VOL. XX. NO. 73.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1921.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

BUDGET TOTAL IS OVER SIX MILLION

Sum Includes $350,000 For Memorial Gymnasium and Stadium.

FUND FOR TWO YEARS' WORK

Governor McKelvie Will Present to Legislature Sum for Recommended Budget.

(Special to Daily Nebraskan) The recommendations for University appropriations that Governor McKelvie will submit to the legislature as a part of the recommended budget for the two years ending March 31, 1923, were officially given to the Daily Nebraskan by Chancellor Samuel Avery.

The total amount requested is $6,312,800. This includes $350,000 for the Memorial Gymnasium and Stadium, and $100,000 for a nurses home at Omaha. The appropriations for these buildings are requested on the condition that all the other University appropriations asked for are granted, and in the case of the gymnasium, that an equal amount be raised. The total without the allowance for these buildings would be $5,644,000. This is for maintenance and minor improvements. The recommendation gives a clear understanding that nothing is to be subtracted from this sum to go toward the gymnasium and the nurses' home.

The amount of money that would be available to the University for the next two years from its various incomes and from tax levies on the present basis is $5,644,400, the amount requested for expenses other than the construction of the gymnasium and the nurses' home. This time, however, all the appropriations for the state of Nebraska will be included in a budget, and will derive their money from a common fund.

Estimates and Appropriations. The estimates for appropriations for the two years ending March 31, 1923, which Governor McKelvie will recommend to the legislature, are as follows:

For the biennium for maintenance of the University and all its activities and for a few minor improvements at Curtis Agricultural School and experiment sub-stations	$5,641,724
Permanent improvements	65,000
City and farm campuses, Lincoln, etc. improvements	50,000

SCIENCE BUILDING DEDICATION FRIDAY

President Kinley of Illinois To Deliver Main Address At Special Exercises.

Dedication exercises for the Social Science building will be held tomorrow and will culminate with the main dedication address which will be delivered in the evening at 8:15 o'clock by David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois.

The Social Science building will be open for visitors Friday and the different departments in the building will co-operate in welcoming the general public. There will be an informal reception in the afternoon and refreshments will be served on the third floor of the building. Admission to the formal dedicatory exercises and address will be limited at first to those holding invitations. Any vacant seats which are left, however, will be thrown open to the public after eight o'clock. This restriction of attendance for Dr. Kinley's address is made necessary because of the limited seating capacity of the auditorium.

State Officers Invited.

State officers, legislators, the clergy, members of the different faculties, and principals of the schools have received invitations to hear the address in the evening. The auditorium of the Social Science building has been selected by the committee in charge as the place for holding the exercises. Dean J. E. LeRossignol is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

President Kinley of the University of Illinois is a nationally known man in educational circles. He was one of the representatives of the United States government to Chile when that South American country was celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of its independence. He is also the author of several manuscripts on money and banking and has gained a wide reputation along this line. Dr. Kinley will also speak at the luncheon which will be held at Ellen Smith Hall Friday at 1:00 o'clock for members of the faculty and administrative officers of the University.

Tickets for the luncheon may be secured from Mr. Westermann.

The Social Science building has been in use for some time. The R. O. T. C. barracks were in the building while it was in the process of completion in 1918. After the signing of the armistice and the subsequent moving of the army headquarters, the building was completed and is now in every day use. It is recognized as one of the finest buildings of its kind in this part of the country. The classrooms are arranged conveniently and ergonomically and the Grecian style of architecture has attracted the attention of noted architects.

NEBRASKA WRESTLERS COMPETE FOR TEAM

Varsity Mat Artists Stage First Round of Tryout Preliminaries.

A good sized crowd of students saw the University of Nebraska wrestlers in the preliminary contest prior to the selection of the varsity wrestling team for the 1921 season. This was the first of a series of clashes in which the grapplers will be put thru the mat contests in the process of picking men to represent the University in the scheduled meets.

In the 116-pound class Benston won a hard fought decision over Estes after the bout had gone seven minutes.

Entries in the 125-pound class went to the semi-finals. Power won a decision over Reichenbach and Votaska disposed of Glenn Pickwell in a fraction over a minute.

