestra here to furnish the music.

Provision has been made for the checking of coats and hats. The committee has lined up a sufficient number of checkers to see that all wraps are taken care of.

The entertainment will be dancing (Continued on Page Four)

Commercial Club Hears Storage Battery Expert

Mr. J. L. Robb, secretary and general manager of the Western Storage Battery company, addressed the University of Nebraska Commercial Club Thursday morning on "Service." After the speaker's address, a business meeting of the club was held.

"No permanent good can come from an unjust transaction," said Mr. Robb. "If that is the only idea I leave with you men today," he continued, "I think it has been worth while for me to talk to the club." The speaker gave a splendid description of his own business and how the branches were handled, laying particular stress upon the need and results of a good cost accounting system.

The club adopted a new constitution in the business meeting that followed the address. Plans are nearly completed for a forum to be held in the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce some evening after the Thanksgiving recess.

DENTAL AND LAW COLLEGES TO BATTLE ON GRIDIRON

Inter-College Title to Be Settled by Match on Athletic Field Monday.

The Dental College and the College of Law will match elevens Monday afternoon at 2:30 on the Athletic field in the second inter-college game of the year. The Laws practiced again yesterday and appear to have the same advantage over the Dents as they displayed when they tromped on the Engineers Armistice day, with a score of 13-0.

As there are no Varsity football men in the College of Dentistry, the embryo dentists declare that they have some excellent material. The Law team, however, appears to be in the best of condition after the game with the Engineers. Nevertheless, Coach Malcolm Baldrige will continue to round the barristers into shape to better prepare them for the coming battle.

Whole "Dent" College Eligible.

The entire Dental College is eligible to partake in the Monday clash, because they have no men either on the Varsity or Freshman grid squads. Their team organization was started last Sunday. Since that time daily signal practice has been held. The "Dents" appear confident of a victory over the barristers, in spite of the fact that the Engineers fell before the tactics of the Laws in the Armistice day tangle.

The game promises to be exciting. Cheer leaders from the ranks of both colleges will appear on the field and inject spirit into those in the stands.

HUSKERS AWAIT MICHIGAN SCRAP

Secret Practice Held in Nebraska Camp Yesterday in Preparation for Invaders.

Aggies Not Discouraged

Freshmen Will Clash With Tecumseh Legion Eleven in Curtain Raiser.

Coach Schulte drilled his men last evening in a stiff signal practice. The practice was held behind closed gates and every effort was exerted to develop a class of teamwork which will entirely baffle the Michigan Aggies on next Saturday. The Aggies are out for blood and feel confident of victory even though they have lost several games this season. The following article to the Star will give one an idea of the Wolverine sentiment:

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 18.—

The Michigan Aggies boarded a train today for the trip to Lincoln after a week of preparation for the battle with Nebraska on Saturday, which monopolized the entire limelight of Michigan Aggie athletic affairs, players and coaches alike recognizing the meeting as the crucial test of the Aggie season.

Ever since the University of Michigan game in October, the Wolverine "Farmers" have been favored with a comparatively easy schedule, and Coach "Potsy" Clark has made full use of the chance to point his team for the all-important engagement with the Cornhuskers. That Clark's men have come along with remarkable speed was evidenced last Saturday when they literally buried Chicago Physical Training College under an 81 to 0 score, this in spite of the fact that two full teams and many additional substitutions were used by the Aggies during the game.

Off to Slow Start.

The Aggies started the season slowly. After dropping a hard fought battle to Wisconsin, conquerors of the championship Illinois team last Saturday, and losing the following week to the University of Michigan, the East Lansing squad apparently struck its stride and has been riding rough-shod over all competition since. When the big green squad smeared Olivet College, 109 to 0, on October 20, the dopsters thought that weakness on Olivet's part might be responsible for the score; but with the drubbing given the Chicago training school team, which had been enjoying a winner season, it became apparent that "Potsy" Clark had really developed a formidable offensive.

Aggie Line Baffled Badgers.

Defensive power was shown early in the season. Wisconsin, now rated about the most powerful aggregation in the "Big Ten" conference, found the going mighty rough against the Aggie line, and was able to chalk up only 6 points during the entire first (Continued on Page Four)

All members of the club and also all former students or residents of Wayne should be present at the party. This is the first of a number of social features planned by the club for the ensuing year.

Thanksgiving Program At Next Convocation

At 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning of next week the annual Thanksgiving convocation will be held. The governor's message will be read and the chorus will give two important numbers. The "Pilgrims," by Chadwick, a musical setting to Mrs. Heman's poem will be sung to the accompaniment of strings, piano and organ. A duet "Oh Lovely Peace," by Handel, will be sung by Frances and Fern Oman.

Anyone desiring to work on the business staff of the Daily Nebraskan must report to the business manager Friday morning, November 19, at 10 o'clock in the Student Activities office.
