

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

VOL. XX. NO. 89.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1921.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

BEGIN NEW "RAG" DELIVERY SERVICE

Students Read Paper in Bed and While Eating Breakfast.

DUPLICATES EASTERN SERVICE
Thirteen Organizations Have Subscribed One Hundred Per Cent.

The Daily Nebraskan was lying on the doorstep of the sororities and fraternities who have subscribed one hundred per cent, yesterday morning when the sleepily student climbed out of bed. Some read the paper while eating breakfast and some even read while in bed. At one fraternity house a freshman—at the behest of the upperclassmen—got the Nebraskan from the doorstep and placed a copy on each bed. All this is the result of the new delivery service inaugurated by the business staff this semester. It compares with the morning service that eastern college dailies give their subscribers. The Daily Nebraskan is delivered, without any extra charge, to all sororities and fraternities who subscribe one hundred per cent.

According to the circulation manager, the following organizations are entitled to the morning delivery service:

Phi Delta Theta.
Phi Kappa Psi.
Alpha Theta Chi.
Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Alpha Sigma Phi.
Bushnell Guild.
Pi Kappa Phi.
Acacia.
Delta Gamma.
Alpha Delta Pi.
Kappa Delta.
Kappa Kappa Gamma.
Alpha Chi Omega.

Representatives of the Nebraskan are canvassing those organizations who have not reached the century mark and the circulation department hopes to lengthen the list after these organizations have considered the matter.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Trade War Waging.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The greatest commercial war of all time is being waged for control of the world's supply of petroleum. The three most powerful of corporations are involved, the Standard Oil group against the Anglo-Persian and Royal Dutch-Shell groups. Indirectly the U. S., Great Britain, France and Holland are involved. Manning said, "The oil problem of the future will be the finding of markets, but of finding sources of supply."

Protest Cut in Rail Pay.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—A petition of the Erie employees requested that the Erie railroad be retained from putting into effect a series of contemplated wage cuts. The board of petitioners ordered these cuts held up until case of both the employees and the road could be heard. This case is similar to that of the Atlantic, Birmingham, and Atlantic railroads which ordered cuts put into effect recently.

Plot to Sink Ship of State.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A German war plot that failed was revealed when the Mount Vernon steamship was overhauled. After this ship had been seized as a troop ship, her German crew cut two-thirds thru the bolts that connected the engines with the main crank shaft. It is believed that the Germans expected the bolts to give way when attacked at some time by U-boats. The ship has made a dozen trips carrying 3,000 men and has circled the globe to bring troops from Russia since it was damaged.

NEBR. PROFESSORS ADDRESS SHERIDAN OPEN FORUM

Prof. Russell D. Kilborn of the department of economics of the University of Nebraska delivered a lecture last Sunday afternoon before the Sheridan Open Forum at Sheridan, Wyo. His subject was "The Present Price Situation."

The occasion was the fourteenth and last of a series of open meetings which have been held weekly in Sheridan at which well known speakers lectured. Besides Professor Kilborn three other professors from the University of Nebraska have delivered lectures to the Open Forum on important current topics; they are Professors L. E. Aylsworth of the department of political science, Roy E. Cochran of the department of American history, and Guernsey Jones of the department of history.

All of the meetings of the Forum have been very well attended.

JOURNALISTS INITIATE TWO AND ELECT OFFICERS

Sigma Delta Chi Plan Publication of Evening Shun for University Night.

At a dinner and meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity for men, held Tuesday evening at the Phi Delta Theta house, Roy Gustafson, '22, and John Cejnar, '21, were initiated and the following officers for the second semester were elected:

President Oswald Black
Vice-President Story Harding
Secretary-Treasurer Kenneth McCandless.

The former president of the chapter, LeRoss Hammond, ex-'21, left recently for California.

Definite plans in regard to University Night and the publication of the Evening Shun were discussed with the editors and business staff of the publication. A special meeting of Sigma Delta Chi was called for Friday afternoon, February 13 at 3:00 o'clock in the editorial rooms of the Daily Nebraskan, room 206, University hall.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL IS MOST IMPRESSIONISTIC

Miss Frances Perry, field student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spoke on "The Relation of the High School Girl to the University Girl," at Vespers Tuesday.

