Society

The ban on certain dance halls and places of amusement has not been a serious detriment to the gaiety of the University's society life. No longer does one think of spacious ballrooms and dance floors. Fifteen minutes before a party the rugs are rolled up, the chairs carried to the porch or hidden in closets, and the house dance is ready to begin. Grand marches, programs and elaborate lunches are ancient history. Old fashioned altzes have given way to fox trots and even the "six-inch" rule has disappeared. Dignified dress suits and gay colored party dresses hang neglected in the closets for their day of usefulness is fast disappearing. Perhaps some fair co-ed fondly hopes for a revival of these forgotten customs. Perhaps she is a firm believer in the idea that "history repeats itself." Few, however, voice such sentiments, their minds turn to shuffling and toddling, and they dance gayly on.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
 The active chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon met with the alumni at the Grand Hotel Thursday noon for their monthly luncheon. Plans were discussed for the annual banquet and dance which will take place next month.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE HEIR TO MILLIONS

Dr. F. Scott Salisbury of Moline, Ill., who received his B. S. degree at the University of Nebraska in 1916 and his M. D. degree in 1917, recently fell heir to a $2,000,000 fortune through the death of an unmarried uncle, T. M. Salisbury of Champaign county, Ill. Dr. Salisbury is a member of Nu Sigma Nu at Omaha.

The uncle, T. M. Salisbury, was one of the heaviest land owners in Champaign county, Ill. According to reports the total estate is valued at $9,000,000 and is to be divided among four nephews.

Dr. Salisbury, who was brought up in Broken Bow, is the stepson of Charley Orr of that town. After completing his work at this University he did post-graduate work in the general hospital at Allegheny, Pa. When the war broke out he enlisted in the service and was stationed at Camp Funston. About two years ago he located at Beatrice, where he practiced until last October when he went to Moline, Ill., and engaged in medical research work.

Elizabeth Gist, '22, is ill at her home in Falls City.

C. E. Mickey, professor of civil engineering, is in Chicago attending the American Roadbuilders Association and will return next week.

WHO SAID THIS?
 "This inquiring reporter," said a more-or-less fald co-ed the other day, "has got me 'scared' to utter my honest opinions. This mysterious person stalks around among the general public, and some innocent person if forever getting himself in for a little unexpected publicity and a lot of merry he-haws. I don't dare whisper my most casual ideas to my most intimate friends for fear my words will stare me in the face from the 'Rag' the next morning. Why its awful," she finished, with that most approved rising inflection and vocal fadeout.