Long won a fall from Isaccor in the 135-pound class in three minute forty-five seconds. In the 145-pound class Wertz defeated Richardson by whaling a fall in six minutes. Wilch in the first round of the 158-pound (Continued on Page Four)

STATE HISTORIANS CLOSE CONVENTION

Many Members Attended Interesting Meeting Held on University Campus.

The Nebraska State Historical Society, a state institution, assembled for its forty-fourth annual convention, in the University of Nebraska Library building Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Henry Fontenelle of Decatur, eighty-six years old, widow of the youngest brother of Logan Fontenelle, last chief of the Omaha Indians, was present and gave the Historical Society a beautiful necklace, known as the Fontenelle necklace, which had been given to her by Peter A. Sarpy, a historic Nebraska trader, when she was twelve years old. A bead-covered handbag, Indian handiwork, accompanied the beads as a container.

Mrs. Harriet L. MacMurphy who has been acquainted with Mrs. Fontenelle since 1863, made the presentation speech on behalf of the aged pioneer. She told much of the life history of Mrs. Fontenelle and her people and the story of the necklace which is a part of the history of three important French families prominent in early Nebraska history and of two Indian tribes.

Mrs. Fontenelle Speaks.

Mrs. Fontenelle spoke briefly before the meeting, telling of her pleasure at being present. She conveyed her message in spite of her advanced age.

President Don L. Love of Lincoln presided at the Tuesday evening program in the Art Hall which Rev. Michael A. Shine of Plattsmouth opened with a paper on "Peter A. Sarpy and Nebraska History." He had gathered a great amount of early history pertaining to Sarpy and through this showed Sarpy to have come to Nebraska in 1833 instead of in 1823 as has some times been erroneously stated. Sarpy was born in St. Louis in 1805. He engaged in business at Bellevue where he was married to an Indian woman.

Tells of Work in France.

Colonel Arthur C. Stokes of Omaha, who was in charge of base hospital No. 49 in the world war, told of the organization and activities of that Nebraska unit which was an important factor and which has received much note from its work in France. This organization originally consisted of 152 enlisted men, 100 nurses and 26 officers but the number was increased from time to time. The unit in France received as high as 346 patients in one day and at one time had 1,916 in the hospital. The speaker told in detail the manner in which wounded men were handled from the time of their arrival at the base hospital from the front. The death rate among these men, strange though it may seem, was less per thousand than that in the average American city in normal life.

CAGE QUINTET HITS ON ALL CYLINDERS

Schissler Machine Being Driven At Full Speed for Grinnell Contest.

TICKET SALE HAS STARTED.

Squad Working on Coliseum Floor—Preparatory to Two Games This Week.

Coach Schissler continues to put the Husker basketball squad through stiff workouts in preparation for the coming games. The squad is working at the Coliseum and are rounding into their old time form. Coach Schissler will send the Husker crew against a few outside teams in scrimmage for the coming contests.

The Huskers will meet the Stewart-Avery team of the City league tonight and the Armstrong team next week. Both of these quintets are composed of University and local stars and will furnish some keen competition for the Huskers.

The Varsity scrimmage against the Freshmen last night and the Frosh were able to hold their own against their more experienced opponents. Toft, the Freshman center, had his shoulder thrown out of place during the scrimmage.

Grinnell Arrives Friday.

Grinnell arrives Friday morning with a squad of twelve or fifteen men. The Iowans have participated in no major contests thus far this season. Grinnell has been playing some of the smaller schools in Iowa and defeating them by large scores. The Iowa papers predict a victory for the Congregationalists when the two teams meet.

Coach Schissler is making no predictions as to the outcome of the games Friday and Saturday but expects the Huskers to live up to their reputation and put up a real battle. A good deal of interest is being manifested on the campus as to the outcome of the game and from all reports a mammoth crowd should be on hand to celebrate the opening of the Coliseum and to welcome the Huskers home after their successful trip in the east.

Season Tickets on Sale.

The season tickets are now on sale and everyone should purchase their book as soon as possible. The ticket sale is in charge of the Iron Shinx (Continued on Page Four)