Miss Perry emphasized the value of the high school Y. W. C. A. She said that the girl in high school is more impressionistic than at any other time in her life; the ideals she forms then will remain hers throughout life. For this reason, Miss Perry said, it is very important that the principles of Christianity be impressed upon high school girls. She said that many girls do not receive Christian training in their homes, and if they do not go to university they go out into the business world without the Christian idea.

Miss Perry told of the social service work the girls of some high school Y. W. C. A.'s have carried on, such as furnishing milk to under-nourished children. She urged that all girls who go out from the University to teach in high schools try to stimulate an interest in the high school Y. W. C. A.

PROFESSOR KILBOURN WILL DISCUSS PRICE SITUATION

Prof. Russell D. Kilborn of the department of economics will address the Lumbermen's association, now meeting in Omaha, on "The Present Price Situation," Thursday afternoon. He will discuss the problems that the fluctuations of prices have brought to lumbermen.

VIKINGS ATTENTION.

Viking meeting, Phi Kappa Psi house, tonight at 7:30. Important.

University Night Program Includes The Prize Songs

If you believe in censorship or if you don't, University Night will furnish you with food for thought. It is guaranteed by a member of the program committee to surpass even its past successes this year. It will be held in the Lincoln High School Auditorium February 26. Tickets will go on sale Tuesday, February 15, under the direction of Walter Williams. The admission will be thirty-five cents.

The program will contain a feature, new and typically Nebraskan, in the prize songs from the Cornhusker Song Book which are to be sung by the Alpha Phi quartet and a male quartet under the direction of Ransom Samuelson. Another of these songs will be presented by Lois Melton and Isabel Pearsall in a singing and dancing act with piano and saxophone accompaniment. The committee has also secured Lum Doyle, former Nebraska football star, to act as announcer for the program. He will appear in black-face make-up and is scheduled to behave in a highly informal manner. Several new organizations, it has been reported, have applied for places on the all-star bill and rumors are afloat that the laws are up to their usual standard or, if possible, above.

Prominent figures on the Campus are already trembling and attempting to hide black and condemning pasts from the piercing eyes of the reporters of the Evening Shun, whose policy it is to disclose without fear or favor the inmost secrets of the erring.

It will be necessary to secure tickets early for this stupendous production because of the limited seating capacity of the auditorium. About twelve hundred tickets will be placed on a sale.

E. GAYLORD DAVIS ACCEPTS POSITION WITH COLUMBIA

He Will Teach Several Accounting Courses at the Summer Session.

E. Gaylord Davis, '20, instructor of accounting in the college of Business Administration, has accepted a position on the faculty of Columbia University. He will teach several courses in accounting, during the summer session, under Roy B. Kester, professor of accounting at Columbia.

Professor Kester is the author of "Accounting—Theory And Practice," a text book used in the accounting classes in the College of Business Administration. Mr. Davis studied under Kester at Columbia University last summer, returning to Nebraska to become an instructor in accounting.

Mr. Davis received his A. B. from Nebraska University last year, graduating with Phi Beta Kappa honors. While in the University he took an active part in school life. He was editor of the Daily Nebraskan, member of Innocent Society, Sigma Delta Chi, Zodiac, Alpha Kappa Psi, honorary commercial fraternity, Vikings and Phi Kappa Psi.

UNIVERSITY MAY TURN OUT FUTURE PLAYWRIGHTS

A class for the training of future playwrights has been organized by Professor Scott. A similar plan was tried several years ago, but was abandoned during the war. From this class came Morey Clarke, the writer of "The Night of the Nymphs," and Lymia Fleming Thompson, who later wrote a pageant for Seattle, which was successfully produced by Seattle last year.

The present class is made up of juniors and seniors who have talent and are interested in taking up this course. They plan to stage some of their best plays later in the semester.

