NEBRASKA BEATS ARMSTRONG FIVE

Huskies Win Fast Practice Game—Many Second String Men Used.

PLAY SOUTH DAKOTA NEXT

Luehring Calls Off Dance Scheduled to Follow Friday's Game Because of Examinations.

Coach Schissler sent his proteges against the fast Armstrong quintet of the City league in a practice game at the Coliseum last night. The Huskies displayed their old time form and were able to put the sphere through the hoop a great many more times than their opponents.

The score for the game was not kept, but the Nebraska team was leading by a safe margin when time was called. Coach Schissler used a large number of second string men and the substitutes showed up very well during the time they were in the game.

The Armstrong quintet is a fast aggregation and furnished the best opposition Coach Schissler could wish for for a practice contest. Shaffers and Holland, the forwards for the Armstrong team, are Freshmen in the University, and show good promise for the Varsity next year.

The South Dakota aggregation arrives sometime tomorrow morning. The game is called for 7:45 in the evening. The dance that had been planned to follow the game has been called off by Director Luehring on account of the examinations coming on Saturday.

NEBRASKA STOCK WINS MANY RIBBONS AT DENVER

The Agriculture College of the University of Nebraska has again attracted attention by its numerous winnings at the Western Live Stock Exposition which is being held this week at Denver Colorado. The Denver Exposition is one of the largest live stock shows in the United States and it is considered by all pure bred live stock breeders a real honor to own animals which win prizes at this great show.

Nebraska won twenty-one ribbons on stock shown on the first day. These prizes included three championship, ten firsts, four seconds, two thirds and two fourth prize ribbons.

Most of the winnings were in the fat steer classes. Double Senation, a grade Hereford steer, was again made champion. This steer won the same coveted placing at the recent International show in Chicago. In the Shorthorn classes Nebraska steers won both the champion and the reserve champion ribbons as well as several firsts and seconds. Angus and Galloway animals won first, second and thirds in their respective classes and one Angus steer was narrowly defeated for the championship by a steer owned by the Kansas Agriculture College.

The University's exhibit was fitted and shown by Charles John, the University herdsman.

William L. Halstead, '98, a newspaper man, is now executive director of the American Constitutional League of Wisconsin with headquarters at Milwaukee. His permanent home is in Terre Haute, Ind.

NO PAPER EXAMINATION WEEK.

According to custom, the Daily Nebraskan will issue no paper during examination week. The next issue of the paper after this week will appear after the beginning of the next semester, when a subscription drive will commence.

OMAHA CLUB TO GIVE PROGRAM

Gladys Mickle, chairman of the program committee of the Omaha club, has arranged for a novel entertainment to be given at the regular meeting of the organization Thursday night in the Social Science auditorium.

After the program, action will be taken on the selection of a pin for the club, the activities for the coming year, and the possibilities of reviving the Omaha Day tradition. The Omaha Day idea, when the University is closed for a day so that students may visit Omaha, is sponsored by the club as well as the University and Commercial Clubs of Omaha, and should receive the loyal support of Omaha students in the University.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT PLANS PROGRESSING

Program Scheduled for February 26—Committee in Charge Completes Plans.

The program for the annual University night entertainment, scheduled for the evening of February 26, at the high school auditorium, will be finally agreed on today, with the announcement that all organizations wishing to appear on the program must turn in their skits to the committee by tonight. The committee has been working on the plans for the big annual show for over a month, and reports that the 1921 entertainment will be all it is supposed to be, according to shows of former years.

Many new organizations are planning to give stunts. Among these are the Xi Delta, Sophomore girls' honorary society; the University Press Club; Phi Alpha Tau, public speaking organization; the W. A. A.; and the Union Literary Society. Concession rights have been granted to the Silver Serpents Society, and the Green Goblins will act as ushers.

The night of February 26, according to custom, has been set aside as a closed night. The committee in charge of this year's affair is composed of Robert Van Pelt, '22, chairman; Walton Roberts, '22; Walter Williams, '22; Rutgers Van Brunt, '22; Walter Herbert, '22; Maurice Brammon, '22; Edna Dipple, '24; Howard Turner, '24; Nell Bates, '23; Nora Livingston, '22, and Mary Sheldon, '22. Eugene Dinsmore, general manager of last year's affair, will act in advisory capacity to the committee.

ORCHESTRA WILL MAKE TOUR UNIVERSITY WEEK

Organization now Preparing Program To Be Presented in Various Towns Visited.

For the first time, The School of Fine Arts at the University has arranged whereby the orchestra will go on tour during University Week. The members of this organization are now working on the program which they expect to present. These programs will be presented in the various towns which comprise the circuit this spring.

Some of the work that the orchestra has taken up in its bi-weekly rehearsals, under the direction of William T. Quick, include such famous overtures as Beethoven's "Symphony," "Raymond Overture," and "Merry Wives of Windsor." The entire repertoire of the organization is composed of standard American compositions and famous compositions of foreign artists.

Nearly thirty members registered for orchestra this year and it is expected that this number will be increased after the second semester begins. All students who are able to play any instrument are asked to be present at the second-semester try-outs.

NEBRASKAN MEMBERS RECEIVE INVITATION

Editor and Business Manager Asked To Attend Convention of Press Association.

Invitation to attend the first convention of the Western Inter-collegiate Press Association, which will be held at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, February 24-26, has been received by the editor and business manager of the Daily Nebraskan.

V. A. Wyatt, editor of the Utah Chronicle, says the following in his letter of invitation: "For the first time, until organization is perfected, it will be necessary that your University or publication defray your transportation expenses. During your stay here we will readily assume the responsibility of your keeping."

