combined with deep red roses. A luncheon was served. Those invited as chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. August Luebs and Mrs. W. A. Brown, Acacia house mother.
Acacia has a huge fireplace of the old fashioned make. The fireplace was put to good use Saturday afternoon and proved one of the features of the party.

Sigma Tau.
Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, held its first dance of the year Dec. 11 at Ellen Smith Hall. Twenty-five couples attended. Christmas decorations were used, the feature being a large electrically lighted Christmas tree upon which were hung favors. The chaperons were Professor and Mrs. C. E. Mickey, Professor and Mrs. George R. Chatburn, Professor and Mrs. L. W. Chase and Professor and Mrs. J. W. Haney.

Alpha Sigma Phi.
Alpha Sigma Phi entertained at a dancing party at the chapter house Saturday evening. Cardinal and gray, the fraternity colors, were used in the decorations. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dunaway and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cole.

WEDDINGS.
Vallery-Stretton.
A wedding of interest in University circles took place in Maynard, Wednesday evening when Miss Doris Vallery became the bride of Charles T. Stretton of Chester, Neb. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. R. Vallery in the presence of a small party of the immediate relatives and was followed by a bridal dinner. After a wedding trip to Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Stretton will be at home in Scottsbluff. The bride is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and the groom of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

and fourth years of military training. The Colonel is attempting to interest a larger number of students in the advanced program of the R. O. T. C. The Military Department at the University selects students for these courses upon their ability. The War Department gives them a commutatio allowance.
The course includes two summers spent in a training camp at the government's expense. A commission as second lieutenant in the reserve army is the reward offered after a student finishes a four year's course. The report was referred to the Course of Study Committee which will determine the amount of college credit that will be given for this advanced work.
