

Book Sale to Aid Women Journalists

A plan to raise money through the sale of books has been adopted by the Woman's National Journalistic Register, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalistic fraternity.

The register is intended to help young writers and artists. It acts as a medium between employers, editors and managers and ex-college students who are looking for jobs.

The bureau, by contracts with publishers, has arranged to furnish books by mail to any address. The discounts are graded according to the volume of business developed by the bureau. Books purchased from the bureau will help its chances for success.—Daily Cardinal.

LIGHTED TREE AT CHRISTMAS "SING"

(Continued from Page One) 1. Such things as food, clothing, fuel, books and other necessary student supplies. 2. Provision for housing of students, including not only lodging, but also properly heated and lighted rooms for study. 3. Medical aid. 4. Necessary training and equipment for promoting self help. 5. Help in repatriating students. The publicity committee for the entertainment was headed by Story Harding, '23, and a poster committee was in charge of Valora Hullinger, '23. The announcement of the committee was that over one hundred dollars was raised Wednesday evening. W. Ferris of the Kimono Store donated the Santa Claus suit which was used on the program.

NEW PHILOSOPHY INSTRUCTOR HERE

(Continued from Page One) Union Academique Internationale in 1919 and again at the Brussels session of 1920, where the members of the union were entertained at the famous Hotel de Ville. He is personally known to a number of members of the faculty of Nebraska's university, who recognize him not only a scholar of great distinction, but also a man of a genial and attractive personality. Princeton Graduate. Professor Gray is a Princeton graduate with the degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia, in which institution he has from time to time carried classes in Sanskrit and Persian, the fields of his first interest. He has also been connected with the Oriental departments of the New York public library and of Harvard University library, and as an editor and writer is known for his work on numerous encyclopedias and works of reference. He has written a number of books, both technical and popular, in the Oriental field, among the translations of Persian poetry, Sanskrit drama and fiction. Syriac, Arabic, Hebrew and Armenian are other Eastern languages which he has studied extensively. It is considered doubtful if there are half a score of men in the world possessed of the wide linguistic and cultural knowledge which Dr. Gray will bring to Nebraska.

HARVARD MEN ARE SELF-SUPPORTING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 15.—Harvard men, according to the report of the Harvard University Students Employment bureau, are earning on an average $17,000 last year. The total amount earned by students securing employment through the bureau and those who found positions from other sources was estimated at $150,000.—Utah Chronicle.

MUSIC BY WIRELESS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The first gathering of the society next term will be addressed by F. D. Kolata, radio inspector of the port of Boston. The subject of his address will be largely on the attempted legislation of congress. The title is "New Radio Laws Under Consideration in Congress."

Last Thursday seventy-five members of the Cambridge Broadway Baptist Church were entertained by the society at the radio station. It was in the form of a musical concert given by R. S. Williams of the Westinghouse Electric Company from his Boston station. It was well arranged as every person in the room could hear very distinctly.—Tech.

Madison Children To Be Guests at Student Parties

Fraternities and sororities are cooperating with Madison charities this year to give a series of Christmas parties next week for children of the poorer districts. Fifteen sororities working together, will give parties next Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at the various houses each house entertaining from fifteen to twenty children.

The fraternities, under the direction of Ku Klux Klan, are working with the Associated Charities and the Volunteers of America. They will entertain, altogether, about 300 children, at the different houses. Fraternities which have not yet been included in the plan are urged to communicate with William Collins, '22, at Badger 1405, if they care to help.—Daily Cardinal.

TO ASK $400,000 SOLDIER HOSPITAL

American Legion Will Request State to Erect Psychopathic Hospital.

MADISON, Wis.—A new $400,000 psychopathic hospital to care for the ex-service men who were injured during the war, the proposed building to be erected as a part of the University outlay by the state, will be asked of the next legislature by the American Legion, according to Major W. P. Lorenz, addressing members of the local branch of the American Legion last night. The New York state plan, provides for the adoption of a similar scheme, the federal government maintains and equips a hospital for ten years, at the end of which period the cost of the building has been wiped out by a ten per cent yearly payment, it then becomes property of the state. Under Major Lorenz's plan this procedure would be followed here. Ex-soldiers at the Mendota hospital are able to receive only half the amount of their federal allotment because of the state regulations on their appropriations, according to Major Lorenz. "The federal allotment for each of these men is $2.50," he said, "but because of the restrictions of state rules on the hospital appropriations, only $1.25 can be used." Two names were submitted for post commander, to succeed Major George W. O'Connell. They were Timothy Brown and Oscar T. Toews.—Daily Cardinal.

LIVE STOCK BREEDERS TO MEET NEXT MONTH

The meetings of the live stock breeders will be among the more important of those held in Lincoln during the week of organized agriculture, January 3 to 7. A day each will be devoted to cattle, hogs, horses, and sheep. In addition, the dairymen, the Galloway breeders, the Guernsey breeders, and the milk goat breeders will have programs or conferences.

Many prominent Nebraska breeders and feeders are on the programs to discuss the various phases of the live stock industry. Several men of national renown have also been obtained for the occasion. Prof. A. M. Paterson of the Kansas State Agricultural college, who is rated as one of the best authorities on sheep in the country, will address the sheep raisers.

In addition to several Nebraska breeders of large caliber, the swine men will hear Prof. L. A. Weaver of the Missouri Agricultural College, a man who stands high in the swine world.

The cattle breeders program contains the names of several well known men. Among them are former Governor A. C. Shallenberger, Short horn breeder; Frank Tomson, editor of The Shorthorn in America, and Arthur Gaudreault and Col. Ed. Schnell, Hereford breeders.

Frank H. Sweet, well known in the horse world, is on the program of the horse breeders.

D. D. Titken, president of the International Holstein-Friesian Association, will again address the dairymen. J. G. Winkler of the United States department of agriculture is also on the dairymen's program.

All meetings will be held at the University Farm.

FIGHT MUSIC PRICES

gate Fees Charged. Pan-Hellenic Committee to Investigate

For the past month the Pan-Hellenic Council has been considering the question of high prices for dance music which the organizations of the University have to pay local Kansas City orchestras. It is a popular sentiment that unjust prices are being charged and if it becomes necessary, good music can be obtained from other places.

A committee with Knolton Park as chairman has interviewed several of the Kansas City orchestras, and local orchestras will be interviewed this week. It is still a question whether the fraternities of the Pan-Hellenic will continue to patronize the Kansas City music.

Prices for dance music have nearly doubled in the last two years and has not been as large. Fraternities and sororities at the University of Nebraska, for example, are able to secure from eight to ten pieces of orchestras for the same amount that is paid for three pieces here. It is for this reason that the Pan-Hellenic is going to take some drastic action.

The fraternities have given their unanimous support to the action, and the Student Council will endorse an action of the Pan-Hellenic.—The University Daily Kansan.