"It is planned to include newspaper, humorous, literary and year-book men in this convention, so will you kindly communicate with these editors and business managers at your school? In addition to the sessions of all the members, there will be sub-editorial and business meetings at which time men of attainment in those lines will speak. The entertainment program will consist of sight-seeing tours, luncheons, smokers, banquets, vaudevilles, a reception, and on February 25, the members of the Association will be guests of honor at the annual Junior Prom, which is, of course, the elite, formal event of the social season at the University of Utah."

GOLFERS MEET TONIGHT IN SOCIAL SCIENCE HALL

A meeting of the Golf Club will be held this evening from 7 until 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Social Science Hall, according to Phil Aitken, president of the society. All University golf enthusiasts are invited to attend whether or not they have yet joined the club.

Plans will be discussed in regard to the coming golf tourney of Missouri Valley school which will be held in Lincoln in May. Already Drake and the University of Missouri have accepted the invitation of Director Luehring to take part in this tournament. Other work of the organization will be taken up at this meeting.

HUSKERS WRESTLE SATURDAY EVENING

Mat Team Meets Lincoln Y. M. C. A. Aggregation in Chapel in Practice Match.

The first big wrestling meet of the season will be held in the chapel of the Armory Saturday evening at 7.45. The Cornhusker grapplers will meet the Lincoln Y. M. C. A. men in a dual meet. The Husker athletes have been working diligently the past few weeks under the watchful eyes of Dr. Clapp and are planning on taking the Y. M. C. A. men for a number of falls before the meet is over.

The number of men out for the mat sport this year has been very encouraging and from the prospects who are working at the present time the Huskers should have a real wrestling team. Assisting Dr. Clapp is Mac Baldrige, who was a former wrestler at Yale and is thoroughly familiar with the mat game. Baldrige was a member of the Yale mat team for three years wrestling in the heavyweight division and was captain one year.

The contest Saturday night will be the first time the Husker wrestlers have been under fire this year and Dr. Clapp does not know just what to expect of the men. Next week the team will go to Omaha to meet the Omaha Y. M. C. A. team. Both of these meets were scheduled for the purpose of testing the ability of (Continued on Page Four)

Class Hop to Be Given in Armory—Novel Entertainment and Refreshments Planned.

The sale of tickets for the Sophomore Hop to be held in the Armory Saturday night, January 22, is progressing rapidly. The event is going to prove popular because of the fact that the Knights of Columbus Hall is giving a private dance that night and the Rosewilde is still banned because of excessive payment of their orchestra.

The program committee for the party is hard at work and plans a novel affair for members of the class. A surprise vaudeville act will be given during intermission, novel refreshments served, and the enlarged orchestra furnishing the music will make it most enjoyable. Saturday afternoon the committee in charge of decorations will make the hall in readiness for the party.

Arrangements have been made so that those attending may enter the Armory through the east door.

Tickets can be obtained from members of the hop committee, Iron Sphinx, and from the Students Activities Office. In an effort to popularize the Armory for such affairs, tickets have been placed on sale for one dollar, including war tax. Those not obtaining tickets before the dance may purchase them at the door the night of the party.

NEBRASKA TAKES ATHLETIC CENSUS

University Sends Out Questionnaire To All High Schools in State.

INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS.

School Endeavoring to Estimate Facilities for Indoor and Outdoor Activities.

The University of Nebraska athletic department is planning an athletic census of Nebraska high schools. Questionnaires have been sent to school officials with the request that they furnish information concerning athletic conditions in their community.

Among the questions is one regarding the number of men participating in basketball, football, baseball, track and other branches of sport. Whether the men are given a physical examination before the games is the topic of another inquiry.

Regarding the football statistics longest punt, longest pass, longest run—number of boys taking part in football, number of injuries during the season, average attendance at the games, contest which showed the largest attendance, spirit of the crowd at games, whether players are well outfitted, name of player making the longest punt, longest pass, longest run and longest place or drop-kick.

The athletic department is also endeavoring to estimate the athletic facilities of the state. The questionnaire contains a query regarding swimming pools, athletic fields, and gymnasiums.

L. W. Chase, former head of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University of Nebraska, addressed the Agricultural Engineers at their meeting last Thursday evening at the Alpha Theta Chi house. His address consisted mainly in the relating of his experiences in the past 1 or 15 months in the organizing of the Chase Tinsman Blow Works, a new but thriving manufacturing concern operating in Lincoln, and in stating the reasons why he thought it had been possible for their plant to continue operating at full capacity in the face of the financial disturbance, especially significant for the reason that many other older firms had had to close down, either partially or entirely. "Always organize and keep your business on the most honest, solid and unquestionable basis, boys, if you want the greatest success certain, and lay a sure foundation for many years' growth and service to the public," was the keynote of his talk.

The officers for the society for the ensuing semester were elected, Grayden G. Butterfield presiding. Those elected are: President, Orpheum L. Polk, Ag. E. '22; vice president, Hugh E. Beall, Ag. '22; secretary-treasurer, George E. Read, Ag. E. '24; reporter to Blue Print, Ernest B. Haight, Ag. E. '23.

BUSINESS STAFF APPLICATIONS

Applications for all positions on the business staff of the Daily Nebraskan will be received at the Student Activities Office until 5:00 P. M., January 27th.

MILITARY NOTICE.

All men who were relieved or partially excused from work in the department during the first semester will be required to register for, and pursue the full course during the second semester. This particularly applies to graduates of the Omaha and North Platte high schools.
