NEW ERA IN BASKETBALL.

The opening of this year's basketball season at Nebraska marks the beginning of a new era. In the past the attendance at the basketball games was limited to about six hundred by the size of the armory. With the use of the coliseum, which will accommodate about four thousand, basketball should become an all-University interest the same as football. An added attraction is the dancing which will follow the games.

The University has risen rapidly in basketball ranking. The move from the armory to the coliseum is a corresponding expansion. Everything points to the fact that basketball will assume a big place in student life, perhaps approaching that of football. There is nothing that keeps school spirit alive more than the assembling of the mass of students to yell for the team.

Season tickets are $5. Single tickets are $1 at the door and 75c at the Students' Activities Office. These include admission to the dance as well as the game.

STUDENTS DESERVE PRAISE.

Praise is due to the students of the University for standing firm in their purpose not to patronize places of amusements and orchestras until their price demands were met. Of the 119 couples that attended the Rosewilde last Saturday only thirteen were University students. Many students have made real sacrifices for the cause.

The results of the faithful work of the students is beginning to be evident. The list of proprietors who have met the price demands, published in the Daily Nebraskan yesterday, was hailed with joy. The students of the University are now to have the satisfaction of proving that it pays to make sacrifices of the present for the sake of the future.

REDUCING PRICES.

Long have we harped on the necessity of lower prices. The resolutions adopted by the combined fraternities and sororities have had some effect but not the results that they were drawn up to accomplish. Many dance halls have reduced their prices to meet the student requirement. Many have reduced their prices for subscription dances. Many orchestras have also reduced their prices to the required amount but the students are now watching the effort of some of these houses, orchestras and subscription dance promoters to avoid the strict construction of the resolutions. The halls which reduce their prices to the student estimate must also give their subscription dances at the student price and last of all must not pay the orchestras at the subscription dances more than the amount set down in the resolutions.

The student body is keeping a sharp eye on the subscription dances in particular. These dances are not met with as favorably by the student body as are the parties an dany attempt on the part of a dance hall owner to avoid the student resolution by paying the orchestra more than the student prices will result in giving not only the hall a black eye but will work against the orchestra as well. The students are desirous of being on the square with the hall owners and orchestras but they will not for one moment tolerate any attempt of one or more of these parties to avoid the resolutions.

A GREATER UNIVERSITY.

The University of Nebraska is growing and growing rapidly. In speeches before the city planning committee at the chamber of commerce Monday noon, Dr. H. B. Alexander Dr. F. W. Leuhning stated that the growth of the University was so rapid that the present campus would soon be inadequate for expansion of the University. The railroads to the west and north and the business part of the city to the south hamper expansion, they pointed out. This leaves the possibility of extending the campus, confined to the east alone. But here also is a difficulty; the Rock Island must move from the Antelope valley.

Dr. Alexander contended that the growth of the University lay greatly in a closer relationship between the farm and city campuses. He also favored the extension of Antelope park to Vine street on the north and the establishment of a union depot. He believes also that the extension of the park would unite east and west rather than divide. A committee will be appointed by Dr. G. L. Condra, chairman of the city planning committee, to confer with a zoning expert who will arrive soon at the request of Mayor Miller.

Nebraska's faculty is interested in the expansion of the University. Her students are interested. It is time for the people of the state to take an active interest in this large and growing institution. This year the estimate of the enrollment is in the vicinity of 7,500, almost one thousand more students attending this year than ever before. Dr. Leuhning expects to see 20,000 students here some day. Nebraska probably will have even more than that number. This means that over one hundred thousand people in the state will have direct connections and family ties binding them to the University. It is time for them to begin looking into the future and planning for the rising generation and the coming generations of young Nebraskans who will some day seek an education. Nebraska should provide a large enough institution and a good enough institution for its young men and women of the future. It has the resources and the room now. Let the people look into the matter, take an interest in the matter and provide for the years to come.

THOSE LUCKY LADIES.

We gaze with
Open-mouthed
Wonder
At the Lucky ladies
Of various
Sorority houses who Find time
Hanging heavily
On their Hands
And spend
Hours
Adorning the Window
That faces the Street
From which place
They bestow
Smiles
And hilarious
Flapping
Of the hands
At certain
Favored gentlemen
Who pass—
Pause—
And smile in Return.
Such a Life is Almost too Strenuous.

Ex-Service Men, Attention.
American Legion dues for 1921 will be received now. Join the University post, No. 145, while you are in school by paying the adjutant your dues for the new year. You will find him in his office on the first floor of the Temple.

Frank B. O'Connell, state adjutant, writes: "Put it up to the gang straight. Tell them that they must pay their dues this month or become a "draft dodger." They certainly don't want to drop out of the Legion, now that it is just getting a nice start and is beginning to really do things. Open season on non-Legion men is now on. Go out and bag 'em! Put your old Post over the top with a substantial gain."
Post No. 45 dues are only two dollars for 1921. This is cheaper than dues for any other Nebraska post. (Signed.)

MILES V. GLOVER, Adjutant.
CARL H. PETERSON,
