BASKETBALL RALLY TO BE HELD FRIDAY MORNING

Opening of the 1921 Cage Season To Be Celebrated at Convocation.

The opening of the Cornhusker 1921 basketball season will be celebrated Friday morning at eleven o'clock at a short, snappy rally to be held in the Armory. The home schedule will commence in the evening, when the Husker quintet will be opposed by the team from Grinnell at the State Fair Coliseum. A large crowd is expected at the rally to welcome the home team which has recently returned from an Eastern trip, and which has not been seen in action here at Lincoln this season.

The rally will be in charge of the innocents. The University band has been secured and will be present to help make the meeting as peppy as possible. Captain Bailey is slated to make his first speech of the season and Coach Schissler will ask the students for their support. Dr. F. W. Luehring, director of Athletics will say a few words about the new basketball court which is being opened at the State Fair grounds and which is said to be the best and largest in the state.

Several other features of the program have not been announced as yet but the committee in charge is working to make this the largest rally of the year. The program in all will not take more than half an hour, is the promise of those in charge. Students will not need to fear missing their lunches by coming to the rally.

Freshman Hop Postponed.

Because the Freshman Hop, which had been scheduled for Friday evening at the Coliseum, conflicted with the first basketball game of the season and the dance which followed afterward, the first-year class mixer has been postponed for two weeks.

Theatre Reviews

"Dangerous Business"—First National

I went because it was Constance Talmadge. The name was "Dangerous Business" and I didn't go on account of the title anyway. Lately, Constance's pictures have had a tendency to be too frothy—too frivolous—too light and airy. They give the young star too much of an opportunity to pose and not enough to really act (or really act, for that matter).

I suspect that this picture was filmed after the diminutive star's return from abroad. In the entire picture she exploits new wonder-frocks—dainty frocks and some frocks not so dainty.

For those who like plays with a hero that at times appears more-like a villain, this play will be interesting and just what they want. As a lesson for too frivolous girls this play is a good sermon without the preaching.

But don't forget that a Buster Keaton comedy was the best part of the program! He gets the celluloid powder puff for clever comedies.

IMPLIED RESTRICTIONS IN STUDENT RESOLUTIONS

"Students cannot attend places of amusement which hire orchestras that are playing for prices higher than orchestra prices set by the student committee at the beginning of the boycott (although the price of such dance halls complies with the 'reasonable price list' if they expect to live up to the bargain they have made," declared University authorities Wednesday.

"When these halls employ orchestras that pay the stipulated price of $7 per man, with two dollars extra for leader, students may attend these dances with a clear conscience," they added.

Dean P. M. Buck Ill.

Dean P. M. Buck of the College of Arts and Sciences has been ill with an attack of the quinsy since last week. It was necessary to perform an operation on his tonsils Monday. He will not be able to return to his office until the last of this week or the first of next week.

BUDGET TOTAL IS OVER SIX MILLION

Reduction to bring estimates within total of University resources and tax offset (points of reduction not yet determined) 112,324

Conditional requests approved by governor (no part of these to be allowed if it should necessitate the cutting of any of the above estimates) follow:

Extension service of the college of agriculture (to meet Farm Bureau request)	215,880
Memorial gymnasium and stadium	350,000
Nurses' home at Omaha	100,000

Grand total $6,310,250

Resources for University Funds. The estimate of resources for University funds for the two years ending June 30, 1923 follow:

Note—Estimate of levies based on present taxable valuation of seven hundred eight million and the appropriation of 97 per cent of the proceeds.
University fund (mill tax)	$1,503,320
Special University fund (3-4 mill tax)	1,131,950
State activities fund (3-4 mill tax)	1,131,950

Total fro tax levies on present basis	$3,773,300
University cash (estimated)	$1,400,000
Endowment income (estimated)	100,000
Smith-Lever (U. S.)	211,150
Morrill fund (U. S.)	100,000
Experiment station fund (U. S.)	60,000
Total from other sources than taxation	$1,871,100
	$3,773,300
	$5,644,400

Final summary: Grand total of expenditure estimates for the biennium $6,310,250; Estimate of resources as above 5,644,400

Amount required from state in excess of tax levies $665,850. The resource classified as University cash is all cash taken in by the University, including fees, the sale of farm products and all other collections. The endowment income comes from the land which the government gave to the University.

The recommendations for appropriations made to the legislature by the governor require a majority vote in both houses. If the requests had not been approved by the governor a three-fifths vote in both houses would be required to pass them. Thus 51 affirmative votes in the House of Representatives and 17 in the Senate are all that are needed to pass the bill introducing these recommendations, while, if the requests had been made by the Board of Regents and not approved by the governor, 20 senators and 60 representatives would have to vote for the appropriations in order that they be granted.
