Shower for Florence Graves.

Thelma Harnly, '22, and Kathryn Harnly, ex-'22, were hostesses Tuesday evening at a prenuptial shower in honor of Florence Graves, ex-'22, who is to be married in February. An inverted parasol suspended between the doorways contained the gifts which were tied with long pink and white ribbons. The bride-to-be drew them forth one at a time. Decorations were in pink and white. Fins roses were used as a centerpiece, for the refreshment table, which was lighted with pink and white candles. A two-course luncheon was served to the sixteen guests.

Mrs. McKelvie Entertains Dramatic Club.

Mrs. S. R. McKelvie, wife of the governor of Nebraska, will entertain the active and alumni members of the University Dramatic Club at a fancy dress masquerade tonight in the executive mansion. Between fifty and sixty guests are expected. Dancing will be the program in the ballroom on the third floor. A group of five players, with Eleanore Fogg as Eliza Doolittle, the flower girl, and Ruay-gard Norton as Professor Higgins, will present Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" earlier in the evening.

Hazel Shue, '14, who is teaching Spanish in the McCook High School, writes that Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Peterson, '13, of Smuggler, Colorado, have a small son, Sigurd, five months of age. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Freitag, '13, are spending the winter at Smuggler, Colorado.

W. L. Stockton, '93, of Clarkston, Montana, was president at the sixteenth annual convention of the Montana State Dairymen Association at Great Falls. His address, "Supplying Winter Feed for Dairy Cattle," appeared in the Montana Farmer for January.

Back to Pre-War Prices.

To encourage immediate buying and to help keep mills and factories busy to their full capacity, we have reduced our prices to the low levels that prevailed in 1914.

Be optimistic, believe in your country, buy now, and wisely—with an eye to economy and there is no reason why prosperity should not continue. Only by liberal buying can the industries be kept going all over this broad land. Busy industries mean contented people. And contented people mean a Happy and Prosperous Nation.

We've faced the situation squarely, realized that costs must be ignored—recognizing only that the public wanted bed-rock prices before they would buy. Our prices tell the story more convincingly than all the words we can use of our sincere efforts to bring prices down to the level where men and women will not think twice before buying. We have taken the loss—to do our share. Now it is up to you. Buy now, spend your money wisely and freely—and help keep the industries working full time.
