DID YOU?

Did you ever
Catch a late train
Back after vacation
Hoping to get there
After everyone else
And effect a
Dramatic entrance
Anticipating the devotion of
Your loving sisters who
Will hang on your Neck and carry your
Bag up to the uppermost
Of the utmost
Only to find
Dead and ratty
Silence
And that there was Still
A later train?

Y. W. C. A. BAZAR.

Letters have been sent out to the members of the Y. W. C. A. asking them to make and donate inexpensive gifts to be sold at the Y. W. C. A. Christmas bazaar. It is the duty of every Y. W. C. A. girl to respond. A gift that represents the work of the giver is even more valuable than a money contribution. It brings the Christmas spirit to the girl who makes it and carries that spirit to whoever finally receives it. While only members of the Y. W. C. A. have received letters asking them to donate gifts, any other girls who care to contribute will find that their gifts will be appreciated.

There is a countless number of trinkets to tempt the Christmas shopper which would require only a small amount of the busy school girl's time and money. Small bunches of organdy or knitted flowers would be practical as contributions. Fancy bags of various kinds are always popular. Then there are always pin cushions and various little articles for milady's dressing table in vogue that the average girl can make. Fancy blotters and pen wipers are attractive and inexpensive. Art students can doubtless select something made in class to contribute. These are only a few of the many suggestions that might be made. No girl should have difficulty in thinking of a gift that she can make.

THE GIRL AND THE "N" SWEATER

The one goal that more than any other is the winning of Then when the "N" won there is a tendency to drop out of athletics. Whenever this occurs the "N" sweater is failing in its purpose. It is supposed to furnish the artificial stimulus required to start girls in University athletics. But by the time they have won the "N" they ought to be sufficiently interested in the various sports to play for the sake of the game. Any girl who has won the "N" without developing enough interest in athletics to stay in without artificial stimulus has failed to make the best of her opportunity.

STATE COLLEGE EDITORS CONVENE IN MILWAUKEE

(Madison, Wis.)

The second annual convention of the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Press Association, composed of editors and business managers of 33 student publications in Wisconsin colleges and normal schools, will be held in Milwaukee on Dec. 3 and 4, under the auspices of Marquette University and Milwaukee Darrow College. The first meeting of the association was held at the University of Wisconsin last year.

Charter members of the association which was organized for the purpose of advancing the cause of college journalism, are the following Wisconsin schools; University of Wisconsin, Marquette, Carroll, Beloit, Ripon, Lawrence, St. Mary's, Milwaukee Darrow, Milton, Northland, Campion and St. Claire.—Press Bulletin.

ISSUE NEW HANDBOOK ON ANIMAL DISEASES

(Madison, Wis.)

It pays to keep animals healthy. Experienced and successful stockmen and veterinarians are certain that a more extended use of the principles of sanitation and feeding, with less dependence upon cure-alls, is most important in keeping livestock healthy and thriving.

"Drugs can never take the place of good sanitation and good feeding, but animals do get sick," says B. A. Beach and F. B. Hadley, veterinarians at the Wisconsin Experiment Station. "When stock is sick it needs careful attention," they say in a new bulletin First Aid to the Stockman. "In many cases the stock will require medicine which will need to be administered under the direction of a veterinarian."—Press Bulletin.

I Say:

When hats cost about
A month's wages
At a munition factory,
And it takes a bushel
Of Wheat to see a
Good show, or two
Bushels if she is with you.
Or three bushels if
She is any kind of
An eater, and four
Bushels if you
Take a car to and
From the place of amusement.
No wonder so many
Students are tired
Of movies and would
Rather walk than ride.

Black Masques Give Second Girls' Party

Saturday afternoon Ellen Smith Hall was the scene of a tea for the Sophomore girls. The Black asques were hostesses to the eighty or more girls who enjoyed the afternoon together. The program consisted of a piano solo, Olive Lehmer; a dance, Russian Rhapsody, Helen Burkett; a reading, Christian Deed, Katherine Matchett and a vocal solo, Heart of Mine, Alberta Buchta. Ruth Vinyard, Mildred Krumm and Ruth Kadell played for the dancing. Refreshments of orange ice and home made cookies were served. The success of the Sophomore tea was due to a great extent to Olive Hartley, chairman of the party.

This was the second of a series of five parties which the Black Masque is giving this year for girls of the four classes and one for the girls' honorary societies. The first party was given last month for the Freshmen girls. If all in the series are as successful as the first two it will have been a fine program of parties.

Olive Lehmer, former president of Black Masque and May Queen in 1917 was guest of honor.

SOIL SURVEY FILM NOTES

A fine set of colored slides has been prepared by Miss Taylor and Mr. Shoemaker of the Conservation and Soil Survey department for the State Department of Public Works.

Five hundred feet of film showing the Nebraska-Michigan Aggie game and the visiting Rotarians is ready for distribution to the various Rotary clubs and other organizations.

One of the most interesting films prepared by the Survey department tells the story of Achievement Week in Phelps County. It will be shown to Phelps County people, December 6, at Holdrege. Achievement Week as staged in this county was a feature of the state, and was organized under the direction of Mr. Gilmore, County Agent, formerly an employee of the University. The picture shows a complete history and development of the county, from its early settlement.

From the Cordova leather shops come gifts for those who can really appreciate the beautiful. For every bag is the individual effort of a skilled artist. Made from the finest of Spanish steer hide and hand-tooled, hand-laced, and hand-stained, they are the consummation of all that is truly perfect in leather work. There are small flat purses and large handbags, priced from $20 to $50.

"Buds in a silver cup"—not the name of a new movie, but a description of certain adorable corsages we have just received for Christmas shoppers. And they're only 85¢! The rose is not the only flower that blossoms in organdie, for tulips and morning glories have just unfolded their gaily colored petals in our neckwear section. These new corsages, which seem partial to browns and the lovely blues and rose which harmonize, nestle in pretty boxes, and may be had at $2.50 and $3.75.

—Street Floor.

Oval boxes, covered in flowered papers, are here for those of you who makes your own flowers, or perhaps want to dress up your Christmas candies in a particularly attractive fashion. Priced at 50¢. New veillings!—and among the many new patterns is that very smart chenille-dotted henna veil so in vogue at the present. Another one worthy of particular mention is a white veil dotted in brown. Had you thought of what a nice gift a hand-made handkerchief to match would make?

—Street Floor.

Cozytoes—doesn't that suggest a nice grate fire, curled up feet, and a good book? In reality, it names the sort of felt slippers we have that are waiting to become Christmas gifts. All of them have padded elkskin soles with spring heels, and they are obtainable in any color you might want, including bright red, purple, Pekin blue, a delicate lavender, and gray. Pretty trimmed, and fashioned in a number of different styles. Specialty priced at $2.95.

—Second Floor.

A telephone concealer is easy to make. Our art needlework instructor says it can be finished in a day's time, and the cost complete for a very nice one will not run over $15. You should see these quaint Dresden china misses, waiting for their voluminous silken skirts! All necessary materials may be bought in our Art Needlework Section, and instructions are free.