HUSKER WRESTLERS WILL TUSSELE WITH SOONERS

The Nebraska wrestlers will meet the wrestling team of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, probably the strongest in the southwest, next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Armory floor. Nebraska met defeat at their hands last year; and will have to show some real class this season to avoid a repetition.

The Oklahoma Aggies have won every dual meet for the last four years. In their only meet this season the University of Oklahoma went down in defeat to the tune of 37-7. They have four of their last year's grapplers with them, and although two weeks ago they lost Captain Lookabaugh, their coach claims that he will bring a stronger aggregation to Nebraska next Tuesday than the one before whom we bowed a year ago.

CORNHUSKER STAFF MAKES PROGRESS WITH YEARBOOK

Junior and Senior Sections of Book Are Closed—Proofs Must Be Turned In.

Junior and Senior sections of the Cornhusker were closed Wednesday. Lists of the students in alphabetical order as they will appear in the Cornhusker will be made up at once. It is therefore essential that any students who have proofs out should turn them in to the Townsend's studio at once.

Work of arranging the pictures in order on the page panels will begin within the next day or two. For that reason, the studio management will be forced to select proofs of the pictures to be developed unless students make the choice immediately.

In case, by mistake, juniors and seniors have either failed to pay for their space in the annual or have failed to turn in junior and senior honor cards, this should be done at once.

Because there is an extra-large number of organizations coming in for pictures, the time for having group pictures taken has been extended to include the remainder of this week.

It is requested that proofs of group pictures be turned in at once also, and that officers turn in short writeups and lists of officers to the Cornhusker office as soon as possible. This latter matter does not apply to social fraternities and sororities.

MISS EVA ASHTON FORMER NEBRASKA STUDENT, DEAD

Miss Eva Ashton, '19, of the editorial staff of the Breeders' Gazette, Chicago, died of cancer at the Frances Willard hospital, Chicago, February 8. Miss Ashton was the first woman to graduate from the College of Agriculture in the regular course for men with a B. Sc. degree. She was also the first woman to make a Nebraska stock judging team.

Miss Ashton was well known in University circles. She taught in the Nebraska School of Business for several years. In the fall of 1919 she made the stock judging team and made a remarkable record at Chicago and Denver shows. At the latter place she ranked first among the students competing from the colleges of the middle-west.

Miss Ashton's mother lived with her in Chicago, and her brother, Hutch Ashton, lives in Lincoln at Eighteenth and G streets, Floral Court Apt. The body will be brought back to Nebraska for burial at Hastings.

SHUN MEETING.

Meeting of all members of Sigma Delta Chi, in regard to the Shun, Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Daily Nebraskan office, room 206 U-Hall, instead of Sunday afternoon. Important.

AMES HUMBLER NEBRASKA FIVE

Nebraska Plays Good Game But Could Not Locate Basket.

FINAL SCORE 36 TO 30

Armstrong Five Defeat Freshmen 49 to 24—Sougey, Pickett and Holland Stars.

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan.) Ames defeated Nebraska in the first game of the series by the count of 36 to 30. The game was hard fought with both teams fighting for the lead. Nebraska displayed a better game at handling the ball than the Aggies but could not locate the basket.

The Huskers suffered their first Missouri Valley Conference defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the Ames Agricultural School. The Iowa quintet proved to be the better men in putting the sphere through the hoop, giving the Farmers the long end of the score.

The Nebraska lineup showed the result of the recent shake-up due to the ineligibility of some of the star men on the squad. The Huskers worked the ball down the floor time after time but could not put it through the ring for the necessary count.

The same teams will battle again this afternoon in the second game of the series. Coach Schissler is in hopes that the team will stage a come-back and put the Ames aggregation on the short end of the score today.

Armstrong's Beat Freshmen.

The Armstrong Clothing team walloped the Freshman crew last evening on the Armory floor by the score of 49 to 24. The older men displayed better team work and scored a number of sensational baskets.

Sougey and Pickett were the big point winners for the Clothiers, gathering 17 and 12 respectively. (Continued on Page Four.)
