

HADLEY LEADS

SENIOR CLASS

Judges Announced.

The judges for the election are the following: Prof. Roy Cochran, chairman; Dean C. C. Engberg, Prof. A. R. Congdon, Prof. R. D. Kilborn, Earl W. Lantz and James D. Sourber. Each candidate will be allowed to have a challenger present at the polls during the voting. The challenger must be from the same class as the candidate and must have a written permit from the Registrar to act in this capacity. The candidates will also be allowed a representative who may be present at the counting of the votes Tuesday evening after the polls close.

The withdrawal of several candidates at the last moment has added a spice to the election so far, according to those who have been watching developments in University political circles for many weeks. The interest in these elections, which is always keen at the beginning of the second semester, seems to be at a feverish heat this year, judging by pre-election occurrences. A number of candidates included in their campaign a visit to all fraternity, sorority and rooming houses with a complete jazz orchestra. Elizabeth Schlichting, who had planned to withdraw from the race for Publications Board on the Sophomore ballot, waited until too late and was forced to stay in the race. She announces, however, that she does not wish to be considered as still in the running.

Senior Ballot.

Richard Hadley, the new Senior president, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, Iron Sphinx, Vikings, Sigma Delta Chi and Kosmet Klub. He has spent much time on the editorial staff of the Awgwan.

In the race for Ivy Day orator, three candidates have announced their desire to present the annual speech: Charles S. Reed of Arnold is a member of Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Delta Phi, and is a Senior in the Law College. He is a member of the Nebraska House of Representatives at this session and has been active in discussions at the capitol. He has held the position of post commander of the University American Legion.

Lawrence I. Shaw of Osceola, another candidate, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Phi, Kosmet Klub, and is a Senior in the College of Law. He has played on the Husker Varsity football team, in which sport he was awarded his "N." Shaw was also a member of Iron Sphinx and Vikings, and was president of the Sophomore class.

Laurence E. Slater of Lincoln is also a Law student, a member of Delta Chi and Phi Alpha Tau. Slater was president of the Student Council last year and has also been president of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet.

Junior Ballot.

Joy P. Gullford of Aurora, candidate for Junior president, is a member of Bushnell Guild and Vikings. He has worked on the Awgwan and this year has been active in Committee of Two Hundred work. Gullford had charge of an exhibit at the dedication of Social Science Hall in January.

Roy Wythers of Lincoln, the other candidate for Junior president, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Iron Sphinx, Vikings and this year was the Junior member of the Student Publications Board. Last year Wythers was business manager of the Daily Nebraskan. He is a Junior in the College of Business Administration.

Mary Sheldon of Greenville, Miss., candidate for Senior member of the Publication Board from the Junior class of this year, is a member of Alpha Xi Delta, Silver Serpent and Xi Delta. She has been exchange editor of the Daily Nebraskan for two semesters and has served in executive capacities on many University party committees and class committees. She is a member of the University Night committee.

Robert Van Pelt of Stockville, the other candidate for this position, is a member of Silver Lynx, Phi Alpha Tau, Phi Delta Phi, chairman of the University Night committee, a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and last year was a member of the Nebraska debating team.

Clarence Ross of David City, in the race for editor-in-chief of the Cornhusker, is a member of Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Phi, Sigma Delta Chi, Iron Sphinx and Vikings. He is Junior managing editor of the 1921 Cornhusker, member of the Dramatic Club, chairman of the membership committee of the Press Club, and was organization editor of the 1920 Cornhusker and one of the freshman editors of the 1919 annual.

Ward Randall of Wayne, the opponent of Ross in the race for editor of the annual, is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Phi, a Junior in the College of Law and chairman of the committee for the publication of the new Cornhusker song-book. He was president of the Freshman Law class last year. He has been on the editorial staff of the Awgwan this year and is now assistant editorial writer of the Daily Nebraskan. He is a member of a Press Club committee. At the time of the selection of the Cornhusker staff, he was chosen in charge of the student activities section. Later, after the resignation of LeRoss Hammond as Senior managing editor of the annual, Randall was assigned to certain of Hammond's duties.

Sophomore Ballot.

In the race for Sophomore president, Proebstring of Omaha is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Iron Sphinx and Green Goblins. He is an officer of the "Ag" Club and holds a commission in the Nebraska R. O. T. C.

Harlan V. Boyer of York, his opponent, is a member of Phi Kappa Psi, Iron Sphinx, Kosmet Klub, Phi Alpha Tau, and is registered in the Arts College. He is assistant editorial writer of the Daily Nebraskan and on a Press Club committee.

Jack Austin, candidate for member of the Publications Board, is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi, Iron Sphinx, Press Club and Commercial Club. He is a Sophomore in the College of Business Administration. He is managing editor of the Daily Nebraskan, and member of the University Song-Book committee.

Loren Daugherty, Austin's opponent, is a member of Kappa Delta Phi, and is registered in the Engineering College. He is a Blue Print reporter and a member of American Association of Engineers. His home is at Long Pine. He is chairman of the Engineering Hop committee, a member of smoker committee and Engineer's Week committee.

Elizabeth Schlichting has asked to be considered out of this race.

Einer Nielson of Fremont, candidate for the position of Junior managing editor of the Cornhusker, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega, a student in the Arts College, Iron Sphinx, and during his Freshman year he was Freshman editor of the Cornhusker. He is now working on the student activities section of the annual.

Adolph Wenke of Pender, the other candidate for this position, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, Iron Sphinx and was a Green Goblin last year. He was a member of the Varsity football team this year and won his "N" in that sport. He is connected with the business staff of the Daily Nebraskan.
